JAP BARRAGE ROUTS GENERAL AND HIS CAMP

Illinois Unit Victim of Sudden Attack

PIN DOWN LUZON JAPS

Two Yank columns tightened their grip on 20,000 Japs pinched into a 20 mile corridor in the Cagayan valley of northern Luzon today. Gen. MacArthur said liquidation of this enemy force was near. [Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION ON LUZON, June 26—Japanese artillery men, by-passed with their big guns by the fast moving 129th regiment, former Illinois national guard unit, laid down a two and a half hour barrage squarely into this division's headquarters during the night.

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler estimated that between 300 and 400 large caliber shells burst in the headquarters area. The barrage was by far, he said, the heaviest concentration used by the Japs in trying to hold the Philippines.

The attack opened at 1:30 a. m., catching all except the guards asleep on cots in tents. Except that most of the first 50 or so rounds that fell in about two minutes were long, breaking 100 to 300 feet beyond the camp, many of the several hundred men in headquarters might have been killed cr wounded. By the time the Japs started their second barrage after a few minutes' pause, the men were scattered or flat on the ground.

Infantry Moves Out

Gen. Beightler ordered the camp evacuated at once. But his orders were unnecessary. As one, virtually all in camp shouted: "Let's get the hell out of here," and didn't wait for any reply.

[A Cleveland dispatch quoted a radio correspondent's report that Beightler suffered a slight forehead wound in the shelling near Tuguegarao, Luzon, but went back into action almost immediately.]

The attack was a surprise. Headquarters had set up during the day in a grassy field. During the evening lights blazed brightly. The place looked like a circus ground. Nobody bothered to dig holes except the guards on the perimeter.

When the first shells burst you couldn't understand what was happening. Heavy with sleep you lay on your cot, listened to the shells whistling and couldn't figure out who we were shelling. The Japs have used so little artillery except point blank fire that whenever you hear the air full of shell whistles you take it for granted they're ours.

Rooting Into the Ground

But when shells burst all around, you realize they are Japs' and you drop flat, so very flat, on the ground. In a minute all four in your tent are side by side, like

Shot Fighting Arrest; Held in Beheading

El Paso, Tex., June 26 [Special]—William Fellows Main, 28, son of a wealthy Philadelphia family, was served with a murder warrant today in connection with the slaying of an elderly man whose decapitated body was found yesterday in a shallow grave along a railroad track east of here.

Main, a former soldier who received a medical discharge, was in a critical condition in a hospital here under police guard as the result of a bullet wound in the chest he received last night in a gun fight with officers who went to his home in nearby Ysleta to question him. Physicians at the hospital said his recovery is doubtful.

Poor Farm Inmate Missing

The slaying victim was tentatively identified as Edward Baker, 80, an inmate of the El Paso county poor farm, who has been missing since he hitchhiked a ride to Ysleta Friday to look for work.

The body, with the head severed just below the chin, was discovered because members of a train crew saw a hand protruding from a mound of freshly disturbed earth. Sheriff Allan Falby said the head had apparently been removed from the body with a hacksaw. There were no other marks of violence on the body.

The missing head was found at 11 a. m. today in a cardboard box which had been left Saturday in the checkroom of the Cortez hotel.

Falby said that after discovery of the body he and his deputies questioned residents of the vicinity and learned several persons had seen a man drive to the place Friday afternoon in a red pick-up truck and watched him dig a pit.

The sheriff said the only truck of this description in Ysleta was the property of the Lee County Gas company, by which Main is employed. He was told by officials of this company that Main had borrowed the truck Friday. Blood stains were found on the vehicle, he said.

Explains Blood on Blanket

Officers then went to Main's apartment in Ysleta and were told by Robert Crismon, Main's landlord, that he had questioned Main Friday night about a bloody blanket found in a shed and been told by Main that he had used the blanket to stop a nose bleed.

The sheriff and six deputies returned to the apartment last night and found Main at home. Falby said he called to him to come out, but that Main refused. The sheriff then entered the place, he said, and Main fired at him with a .22 calibre target pistol, the bullet putting a hole in his hat and grazing the top of his skull. The officers then fired at Main, one bullet piercing his chest.

The sheriff said that a blood stained hacksaw frame with the blade missing was found in a search of Main's apartment.

Main has refused to admit any knowledge of the slaying, the sheriff said, answering all queries with the one word, "Preposterous." The sheriff appeared before Justice of the Peace F. A. Hill and swore out a murder warrant against Main. Under Texas law, it was said, this does not constitute a formal charge of murder, but authorizes the holding of the person named until he can be arraigned in court.

Victim of Nervous Breakdown

Main is a son of William R. Main of Philadelphia, resident partner of Main & Co., a firm of certified public accountants which operates on a nation-wide scale. Reached in his Philadelphia office today, the elder Main said that his son was inducted into the army in 1941 and suffered a nervous breakdown within a month. After eight months in an army hospital, he was given a medical discharge and the father sent him to Texas for his health.

The elder Main said he is trying to arrange airplane transportation so he can fly to El Paso.

A Lady Ship Yard Worker Gets Out of Tight Squeeze

Tacoma, Wash., June 26 (AP)—Police Judge W. A. Richmond dismissed a disorderly charge against a 26 year old woman ship yard worker and a male fellow worker who indulged in a 10 minute hug on a city street. Said the judge: "If we start putting everybody in jail who puts his or her arms around somebody else in a friendly embrace the rest of us will have to move out of this building."

These 9 Saw a Message on a Prison Wall

New York, June 26 [Special]—Nine young American airmen lifted their glasses in a toast to each other tonight in a midtown hotel and drank to one of the strangest reunions of the war.

The men met tonight—and will meet again on June 26, 1946—because of a message scrawled on the walls of two cells of a Budapest civil prison and on the bottoms of the aluminum cups from which some of them drank the thin soup ladled out to prisoners of war.

A Date that Is Not Kept

The message read:

"Meet me at the Plantation room, Dixie hotel, 6 p. m., June 26, 1945."

The signature was indistinct but it appeared to be "Staff Sgt. Evans."

The man who wrote it was not at the Dixie tonight. One who saw the optimistic message—the sergeant could not have known the war would be over by this June 26—was 2d Lt. Herbert Traurig, 23 year old 15th air force navigator, who was shot down over Czechoslovakia on Sept. 29, 1944.

Traurig was sent to the Budapest prison for interrogation and it was there, on a wall of his cell and at the bottom of the cup from which he drank his thin soup, that he first saw the message. On April 29 he was liberated from a German prison camp at Moosberg and returned to this country on June 5.

Others Tell Similar Stories

His story was much the same as those of the others. All were either 8th or 15th air force men shot down in pretty much the same sections of Europe—Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Germany—and they either passed thru the Budapest prison on their way to German prison centers or heard the message from other flyers.

Earliest arrival at the Dixie tonight was 2d Lt. Abbott Sydney, 27, of the Bronx, a co-pilot with the 15th air force, who returned to the United States early this month. Anxiously he buttonholed flyer after flyer entering the lobby of the hotel, but none of them was "Staff Sgt. Evans."

Bill Finds He's Washout in the Bright Modern Age

William F. Wells, 48, Negro living at 3808 Federal st., was arrested yesterday while attempting to cash a $135 check made out to Laundry Age, a trade magazine, in a currency exchange at 546 S. Dearborn st. Police were called when Wells identified himself by producing a draft card bearing the name Laundry Age.

FIND BODY OF JAPS' OKINAWA CHIEF IN SEASIDE GRAVE

OKINAWA, June 26 (AP)—The bemedalled bodies of Lt. Gen. Mitsuru Ushijima, commanding Japanese general on Okinawa, and his chief of staff have been found in shallow rock graves on the southeast tip of the conquered island. They had committed hara kiri.

Col. Cecil W. Ness, of Salem, Ore., 24th army corps staff officer, said today the bodies of Ushijima, chief of the 32d Japanese army, and Lt. Gen. Isamu Cho, his chief of staff, had been positively identified.

Both wore full field uniforms with medals and insigna of rank pinned on their blouses. The graves were near a cave headquarters.

RUSSIA AWARDS STALIN ITS FOUR HIGHEST HONORS

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The presidium of the supreme soviet conferred its four highest awards today on Premier Stalin and created a new rank of generalissimo to be given "for particularly outstanding services to the motherland in the task of commanding all armed forces of the state during war," Moscow said tonight. Requirement for this highest military rank seemed to indicate Stalin might soon shed his title of marshal.

Principal decoration conferred upon the Russian leader was the order of victory "for exceptional services in the organization of all the armed forces of the soviet union and for skillful leadership of these forces in the great patriotic war which ended in full victory over Hitlerite Germany."

French Court Jails Inventor of Neon Light

BY ROBERT SAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 26—Favorable testimony by a number of savants from the Academy of Science today failed to save Georges Claude, 74 years old, and credited with inventing neon lights and a method of utilizing the thermic energy of the ocean. The court of justice sentenced him to life imprisonment for collaboration with Germany, deprived him of civil rights, confiscated his property, and branded him with "national unworthiness."

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty with attenuating circumstances after Prosecutor Vassart had demanded his death by the firing squad.

M. Ribet, the defense lawyer, declared: "With a single word you can send him to his death, but by uttering this word you would be killing a French genius. You can read in encyclopedias, 'Georges Claude, the illustrious French physicist, was born in 1870.' You will be the ones who will write the rest of the entry for history."

Self-Made Scientist

Claude, considered a madman by many, is admittedly one of the leading modern French inventive geniuses, tho he had virtually no schooling and acquired his vast scientific knowledge by himself.

Early in the German occupation of France he suddenly abandoned scientific research and began publishing numerous political articles favoring collaboration with Germany and traveling about the country giving lectures. Discovering after the allied North Africa landings that public sentiment turned more and more against him, Claude made a dramatic suicide attempt during a banquet at Bordeaux.

"I swallowed 67 centigrams of strychnine in a glass of wine—12 times the mortal dose," he told the court. "I felt as tho I was jumping into a serpents' nest. Every one saw me drink. I collapsed. They carried me cut. To my consternation I was not dead."

Became Embittered

Gen. Leupe testified Claude became embittered against France when the government turned down his method of manufacturing synthetic ammonia in favor of the German process. Since then he had been in political opposition.

Prof. Charles Monteil, director of the Central school, told the court Claude's method of extracting energy from the sea would be in general use when the world's petroleum supply was exhausted, or when coal resources ran out.

DELEGATES SIGN FOR 50 COUNTRIES IN DAY OF ORATORY AND CEREMONY

Chinese Delegation Leads Parade of Signatories

BY WILLIAM MOORE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 26—A quiet man who just walked in and never said a word got the biggest ovation at the charter signing ceremony today.

He's a fellow by the name of Harry Truman, who came in with the American delegates to see them sign the international charter.

The President wasn't scheduled to go to the charter signing. But he was going right past on his way to make his speech at the opera house, so he dropped in.

Crowd Cheers Him

Just before the American delegation came into the small auditorium to make the United States the 50th and last nation to sign, it was announced that he would be along with the Americans.

A crowd that jammed the place to the walls got up on chairs when he came in, looking as if he didn't want to be in the way. It tore the roof off for him.

Well, State Secretary Stettinius took a pen from a box that had been given the Americans for souvenirs and signed the charter. Then he made a little speech, but everybody was looking at the man in the blue suit who was standing unobtrusively at the side hoping to be helpful and not seeming at all impressed at being President.

Shakes Hands

Stettinius took his souvenir pen and walked over to the President, who shook his hand.

Sen. Connally [D., Tex.] took his place at the golden chair facing the delft blue circular table. He got his pen, signed, shook his long gray curls at the back of his neck, and got a handshake, too, from the President. Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] signed as gravely as Connally had.

But Rep. Bloom [D., N. Y.] got mixed up in the broad black ribbon of his eyeglasses and burst into chuckles that didn't stop until he finished signing. Dean Virginia Gildersleeve brought her own pen, to make it a memento.

Rep. Eaton [R., N. J.], with a scarlet carnation in his lapel, took one of the gift pens happily, as did Comdr. Stassen.

Head for Opera House

The delegation then trooped out to the opera house with Mr. Truman, all delighted that the charter signing had been completed before the final open conference session which the President was to address.

Until the President arrived, and the crowd let go in the American way for a man from Missouri, the signing ceremony had been notable chiefly for its length. There was something unreal about it, reminis-

Missouri to Greet Truman Today

Kansas City, Mo., June 26 (AP)—President Truman's homecoming tomorrow finally worked out today about the way every one figured it would from the beginning. He won't slip quietly into town from San Francisco, but will figure in a parade 10 miles long from here to his home in nearby Independence.

For several days the secret service men and others gathered here have been saying "no parades and no fanfare" for Mr. Truman's first return here since becoming President. But Missouri and the President ruled that all out.

Prefers Open Car

Mr. Truman sent word to the arrangements committee that he will ride in an open car instead of a closed one, that the car will go thru the main business district and then take the highway to Independence. It will circle the courthouse square in his home town before taking him home.

The route followed will be in part that taken last Thursday by Gen. Eisenhower here.

The President is due to land at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at Fairfax airport in Kansas City, Kas., where Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence and a home town delegation will meet him.

6 Parade from Airport

The parade starts from the airport, and will require most of an hour before he reaches the shining little White House in Independence.

The parade was arranged today after the local committee appealed to Truman to allow Kansas City and Independence to celebrate his return as President. Word got back immediately from San Francisco from Truman overruling the secret service and throwing the show wide open.

Tomorrow night the President will speak in Independence, and Thursday in the municipal auditorium. Then he will rest two days before going on to Washington.

SENATE EXPECTS DOCUMENT FROM TRUMAN MONDAY

Washington, D. C., June 27 (AP)—The senate made plans today to receive from President Truman next Monday the San Francisco world charter and a drive was started immediately to get it ratified by Aug. 1.

The senate's majority leadership revealed that:

1. The President will address the senate at 1:30 p. m. [Chicago time] Monday as he formally turns over the document designed to set up a world organization to promote peace.

2. The foreign relations committee will hear from two of its members who were delegates to the San Francisco conference just how the charter proposes to work. Before that Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] is scheduled to address the entire senate Thursday of this week, Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] giving his version of the draft in a similar speech Friday.

3. Hearings of the committee, it is hoped, will last two weeks; debate on the floor another two weeks, a final vote one month from next Monday.

There was some disagreement, however, that this schedule can be met.

Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.], the minority whip, said he believes the senate should recess while the foreign relations committee "goes thru normal hearings." A "refreshed" senate, Wherry contended to reporters, would be in a better position to thresh out the final decision on the floor.

This view was shared by Sen. Wheeler [D., Mont.] who said he would take no part in a "spearhead to defeat it."

"I may vote for it," Wheeler said. "I don't know."

GERMANS ASK RIGHT TO HONOR VICTIMS OF NAZIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

MUNICH, Germany, June 24 [Delayed]—The Liberals and Socialists of Munich have asked the allied military government for permission to arrange a ceremony to honor the memory of the first victims of the nazis' Dachau concentration camp, under the heading, "We accuse the nazis."

They plan to display 5,000 urns with the ashes of men and women cremated in a Munich cemetery before the Nazis built their own crematorium at Dachau.

The organizers hope the ceremony can take place on a Sunday in July because "the sight of these numerous urns is bound to impress the masses which are trying to forget the crimes thru which the nazis blackened Germany's reputation, especially since the speakers will make it clear that these thousands of victims are only a small number compared to the actual number of men and women killed or tortured to death in German camps."

Fruit of 9 Weeks' Labor Is Flown to Washington

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 26—President Truman in an address climaxing impressive and colorful ceremonies late this afternoon formally launched the new world peace ship.

Summoning the great powers to a stewardship of peace the American chief executive dedicated the new league of the allied nations to the abolition of war and the amelioration of the conditions of human existence.

President Truman began his address promptly at 7 p. m., Chicago time, after he had listened with great patience during 90 minutes of oratory in seven different tongues. During these speeches he sat on the stage of the Civic Opera house, under the hot glare of a battery of 24 huge, movie type spotlights until the flow of eloquence stopped and he was given the signal to begin.

Fidgets a Little

Mr. Truman was referred to frequently by the speakers and the mention of his name was always applauded. Each speaker also bowed before him with the exception of Soviet Ambassador Gromyko who gave him a wave of the hand which was a half salute.

Under the constant scrutiny of 2,500 pairs of eyes, he fidgeted a little but on the whole bore the ordeal with the composure gained from the experience of long hours in the senate where a three hour speech is not unusual. When he finally spoke, his simple delivery and middle-western accents contrasted favorably with the some times flowery eloquence of the preceding speakers.

Duty of Powerful

The powerful military nations that have emerged from this war, he told the delegates, have no right to dominate the world.

"It is rather the duty of these powerful nations," the President added, "to assume the responsibility for leadership toward a world of peace."

Asserting that the strong nations should lead the way to international justice not by words alone but by "continued concrete acts of good will," Mr. Truman evoked an avalanche of applause when with forceful gesture he declared that "the time for action is now."

Asks Ratification

Another avalanche of applause greeted the President when, having called on the delegates to seek immediate ratification of the peace league's charter by their countries, he said:

"I shall send this charter to the United States senate at once. I am sure that the overwhelming sentiment of the people of my country and of their representatives in the senate is in favor of immediate ratification."

The President was interrupted by applause no less than 18 times during his brief address. At the end, while the cheers and handclapping arose in great volume, he stood for a minute, then turned to go. The applause continued and he turned back, bowed, slightly smiling but slightly flushed of face and embarrassed. After another minute of waiting, he walked off stage.

Flies to Missouri

Tonight he left by plane for Salt Lake City and Kansas City for the homecoming celebration at his home town, Independence, Mo., tomorrow.

After the President's address, which concluded the final plenary session of the world security conference, the convention of 50 nations that has spent nine weeks drafting the charter of the new league to enforce peace, adjourned at 7:29 Chicago time.

State Secretary Stettinius and Senators Connally and Vandenberg of the American delegation emplaned tonight for Washington bearing the official copy of the 10,000 word peace league charter. This constitution of the allied nations, providing elaborate machinery for the enforcement of peace and for international economic and social coöperation, was formally approved at the penultimate plenary session last night and signed earlier today.

10 Leaders Speak

In a babel of the tongues spoken by the delegates and against the colorful background of the flags of the 50 nations 10 leaders of the conference made speeches leading up to the grand climax of President Truman's address.

First was affable, beaming, white haired Mr. Stettinius, whose shaggy eyebrows stood out from his ruddy face like twin haystacks against a sunset.

After sketching the deliberations in which the charter was hammered out sentence by sentence amid differences and compromises, Stettinius acclaimed the result as the pact of a "permanent united nations." But the delegates returning home, he said, will "bring this charter to a world that is still racked by war and by war's aftermath."

"The terrible trial is not yet over. The fighting continues. The reconstruction has only just begun. This charter is a compact born of suffering and of war. With it now rests our hope for good and lasting peace.

"The words upon its parchment chart the course by which a world in agony can be restored and peace maintained and human rights and freedoms can be advanced.

Not Perfect, Says Halifax

"To the governments and peoples of the 50 nations whose representatives have labored here the charter is now committed. May Almighty God, from this day on, and in the months and years to come, sustain us in the unalterable purpose that its promise be fulfilled."

Tall, gangling, baldish British Ambassador Halifax, in polished Oxford accents, celebrated the role of America in the efforts to outlaw war—first in Mr. Wilson's project of the first league of nations to enforce peace, next in the new peace league conceived by Mr. Roosevelt who christened it the united nations, and finally in the appearance here of Mr. Truman "to set his own stamp of approval and support upon our labors."

"We cannot indeed claim that our work is perfect," said Halifax,

Congratulations to Nimitz

[Associated Press Wirephoto]

President Truman (left) and Fleet Adm. Nimitz in informal conference yesterday in San Francisco, when the President congratulated the fleet commander on his string of victories over the Japs.

"or an unbreakable guarantee of peace. But we have, I am convinced, forged an instrument by which, if men are serious in wanting peace and are ready to make sacrifices for it, they may find means to win it.

"Here in San Francisco we have seen but the beginning of a long and challenging endeavor. Time alone can show whether the house that we have tried to build rests upon shifting sand, or, as I firmly hope, upon solid rock, to stand as shield and shelter against every storm."

Voices Disappointment

There was a craning of necks in the jammed balconies as the amir of Saudi Arabia, bronze hued Faisal Ibn Abdul Aziz, wearing the kafiyah crowned with the gold embroidered agal of his royal rank, made his way to the rostrum, the ample folds of his brown aba fluttering about his tall, slender figure.

The desert king spoke in his native Arabic and only those unversed in that ancient tongue who had the translation of his speech before them knew that he voiced the disappointment of the small nations in a charter that committed the world to domination by the Big Five powers. For one fleeting moment his utterance was an echo of Prime Minister Churchill's hope that the conference would not produce a "shield for the strong and a mockery for the weak."

"Nevertheless," said Amir Faisal, "it [the charter] is doubtless the best ever produced by people representing 50 states.

"All Did Our Best"

"No doubt this charter will lead toward prosperity and happiness for all nations, great and small. We have all done our best here to fulfill our obligations to humanity."

Joseph Paul-Boncour, chief of the French delegation, said that the old league of nations failed to abolish war because it "left the nations the option of backing out" of the commitments to maintain peace by force. That defect has been removed in this charter by provision of the international police force, he said, which at the command of the league's security council "will march against a state convicted of aggression."

"That is the great thing," the French delegate asserted. "And the certainty of defeat will most probably discourage any aggressor from starting a fight.

"But the united nations, and more especially the great nations with a permanent seat on the council, must remain truly united. The whole efficacy of the charter depends on this unity."

Likened to Constitution

The chief of the Chinese delegation, Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo, ranked the charter with the Magna Carta and the Constitution of the United States in "contribution to political liberty and representative government." He enumerated the amendments which broadened and improved the charter.

"It remains for us" he said, "to continue to foster mutual trust and friendly collaboration in order to make this, the greatest of international experiments, a great success in fact.

"This is not a utopian dream. We believe it to be a legitimate aspiration, a reasonable hope, and indeed, when fully realized, it will be a just reward for our exertions in the arduous common struggle which has cost us all, and will cost us more still untold sacrifice of life, blood, and treasure."

Gromyko Credits Stalin

The longest speech was made by Ambassador A. A. Gromyko, chief of the Russian delegation, which gained wide repute here principally by tossing monkey wrenches into the machinery of the San Francisco conference. This whole plan for maintaining peace by placing at the disposal of an international organization "the maximum quantity of armed forces sufficient for the suppression of aggression," said Gromyko, had been conceived by no less a person than Marshal Stalin himself.

"At the same time," said Gromyko, "Marshal Stalin pointed out that the actions of that organization would be sufficiently effective if the great powers who carried the main burden of the war against Hitlerite Germany would continue to act in the spirit of unanimity and accord. These actions will not be effective if a breach of this indispensable condition occurs.

"Such are the principles by which the soviet government has been guided while taking an active part in the establishment of the international security organization and by which the soviet delegation has been guided in the course of the work of this conference."

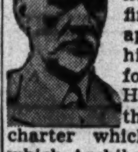
Calls It Success

Gromyko pronounced the conference a success.

"Of course," he added, "there were some difficulties and differences of views between separate delegations on these or other questions.

"The delegation of the soviet union in the course of the world conference aimed at the creation of a charter of the international organization which could guarantee the effective fulfillment of the tasks confronting the organization."

Aged but erect and wiry Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts of South Africa, Britain's reconstructed Boer, who helped construct the first league of nations, appeared on the dais in his khaki colored uniform of field marshal. He spoke in the vein of the preamble of the charter which he composed and which Archibald MacLeish, the poet laurete of the New Deal, had found it impossible to improve upon—at least, to the satisfaction of the conference which rejected the MacLeish effort as inadequate and incoherent.



Gives His Analysis

"If the charter we have drafted here," he said, "should fulfill longings for a peaceful world, it may yet come to rank among the greatest documents of history. What hopes have we delegates ourselves of our labors?

"If I as an old veteran of the wars and of peace conferences, extending from almost half a century, should have to answer this question, I would do so as follows:

"Our charter is not a perfect document. It is full of compromises over very difficult and tangled problems. But at least it is a good practical workmanlike plan for peace—a very real and substantial advance on all previous plans for security against war."

Most Ambitious Plan

With a sidelong glance at the common realization that what has really emerged from San Francisco is an alliance of the Big Three—the United States, Great Britain, and Russia—to dominate the world and preserve peace, if possible, Foreign Secretary Ezequiel Padilla of Mexico said:

"To appreciate the profound significance of our successful undertaking, in whose execution its leaders have displayed extraordinary ability and wisdom, we need only to realize that the three great victorious powers—The United States, the Soviet Union, and Great Britain—could have determined the immediate future of the world by themselves and for themselves. Instead, their governments convoked all the united nations, both great and small, to lay at this conference the foundations of an international structure based on coöperation and law.

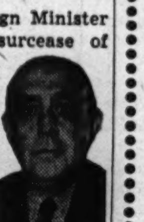
Warns Great Powers

"The great powers will be the safest guarantors of world security. Were any of the great powers to rush headlong, spurred by illegitimate ambitions, mistrust and fear would emerge once more and the forces of evil would grow from day to day."

Brazilian Foreign Minister Pedro Leao Velloso defended the Pan-American security system which the charter subordinates to the world peace machinery.

"The Americas do not constitute a bloc," he said. "The Americas are much more than that: they constitute a way of life, a system with traditions and ideals peculiar to them, traditions going back more than 60 years, ideals of noble and rare degree. We are all firmly convinced that our inter-American system will be a stimulus to the wishes for peace of the rest of the world. From the days of our independence we have always fought for the establishment of a solid international morality based on justice and peace and the truth is that this principle has today such deep roots that none can uproot it in this hemisphere."

Czechoslovakian Foreign Minister Masaryk pleaded for surcease of talk of "the next world war."



"The language one hears in certain places is lamentably unconstructive at a moment when it [the charter] contains all the necessary safeguards against future wars. Let us see to it that our lofty aims are carried into deeds worthy of the memory of our heroic beloved youngsters."

INTERNATIONAL LABOR GROUP AIRS OMISSION IN SECURITY CHARTER

QUEBEC, June 26 (AP)—Debating the role of the international labor organization in the post-war world, several members of its governing body expressed regret today that no specific provision for the I. L. O. had been made in the new world security charter.

Two facts underlay the deliberations here: That the soviet union had opposed specific mention of the I. L. O. in the world charter, and that Russia is not a member of the labor organization. Russia's membership ended with her ejection from the league of nations in December, 1939.

The debate was on the report of the governing body's constitutional committee recommending "special vigilance" in continuing negotiations on the place the I. L. O. is to have in the new security body. Lean Jouhaux, secretary general of the French workers' confederation, said that "the brutal and frank fact is that any decision from which the I. L. O. is excluded must be social retrogression."

HUGE FOOD NEED IN EUROPE TOLD BY UNRRA CHIEF

Three-quarters of a billion dollars worth of supplies, mostly food, must be sent to Europe by the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration in the second half of 1945. Only thus can shortages between late fall and the first 1946 harvests be avoided, Roy F. Hendrickson, UNRRA deputy director general, told the Food forum in Hotel Continental last night.

Hendrickson said that UNRRA was hopeful that the period during which it would have to provide assistance would be short.

TEXT OF TRUMAN SPEECH CLOSING FRISCO PARLEY

Hails Great Instrument; Asks Use of It

San Francisco, Cal., June 26 (AP)—President Truman's address to the security conference follows:

"Mr. Chairman and delegates to the united nation's conference on international organization:

"I deeply regret that the press of circumstances when this conference opened made it impossible for me to be here to greet you in person. I have asked for the privilege of coming today, to express on behalf of the people of the United States our thanks for what you have done here, and to wish you Godspeed on your journeys home.

"Somewhere in this broad country, every one of you can find some of our citizens who are sons and daughters, or descendants in some degree of your native land. All our people are glad and proud that this historic meeting and its accomplishments have taken place in our country. And that includes the millions of loyal and patriotic Americans who stem from the countries not represented at this conference.

"We are grateful to you for coming. We hope you have enjoyed your stay and that you will come again.

"You assembled in San Francisco nine weeks ago with the high hope and confidence of peace loving people the world over.

"Their confidence in you has been justified.

"Their hope for your success has been fulfilled.

Victory Against War

"The charter of the united nations which you have just signed is a solid structure upon which we can build a better world. History will honor you for it. Between the victory in Europe and the final victory in Japan, in this most destructive of all wars, you have won a victory against war itself.

"It was the hope of such a charter that helped sustain the courage of stricken peoples thru the darkest days of the war. For it is a declaration of great faith by the nations of the earth—faith that war is not inevitable, faith that peace can be maintained.

"If we had had this charter a few years ago—and above all, the will to use it—millions now dead would be alive: If we should falter in the future in our will to use it, millions now living will surely die.

Only a First Step

"It has already been said by many that this is only a first step to a lasting peace. That is true. The important thing is that all our thinking and all our actions be based on the realization that it is in fact only a first step. Let us all have it firmly in mind that we start today from a good beginning and, with our eye always on the final objective, let us march forward.

"The Constitution of my own country came from a convention which—like this one—was made up of delegates with many different views. Like this charter, our Constitution came from a free and sometimes bitter exchange of conflicting opinions. When it was adopted, no one regarded it as a perfect document. But it grew and developed and expanded. And upon it there was built a bigger, a better, a more perfect union.

"This charter, like our own Constitution, will be expanded and improved as time goes on. No one claims that it is now a final or a perfect instrument. It has not been poured into any fixed mold. Changing world conditions will require readjustments—but they will be the readjustments of peace and not of war.

Time for Thanksgiving

"That we now have this charter at all is a great wonder. It is also a cause for profound thanksgiving to Almighty God, who has brought us so far in our search for peace thru world organization.

"There are many who doubted that agreement could ever be reached by these 50 countries differing so much in race and religion, in language and culture. But these differences were all forgotten in one unshakable unity of determination—to find a way to end war.

"Out of all the arguments and disputes, and different points of view, a way was found to agree. Here in the spotlight of full publicity in the tradition of liberty loving people, opinions were expressed openly and freely. The faith and the hope of 50 peaceful nations were laid before this world forum. Differences were overcome. This charter was not the work of any single nation or group of nations, large or small. It was the result of a spirit of give and take, of tolerance for the views and interests of others.

"It was proof that nations, like men, can state their differences, can face them, and then can find common ground on which to stand. That is the essence of democracy; that is the essence of keeping the peace in the future. By your agreement, the way was shown toward future agreement in the years to come.

Stuck to Their Job

"This conference owes its success largely to the fact that you have kept your minds firmly on the main objective. You had the single job of writing a constitution—a charter for peace. And you stayed on that job.

"In spite of the many distractions which came to you in the form of daily problems and disputes about such matters as new boundaries, control of Germany, peace settlements, reparations, war criminals, the form of government of some of the European countries—in spite of all these, you continued in the task of framing this document.

"These problems and scores of others, which will arise, are all difficult. They are complicated. They are controversial and dangerous.

"But the united spirit we met and solved even more difficult problems during the war. And with the same spirit, if we keep to our principles and never forsake our objectives, the problems we now face and those to come will also be solved.

Principles of Coöperation Tested

"We have tested the principle of coöperation in this war and have found that it works. Thru the pooling of resources, thru joint and combined military command, thru constant staff meetings, we have shown what united strength can do in war. That united strength forced Germany to surrender. United strength will force Japan to surrender.

"The united nations have also had experience, even while the fighting was still going on, in reaching economic agreements for times of peace. What was done on the subject of relief at Atlantic City, food at Hot Springs, finance at Bretton Woods, aviation at Chicago, was a fair test of what can be done by nations determined to live coöperatively in a world where they cannot live peacefully any other way.

"What you have accomplished in San Francisco shows how well these lessons of military and economic coöperation have been learned. You have created a great instrument for peace and security and human progress in the world.

Use Up to the World

"The world must now use it! If we fail to use it, we shall betray all those who have died in order that we might meet here in freedom and safety to create it.

"If we seek to use it selfishly—for the advantage of any one nation or any small group of nations—we shall be equally guilty of that betrayal.

"The successful use of this instrument will require the united will and firm determination of the free peoples who have created it. The job will tax the moral strength and fiber of us all.

"We all have to recognize—no matter how great our strength—that we must deny ourselves the license to do always as we please. No one nation, no regional group, can or should expect, any special privilege which harms any other nation. If any nation would keep security for itself, it must be ready and willing to share security with all. That is the price which each nation will have to pay for world peace. Unless we are all willing to pay that price, no organization for world peace can accomplish its purpose.

Duties of Powerful Nations

"Out of this conflict have come powerful military nations, now fully trained and equipped for war. But they have no right to dominate the world. It is rather the duty of these powerful nations to assume the responsibility for leadership toward a world of peace. That is why we have here resolved that power and strength shall be used not to wage war, but to keep the world at peace, and free from the fear of war.

"By their own example the strong nations of the world should lead the way to international justice. That principle of justice is the foundation stone of this charter. That principle is the guiding spirit by which it must be carried out—not by words alone but by continued concrete acts of good will.

"There is a time for making plans—and there is a time for action. The time for action is now! Let us, therefore, each in his own nation and according to its own way, seek immediate approval of this charter—and make it a living thing.

Reports U. S. Sentiment Favorable

"I shall send this charter to the United States senate at once. I am sure that the overwhelming sentiment of the people of my country and of their representatives in the senate is in favor of immediate ratification.

"A just and lasting peace cannot be attained by diplomatic agreement alone, or by military coöperation alone. Experience has shown how deeply the seeds of war are planted by economic rivalry and by social injustice. The charter recognizes this fact for it has provided for economic and social coöperation as well. It has provided for this coöperation as part of the very heart of the entire compact.

"It has set up machinery of international coöperation which men and nations of good will can use to help correct economic and social causes for conflict.

"Artificial and uneconomic trade barriers should be removed—to the end that the standard of living of as many people as possible thruout the world may be raised. For freedom from want is one of the basic four freedoms toward which we all strive. The large and powerful nations of the world must assume leadership in this economic field as in all others.

Predicts "Bill of Rights"

"Under this document we have good reason to expect the framing of an international bill of rights, acceptable to all the nations involved. That bill of rights will be as much a part of international life as our own Bill of Rights is a part of our Constitution. The charter is dedicated to the achievement and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms. Unless we can attain those objectives for all men and women everywhere—without regard to race, language, or religion—we cannot have permanent peace and security.

"With this charter the world can begin to look forward to the time when all worthy human beings may be permitted to live decently as free people.

"The world has learned again that nations, like individuals, must know the truth if they would be free—must read and hear the truth, learn and teach the truth.

"We must set up an effective agency for constant and thoro interchange of thought and ideas. For there lies the road to a better and more tolerant understanding among nations and among peoples.

Must Remain Determined

"All fascism did not die with Mussolini. Hitler is finished—but the seeds spread by his disordered mind have firm root in too many fanatical brains. It is easier to remove tyrants and destroy concentration camps than it is to kill the ideas which gave them birth and strength. Victory on the battlefield was essential, but it was not enough. For a good peace, a lasting peace, the decent peoples of the earth must remain determined to strike down the evil spirit which has hung over the world for the last decade.

"The forces of reaction and tyranny all over the world will try to keep the united nations from remaining united. Even while the military machine of the axis was being destroyed in Europe—even down to its very end—they still tried to divide us.

"They failed. But they will try again.

"They are trying even now. To divide and conquer was—and still is—their plan. They still try to make one ally suspect the other, hate the other, desert the other.

"But I know I speak for every one of you when I say that the united nations will remain united. They will not be divided by propaganda either before the Japanese surrender—or after.

"This occasion shows again the continuity of history.

Recalls Woodrow Wilson

"By this charter, you have given reality to the ideal of that great statesman of a generation ago—Woodrow Wilson.

"By this charter, you have moved toward the goal for which that gallant leader in this second world struggle worked and fought and gave his life—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"By this charter, you have realized the objectives of many men of vision in your own countries who have devoted their lives to the cause of world organization for peace.

"Upon all of us, in all our countries, is now laid the duty of transforming into action these words which you have written. Upon our decisive action rests the hope of those who have fallen, those now living, those yet unborn—the hope for a world of free countries—with decent standards of living—which will work and coöperate in a friendly civilized community of nations.

"This new structure of peace is rising upon strong foundations.

"Let us not fail to grasp this supreme chance to establish a world-wide rule of reason—to create an enduring peace under the guidance of God."

ONE SILENT MAN STEALS SHOW AT CHARTER SIGNING

Spectators Cheer Visitor from Missouri

It's Official for France

Joseph Paul-Boncour, representing France, signing world security conference pact yesterday in San Francisco. [Associated Press Wirephoto]

cent of a dream, or a stage phantasy, as shimmering figures of world affairs took the United States into an international league.

Some of those present said the charter was the great document of the human race. Some echoed the recent doubts of Ambassador Halifax of Great Britain that the charter would end war. But all were hoping for the best as they watched the two halves of the show, which were separated by a silken cord of red, white, and blue.

Sharp Contrast

On one side there were solemnity, pomp, and splendor, but still the unreality, as representatives of 50 nations signed. On the other were glaring floodlights, news reel and newspaper cameramen, and as many spectators as could crowd in.

It had been hoped that the signing would begin at 10:30 a. m., Chicago time, to make sure the task would be finished in time for the President's speech. But printing of the Russian text required many revisions.

Not until two minutes before 2 p. m., Chicago time, did a secretary scurry in with the two books of the world organization. One contained the charter and statute of the international court. In the other was the document establishing the interim commission, which will try to maintain peace until the charter is ratified.

Out Walks Janitor

Now there was a stir behind the 50 flags that looked down upon the table. The royal blue curtain, with its golden emblem of the world organization—a view of the world from the north pole—seemed to tremble.

Out walked a janitor, who swept under the chair awaiting the signers.

The spectators, many of them carrying cartons of cigarets placed on sale by the overstocked conference canteen, burst into applause. The embarrassed janitor bowed.

The crowd applauded again. Doffing his green eyeshade, he took another bow and fled.

Chinese Enter

Then the floodlights were turned up, cameramen snapped to attention on all five stages of the camera towers, and the Chinese delegates walked in with their brushes and paints.

There was a spontaneous cheer, and a member of the international secretariat announced:

"Mr. V. K. Wellington Koo, chairman of the delegation from China."

Koo dipped a brush in the paint and affixed his name with the assistance of two other members of the secretariat, one at either elbow. They slid one book out of the way the moment it was signed and slipped the other into its place.

Russians Follow Chinese

One by one the other Chinese delegates took the chair and signed. Miss Wu Yi-fang, a sparkling woman in a long, tight fitting gown, displayed a slender ankle thru her slashed skirt as she left the chair.

Now came the Russian delegation, led by Ambassador Gromyko, grave in a diplomat's coat of black. He praised the new organization in Russian and signed, using one of the two handsome fountain pens that glistened in ornate stands.

Rear Adm. K. K. Rodniov had come in a dazzling white uniform. He tossed his white cap with its gold braid upon the table, grasped a pen and raised his eyebrows as if he might be thinking, "I'm from Missouri, comrade."

Testing it upon a sheet of blank paper, he gave the pen tentative approval and signed the books.

They Work Fast

It had been feared that the signing would require eight hours and might not be finished in time for the President's speech, but the ceremony took only three hours and 19 minutes. One reason was that each delegate merely signed once in each book, which contained the documents in five languages, instead of signing each language text. Another reason was that those fellows wrote fast.

But the principal reason was that the state department gave every delegation a chart showing the route thru the building to the signature table and out again [by a different path] and put the signing on an assembly line basis.

Argentina Displaced

British Ambassador Halifax followed the Russians, looking as if he'd been concentrating on his map. Thus three of the four nations which sponsored the conference had places of honor at the beginning and the fourth, the United States, had its place at the end. France signed fourth as one of the Big Five powers [the sponsors are the other four] and then came Argentina. Mostly the signers came alphabetically after that.

Letting three sponsors and France sign first saved some embarrassment. Argentina led the list in the original alphabetical system, but there was considerable opposition to permitting Argentina to be the first signer because she took so long to break with Germany.

HOUSE APPROVES 38½ BILLION FOR ARMY PURPOSES

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—A $38,500,285,951 war department appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1 won unanimous house approval today after a move to force the army to discharge fathers of four or more children was defeated.

The measure, boosting to approximately 245 billion dollars the funds made available to the war department since July 1, 1940, went to the senate by a voice vote.

Rep. Engel [R., Mich.] fathered the fight to force the discharge of the dads. He offered an amendment, which was defeated by a vote of 115 to 89, to allow any soldier in the enlisted ranks to obtain his discharge prior to Sept. 1 if he is the father of four or more living children.

Oahu Influenza Epidemic Closes Theaters to GIs

HONOLULU, June 26 (AP)—An influenza epidemic among civilians on Oahu Island caused the United States army last night to declare all civilian theaters "off limits" for military personnel. No fatal cases have been reported.

CROWLEY URGES LONG TERM CURB ON GERMAN ARMS

BY LAURENCE BURD
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 26—Urging long-term allied curbs on German war industry, Foreign Economic Administrator Crowley warned today that an unchecked German economy could rebuild its once mighty war machine to new heights within a few years.

In a statement read to a senate subcommittee studying post-war Germany's position, Crowley said the Nazis' basic war industrial plant still remains virtually intact in spite of damage from allied bombings and invasion.

"Unhampered by international restrictions or intervention, and given the will and political leadership to prepare for war," Crowley said, "Germany could be far better prepared for war economically and industrially within a few years than she was in 1939.

"Allied bombings and military operations accomplished their mission. That mission was to harass and damage Germany industrial production. But such military operations, basically selective in their character, were not and could not be executed so as to eliminate permanently a national industrial war potential."

Crowley said "recent reports" from Germany indicate that if the war had lasted six months longer, improved V-2 bombs would have "smashed" New York City, and that only a few months more would has seen jet propelled nazi planes raiding Washington.

Crowley's statement, read to the committee by Henry H. Fowler, chief of FEA's enemy branch, said a principal element in Germany's still present war potential is its "huge machine shop" of machine tools for making either war or peace products.

TWO PAY HIKES, ONE FOR POSTAL AIDS, ARE VOTED

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—The senate today passed house approved legislation granting general base pay increases to postal employes estimated to cost $150,000,000 a year.

The postoffice committee calculated the legislation raises postal pay for each employe between $300 and $400 a year. Minor differences still have to be ironed out in conference between house and senate.

The senate also completed legislative action on a bill increasing the basic pay of 1,200,000 other federal white collar workers by an estimated $780,000,000 a year. It sent to the White House for signature a senate-house conference committee report providing an average increase of 15.9 per cent. The increases are graduated from 20 per cent on the first $1,200 to 10 per cent on the next $3,400 and 5 per cent above $4,600.

THE SCIENCE OF SATISFACTORY LIVING

THE OVERCOMING of disease, important as it is, is but one of the functions of Christian Science.

Indeed the Discoverer and Founder of this Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes (Rudimental Divine Science, p. 2): "Healing physical disease is the smallest part of Christian Science. It is only the bugle-call to thought and action in the higher realm of infinite goodness."

Students of Christian Science have found it bringing them a fuller sense of capability, usefulness, and satisfaction than they had known before; giving new color and interest to their lives; enriching their friendships; giving them understanding and an experience of peace and joy surpassing all their expectations.

They have seen clearly that this Science is the Science of Life and of satisfactory living.

The complete explanation of Christian Science, and of the means of utilizing it on behalf of oneself and others, is given in the Christian Science textbook,

TRUMAN MIXES WAR, POLITICS IN A BUSY DAY

Nimitz Among Callers on President in Frisco

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 26—In a day which started early and ended in the middle of the evening with his departure by plane for Kansas City, President Truman, carrying on at a fast pace, today mixed affairs of war and state with some good old fashioned politics.

He first talked with Fleet Adm. Nimitz in his suite on the fifth floor of the Fairmont hotel. The flight of Nimitz here from his Pacific base had hitherto been unknown and the admiral slipped away, after a half hour talk with his commander in chief, with the remark that he was immediately going "back to my job."

Gets Political Views

Other visitors included Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, chairman of the South African delegation; Sen. Connally [D., Tex], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Former Gov. Olson of California; Supreme Court Justice Black, and Col. Francis V. Keesling, chief liaison and legislative officer of the selective service system who is studying the man power crisis in west coast shipyards.

Local Democratic leaders also saw the President who quietly sounded out their views on the political situation in northern California. As head of the Democratic party where formerly he had been but one of many minor leaders, the President, it was apparent, was not forgetting that he has many political fences to build in the preparation for future campaigns.

Sees Americans Sign

At noon, Mr. Truman descended to the red room where some 800 persons stood in line to shake his hand at a reception tendered by Mayor Roger Lapham. Mr. Truman greeted them all smilingly, patted children on the head, made many new friends.

Shortly before 5 p. m. Chicago time Mr. Truman and State Secretary Stettinius entered an open car and drove one mile to the veterans' building, where the technical work of drafting a peace charter has been conducted for the past nine weeks. He made an unscheduled appearance with the American delegation and watched them sign the charter.

Crossing a garden court to the adjoining opera house under a clear blue sky, the President entered the hall where the final session of the world security conference was held and appeared on the stage promptly at 5:30 p. m. Chicago time.

Stops Over in Salt Lake

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 26 (AP)—President Truman flew here tonight to rest between his San Francisco speech acclaiming the post-war peace charter and a homecoming celebration at Independence, Mo., tomorrow.

Most of the President's 600 mile trip from the west coast was made at an elevation of 11,000 feet. He landed at 10:12 p. m. [M. T.] after a flight of less than three hours in his big C-54 luxury transport and was whisked away in an automobile to a hotel to spend the night, planning to take off for Kansas City at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

Mr. Truman was greeted by Gov. Herbert B. Maw and George Albert Smith, president of the Mormon church.

BIGGER OUTPUT OF OVERCOATS, SUITS PROMISED

Washington, D. C., June 26 [Special]—A more abundant supply of men's overcoats, suits, and other worsted clothing items by January are assured as a result of impending sharp cuts in military requirements, the war production board revealed today.

Kenneth W. Marriner, chief of the WPB textile division, said military needs for woolen and worsted fabrics are expected to drop from 60 per cent of the nation's output in the quarter ending this month, to about 40 per cent in July, August, and September, and to 28 per cent in the last quarter.

The situation has improved to the extent that regulations which direct all worsted top and yarn production into orders by the armed forces probably will be modified before the original expiration dates of July 15, and Aug. 18, Marriner said.

He predicted that overcoats would be in "good supply" by November, and that men's worsted suits would be more plentiful by next year.

'LIES!' SHE SOBS AT INQUEST IN SAILOR'S KILLING

James Kovacs

Bridgeport, Conn., June 26 (AP)—Mrs. Imogene Stevens, pretty, black tressed wife of a paratroop major, sobbingly challenged with "that's a lie" today testimony at a coroner's hearing that she gave no warning as she fired the first of three shots which killed a 19 year old sailor.

The 24 year old wife of Maj. G. Ralsey Stevens III., who collapsed in a courthouse corridor just before a brief inquest into the slaying of Albert Kovacs, excitedly broke in on the testimony of the sailor's brother, James, as James told his version of how his brother was killed.

Held for Lack of Bond

In the county jail since the slaying late Saturday night, Mrs. Stevens is being held in default of $50,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter.

Smartly dressed in a gray striped suit with her shoulder length hair framing her tan face, she sat tensely as James testified that he accompanied his brother, a Pacific naval veteran home on liberty, to call on Faith Coombs, a maid employed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton, neighbors of Mrs. Stevens.

James, preceded on the stand by a state police lieutenant who testified that Mrs. Stevens had drunk at least 10 beers before the shooting, said he and his brother were in the living room when Mrs. Stevens appeared and demanded that they explain their presence in the house.

Albert, James said, replied that he had come to call on Miss Coombs and Mrs. Stevens then told him that the maid was not at home.

"He Knows That's a Lie"

James testified that his brother remarked that Miss Coombs was upstairs. At that point, the witness said, the brothers glanced upstairs and then "I heard a shot."

In a high pitched voice, Mrs. Stevens, daughter of a Pama, Tex., policeman and mother of a 6 year old daughter by a previous marriage, broke in:

"That isn't so. He knows that's a lie. That isn't so."

Her voice broke into a sob and tears streamed down her cheeks.

Then as her lawyer and a woman attendant sought to quiet her, she cried out again:

"He's telling a lie. I told the truth."

Mrs. Stevens did not testify. She had told police she shot Kovacs, a Norwalk resident, in self-defense and that she had confronted the brothers because she thought they were intruders in her neighbor's home.

Denies Provoking Her

On resuming his testimony James said that after the first shot he gathered his brother in his arms and Mrs. Stevens fired a second shot and demanded:

"Take him out of here."

Then, said James, came a third shot and Mrs. Stevens cried:

"Now will you get him out of here?"

James said that at no time did he or his brother do or say anything to provoke Mrs. Stevens.

State Police Lt. George H. Remer testified that young Kovacs, submarine sailor stationed at Portsmouth, N. H., was shot to death at 11:30 p. m.

"Do you know who fired the shots?" the coroner asked him.

"I do. Imogene Stevens."

"Had she been drinking?"

"She had."

"How much?"

"Several beers."

"Know how many?"

"I know of 10."

She Appeared Sober

The coroner, who is expected to give a finding in the case within a few days, did not ask Remer how he knew.

James later said Mrs. Stevens appeared sober when she confronted him and his brother, who, he said, had drunk two highballs and possibly a beer hours before they went to call on Miss Coombs, a petite blonde.

Under Connecticut statute, the coroner is required to investigate cases of violent deaths and submit his findings to prosecuting officials.

SENATORS VOTE TO END FEDERAL JOBS SERVICE

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—The senate today voted to require the government to return jurisdiction over the United States employment service to the states within 90 days after the end of the war.

The action was taken thru adoption by voice vote of a rider to a $1,123,749,241 appropriation bill for the labor department and federal security agency for the 1946 fiscal year.

The employment service was taken over from the states by executive proclamation of the late President Roosevelt early in the war.

Sen. Saltonstall [R., Mass.] offered the amendment to require the post-war transfer back to the states.

THE SUN NEVER SETS BUT IT SETS ON LEND-LEASE

Billowing Billions Wash Many a Strange Shore

BY WALTER TROHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 26 — Eighty-four allied and neutral nations and colonies shared in $4,926,449,237 of lend-lease goods shipped from the United States in 1942, official government records disclosed today.

The files for the first year of operation of lend-lease showed that virtually every country in the world except the axis nations shared in the free flow of 11 categories of goods.

Since that time the total of lend-lease, according to the last White house report to congress, had reached 40 billion dollars as of last March 31, which means that the flow of American goods has widened rather than decreased since the first year.

British Got the Most

Part of the shipments for 1942 were made at a time when a gallant band of heroic Americans was defending Bataan. While these defenders received almost nothing in the way of supplies and were passing the hat, with grim American irony, to buy a sorely needed bomber, the records show that millions of dollars worth of goods were shipped to the Pacific area, some to countries which fell before the Philippines.

British Malaya received $4,153,688 of goods and Burma $1,797,109. Both of these fell before Bataan. Australia, New Zealand, and China received a half billion dollars worth of aid.

The lion's share of the lend-lease shipments went to the United Kingdom at over 2 billions and British empire units shared heavily in the remainder. Russia got more than 1 billion 200 million dollars of goods. In addition Russia got another 100 millions of goods shipped to Iran and Iraq.

Neutral Countries Benefit

Neutral countries which received goods while the United States was building an army included Turkey, which got a total of almost 11 million dollars; Argentina, which got $287,346, and Irish Free State which got $106,658. Latin-American countries shared substantially in lend-lease.

The 11 categories and the amounts shipped under them are as follows:

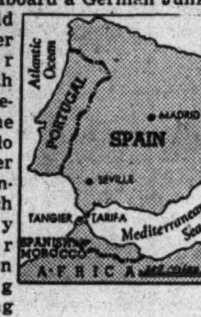
OLD TANGIER NOW BUSTLING CITY OF 125,000

BY HENRY WALES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]



TANGIER, Morocco, June 26—The flight aboard a German Junkers from Madrid to Tangier takes four hours, with a halt at Seville. The Spanish do not bother with nonsense such as safety belts or bans on smoking while taking off or landing, and Spanish pilots do not waste precious gasoline warming up engines before starting a run.

They use castor and olive oil as lubricants, and even iron stomached travelers become nauseated as the fumes of hot oil reek thru the fuselage. However, tubes pipe fresh, cool air to every seat, and holding the nozzle to the nose saved me from sickness.

The plane crosses the Straits of Gibraltar near Tarifa, Spain, so the rocky fortress was not visible, but there was plenty of traffic thru the waterway, chiefly Spanish tankers and American Liberty ships chugging westward.

Giant Combers Roll In

The air field is 10 miles out of Tangier near the Atlantic shore, where giant combers come rolling in. A dilapidated bus carries passengers to the town.

The international city has grown from a population of 70,000 in 1930, when I was last here, to 125,000 today. Hundreds of dazzling new white stucco villas cover the hills overlooking the sea and the bay.

The American consulate still occupies its picturesque building in the old Moorish quarter in the Rue of the Americans. It is the oldest United States foreign possession, a gift from the sultan of Morocco in 1820.

The rambling, white walled German legation near-by was padlocked by Spanish authorities 18 months ago, following allied demands, and the Japanese consulate also is closed.

Women Abandon Veil

The narrow streets and market places are crowded with Moors and Riffs swathed in more clothes than the Eskimos. The Arabs insist that heavy garments keep out the heat and insulate the body. Most of the Moslem women have abandoned the veil.

Many globe trotters insist that Tangier is the loveliest spot on the Mediterranean. The American colony is hoping fervently that Uncle Sam will hang on to its privileges under the Algeciras treaty establishing the international city.

BURGLARS GET A VARIED HAUL

Burglars broke into Mrs. Mabel A. Haisleigh's home at 4823 Adams st. yesterday and stole $20, 300 pennies, a woman's wrist watch, an electric kitchen appliance, a radio, and other items—including her Boston bull terrier.

U. S. TROOPS SAIL FOR FAR EAST FROM MARSEILLE

SUPREME HDQ. ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, June 26 (AP)—Some American troops being redeployed to the Pacific from this theater are going directly to China, communications zone headquarters announced today. Several thousand troops already have sailed from Marseille en route to the far east. Troops destined for China were equipped with summer and winter uniforms.

Troops sent thus far have been veteran engineer, quartermaster, and medical specialists, whose job will be to prepare, receive and outfit the masses of men soon to reach the Pacific from Europe and the United States.

Some 800 volunteer army nurses now are being processed at the Marseille staging area for immediate further service in a combat theater. They came from England, France, Belgium, and Germany.

RIDING HORSES AREN'T SO LUCKY!

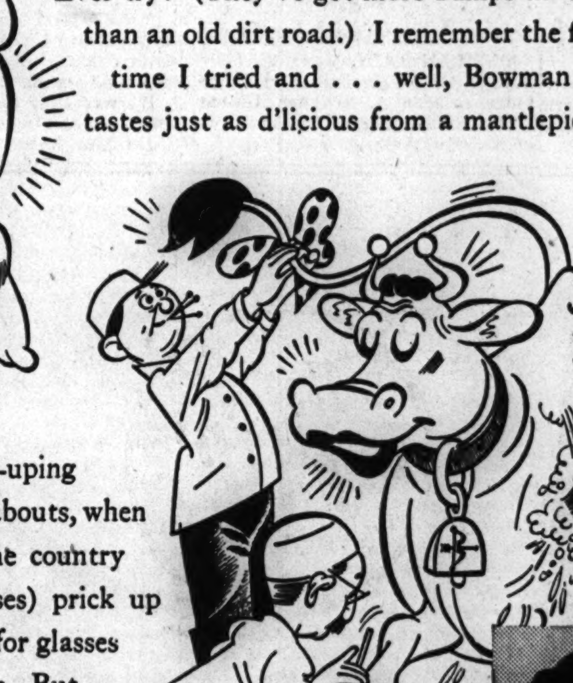
THEY ONLY GET BUCKETS OF OATS!

MAKE MINE MILK!

Bud Bowman

MAYBE YOU THINK it's easy ridin' a horse. Ever try? (They've got more bumps in 'em than an old dirt road.) I remember the first time I tried and . . . well, Bowman Milk tastes just as d'licious from a mantlepiece.

THERE'S MORE to ridin' a horse than just riding, tho. There's the cleaning-up. Riding horses get curried and polished and their gear is rubbed and shined. Reminds me of the care that cows get on the fine dairy farms that send milk to Bowman.



COMES A PAUSE in the riding and clean-uping that goes on in Riding Academies hereabouts, when the Bowman milk truck rolls up the country road. Grooms and riders (and horses) prick up their ears, and there's a wild dash for glasses full of that country-fresh milk of ours. But the horses are left behind with only oats to chew.

MAN AND BOY, it's refreshing after a long, hot ride! Bowman Milk that's ten times tested for richness, purity and flavor gives out with extra energy, too—energy that helps you enjoy riding and other sports that flourish in Chicagoland these sunny vacation months.

Mrs. Lloyd P. Crumb (whose husband's overseas with the A. A. F.) takes time out for a glass of cool, refreshin' Bowman Milk. That's her horse, Fancy Manners, alongside.

INTERNEES SEEK BRITISH COURT TO CLEAR NAMES

Ask Candidates to Back Plea for Tribunal

BY E. R. NODERER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 26—British subjects who were interned without trial under defense regulation 18-B are petitioning all parliamentary candidates to support a proposal to set up a tribunal which would give them a chance to vindicate themselves.

Many of the 1,847 persons who during the European war were placed behind bars or barbed wire have found that the stigma of having been imprisoned is proving a handicap in civilian life, altho they never were formally charged with any legal offense. In some cases a notation that they were internees is marked on their identity cards, which has made it difficult for them to obtain jobs.

Send Letter to Candidates

All except one have been released. They are sending a letter to all candidates in the forthcoming general election. It points out that since 18-b was revoked with the end of the war in Europe "the danger of burying the injustices and opprobious slur on the victims of its operation in perpetual silence becomes all the greater."

"So also does the danger increase that the odious principle of arbitrary political imprisonment on secret information or suspicion, in violation of the acts of habeas corpus, may be revived in future in a new form against an ever increasing number of British subjects who may incur the hostility or suspicion of dictatorial ministerial departments," the letter states.

In urging support for the tribunal the writers assert that the detainees never were allowed to know the real reasons for their detention and were denied legal representation before an advisory committee which could review internment orders.

Have Two Organizations

"With the virtual abrogation of the acts of habeas corpus and the ban on the free expression of political opinion, the last civil liberties of Englishmen finally disappear," they charge.

The 18-B detainees have two organizations, the 18-B publicity council and the 18-B detainees' British aid fund.

ONLY U.S. HELP SAVED BRITAIN, MONTY ADMITS

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 26 (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery told a group of American officers and enlisted men today that Britain was finished in 1941 and could not possibly have survived without American aid.

His remarks climaxed a ceremony in which 100 American officers and enlisted men received the distinguished service order, the military medal and the military cross from Montgomery's hand.

"In 1941 the axis made a great mistake by attacking Russia, and the Japs made an equally great mistake by attacking America," Montgomery added.

"History will show these mistakes cost the axis the war."

"That was the only thing that saved the British. But after that, victory for us was certain. It is a tremendous debt that we can never repay. Not ever. We were finished and you came along and gave us a helping hand."

Mechanical Firing Squad May Kill Danish Quislings

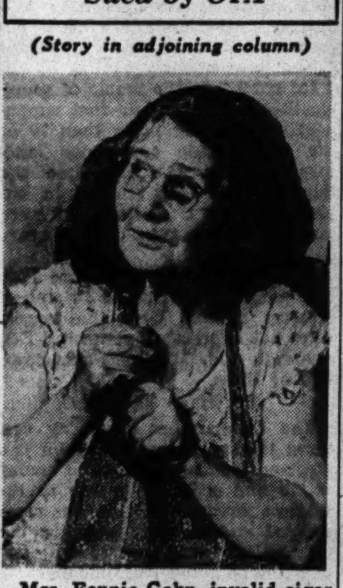
Sued by OPA

(Story in adjoining column)



Mrs. Fannie Cohn, invalid cigar maker, who faces OPA price violation charges, shows how she prepares cigar wrapper from leaf tobacco. She injured her eye Monday in a fall. [TRIBUNE Photo]

SHE'S 70, INFIRM, PROUD, BUT OPA ENDANGERS HER

An infirm, 70 year old woman who is unable to read or write and who stays off the old age assistance roll by making cigars, will be charged with office of price administration violations today with 19 other small cigar manufacturers before Judge Robert J. Dunne in Circuit court.

She is Mrs. Fannie Cohn of 3429 North av., a cigar maker for more than 60 years who has maintained a small shop here with the aid of one assistant for the last 13 years. She is charged with making too many 10 cent cigars last year and is being sued for $439 by the OPA.

"I never even saw $400 in my entire life," Mrs. Cohn protested yesterday. "I make just enough to pay my rent, eat a piece of bread, and stay off relief."

She said she had never been told to cut down on the number of 10 cent cigars which she manufactured.

"All I know is to make cigars," she related. "I could get more money working for some one else, but I am too old and feeble to travel on street cars.

"I have wanted to keep off the old people's pension, but if I have to pay the $439 to the OPA, I will just have to close up shop and go into an old people's home. I have no friends and no relatives in this country. I am alone."

Mrs. Cohn, who has no attorney, will be unable to be present in court today. She cannot walk and has to be lifted to and from her bed by her assistant.

Under OPA regulations cigar makers must not only maintain ceiling prices but a weighted average selling price, Emmanuel John Seidner, attorney for a group of the defendants, explained. If they manufacture 5, 10, and 15 cent cigars, their weighted average selling price is 10 cents, he said.

The 20 manufacturers being charged with OPA violations are called "buckeyes," or makers of cheap cigars, Seidner said. "They are the small time operators of the business, either working alone or with one employe," he commented.

BRITAIN LIVING ON U. S. BOUNTY, CHURCHILL SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 26—"We are living largely on the bounty of the United States which is lending us an enormous sum of money without interest in the shape of the goods and food we need," Prime Minister Churchill said at Huddersfield today on the second leg of his election tour in northern England. "We have to get out of that position because we do not want to be dependent upon any one—not even the best of friends and comrades. "We want to stand on our own feet and be able to look any one in the face."

At Manchester he asserted Britain was anxious to have a strong Conservative government "because we have to deal with foreign countries heavily armed and at the height of their powers. We are not ourselves so large as our two principal allies and it is only by being united in thought and with firm voices to speak for you that we shall be able to hold our own in the councils of the nations and not lose in peace what our soldiers, sailors, and air men have gained for us in war."

Another highlight from the day's seven speeches was the admission that regulation 18-B, which is now rescinded, was "a direct affront to habeas corpus."

Drug May Make Possible Restoring Pulled Tooth

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 26—Penicillin may make it possible for teeth to be extracted and replaced to grow again, it was reported today on the basis of experiments in London. In a test case, a tooth, sound except for an abcess, was extracted. The infected ends of the root were cut off, the pulp canals filled, and the tooth replaced after the socket had been treated with penicillin. In five months the bone structure had reformed around the roots, making the tooth firm enough to serve as an anchor for a bridge.

HIDDEN VALLEY NATIVES AT WAR, SO RESCUE LAGS

Private Conflict Provides More Complications

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 24 [Delayed]—A private war between the natives of Shangri-La and their belligerent neighbors added today to the complications of bringing a WAC and 14 escorts from this hidden valley of New Guinea.

About the time mechanical failures and lack of sufficient equipment arose to plague the work of the army air force rescuers, along came the battle among the aborigines.

Not that the battle between the Shangri-Laians and their unidentified native enemies is imperiling the party stranded in the mountain-locked valley, but the warfare is eddying uncomfortably close.

The natives of Shangri-La seem somewhat addicted to warfare. They have erected stockades around their villages, and have mounted sentinel towers above the walls, where six-foot warriors scan the countryside for enemies.

Tells of Hostilities

Capt. Cecil Walters, who heads the rescue party which parachuted into the valley, reported by walkie-talkie on the outbreak of native hostilities.

Natives on the other side of the valley, he said, were warring on the natives of Shangri-La, and the fighting had spread close to the encampment.

"We found a lot of dead natives down here," Walters said. "We learned from these people that while they cremate their own dead, they do not give their enemies the satisfaction of a proper burial ceremony."

Tests still are in progress to determine if glider rescue is practical. The suggestion has been made that two seater Cub artillery spotter planes might bring the 14 out one at at time.

Ask Additional Equipment

A request has been made of Gen. Kenny, commander of the Far Eastern air force, for experts and additional equipment to demonstrate that a glider can be landed on the make-shift landing strip in the valley and be brought out by an army tow plane.

WAC Corp. Margaret Hastings, Owego, N. Y., Lt. John B. McCollom, Trenton, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker, Kelso, Wash., are the only ones of 23 persons who emerged alive when an army transport on a sight seeing tour crashed against a mountain side in Shangri-La May 13.

With 12 parachuted rescuers, they are now waiting for the army to get them out. Miss Hastings has been dubbed the "queen of the valley," but she told those flying overhead today:

"I'll abdicate any time."

6,893 VETERANS LAND IN N. Y. ON WAY TO PACIFIC

New York, June 26 [Special]—A total of 6,893 men representing six American fighting outfits returning home from Europe for furlough and redeployment arrived in New York today on the former Italian luxury liner Conte Grande, now the Monticello, a navy transport.

They comprised advance elements of the 8th motorized infantry, the 95th division, the 104th division, and advance detachments of the 18th corps, the 74th anti-aircraft brigade, and 1,000 enlisted men of the 9th army air force.

In appearance they were the most hardened and grizzled group yet to return. Army men on the pier said most of the men are to go to the Pacific after their furloughs and retraining.

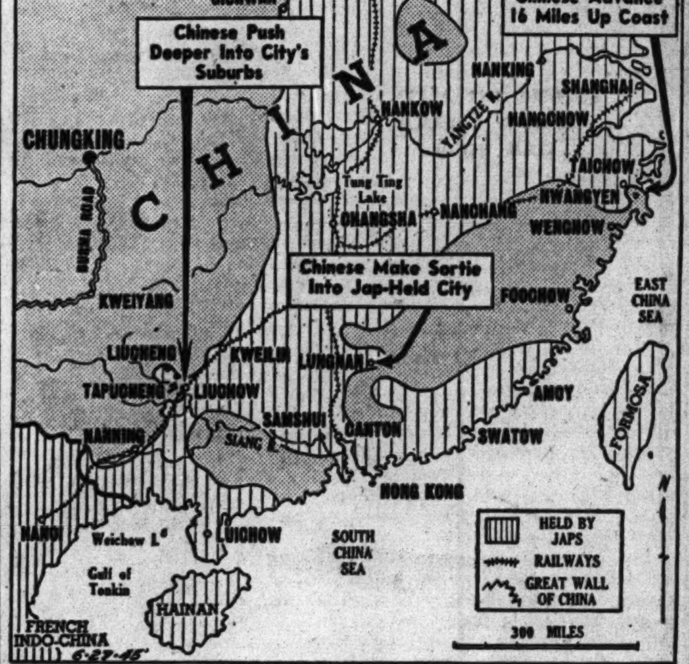
Chinese Drive Along Coast



Pursue Japanese

CHUNGKING, China, June 26 (AP)—Chinese troops have ripped 16 miles up China's "invasion" coast toward Shanghai, reaching a point 165 miles south of the great seaport in a two day pursuit of withdrawing Japanese forces, the Chinese high command said tonight.

Sweeping along the south shore of Taichow bay, 450 miles west of American held Okinawa, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's troops have battered to the Linhai [Taichow] city area south of the great industrial Hangchow region.

With the new advance the Japanese had been cleared from a 365 mile stretch of China's vulnerable east coast. The Chinese opposite Formosa hold the entire coastal area south to Japanese held Amoy. In the last five weeks, the Japanese have abandoned 240 miles of coastline north from Foochow to Linhai.

Swarms of American bombers and fighters ranged over a vast 2,000 mile front in China from Inner Mongolia to the Canton-Hong Kong area, giving Japanese airdromes, railroads and shipping one of their most widespread pastings in recent weeks.

2,000 REDS MEET IN PARIS TO OPEN PARTY CONGRESS

Gather as Saviors of France

BY ROBERT SAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 26—Nearly 2,000 sweating Reds stood at attention in a huge glass roofed exhibition hall on the outskirts of Paris this morning while an orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner," the anthems of other allied nations, and the "Internationale" as a prelude to the opening of the 10th national congress of the French Communist party.

The delegates, about a quarter of whom were women, were militants representing every region of France at the first nation-wide rally since the party's stormy congress at Arles in December, 1937, when Maurice Thorez, French Red chief, vainly urged the country to fight Hitler and Mussolini on the Spanish front.

Reds Become Strong

Bolstered by Russian victories and internal economic unrest, French Reds since then have become strong. Masked by a dozen different names, varying from "Anti-Fascists" to "Front National," the Communists are now presenting themselves as the saviors of France under the subtitle "Party of French Renaissance." The slogan adopted by the present congress is "Renaissance, Democracy, Unity."

Despite the tone of respectable conformity assumed by the Communists, the opening day of the congress resembled a country fair. An open air kitchen supplied more than 2,000 hot meals for the delegates and friends who lunched and dined at tables placed in the shade around the exhibition hall.

Portraits Decorate Walls

Inside the building a huge panel at the rear depicted workers and peasants engaged in the country's various activities while around the walls in traditional Communist manner hung gigantic portraits of domestic Red chiefs, soviet heroes, and party members killed by the Germans. Between the portraits was alternately red and tricolor bunting with the inscriptions "Vive la France," and "Vive la Republique," while the congress' watchword was inscribed in enormous letters over portraits behind the rostrum.

The congress got down to five days of serious business this afternoon when Thorez made his keynote speech on the renaissance, democracy, unity theme.

DRAFT TO SPARE WESTERN LINES' RAIL WORKERS

Selective service boards in Chicago and Cook county were authorized yesterday to give special consideration to operating and maintenance workers on western railroads, in accordance with a directive from national selective service headquarters granting deferments, at least until October, to such workers. The order was issued to aid in moving soldiers and equipment from the east to the Pacific war theater. Railroads covered by the deferment order are those operating west of Lake Michigan, the Illinois-Indiana state line, and the Mississippi river.

JAPANESE TALK OF U. S. INVASION NEAR HOME ISLE

San Francisco, Cal., June 26 (AP)—Tokyo radio today reported an allied landing in the South Pacific, a pre-invasion bombardment of Japanese holdings in Borneo and a forecast of an American thrust closer to the Japanese homeland.

The All-India radio, heard in London, said it picked up a Japanese report that an allied force was attempting a landing on an island halfway between Okinawa and Japan's southern shores.

This may have been a confused reception of a Tokyo English language broadcast, beamed to Europe and heard in the United States by the FCC, predicting an allied invasion of the Amami and Kikai Islands in the Amami group, north of Okinawa and about 200 miles from Kyushu.

Tokyo also reported tonight that allied troops landed on Kume Island, 50 miles west of Okinawa, this morning [Japanese time]. No details were given in the broadcast, which was recorded by the federal communications commission, and which was unconfirmed. Such a landing would expand the American foothold in the central Ryukyus.

Admits Okinawa Lost

Premier Kantaro Suzuki for the first time admitted the Americans had taken Okinawa and warned his countrymen that the Yanks' "arrogant counter-offensive . . . is expected to be further intensified and lead even to the invasion of our homeland."

The premier's message, reported by the Japanese Domei agency and recorded by the FCC, told the Japanese the crisis facing their country "is the greatest one since the Mongolian invasion" of 1274.

Domei also said that allied units had landed on Ternate, a small island off the east coast of Japanese held Halmahera in the Moluccas, about 350 miles southeast of the Philippines.

The allies already are established in the Moluccas, American forces having occupied Morotai Island northeast of Halmahera in the drive from New Guinea to the Philippines.

More Japs Give Up

GUAM, June 27 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Emerging from caves, canefields, and brushy valleys, scores of Japanese carrying surrender leaflets gave themselves up to American 10th army troops yesterday.

The day's total of prisoners, including hundreds of the enemy captured at rifle point or driven from caves with grenades, was 802, increasing to 9,498 the number of enemy troops in stockades on Okinawa. The figures were given in Fleet Adm. Nimitz's war bulletin today.

OLD BATTLESHIP RETURNS TO WAR WITH TRIBUTE

San Francisco, June 26 (AP)—The navy today paid tribute to naval and civilian repair workers who refitted the U. S. S. Pennsylvania and sent the 29 year old battle wagon back into the Pacific war zone.

The 12 14-inch guns mounted on the peace time "queen of the fleet" at Hunters Point were salvaged from Pearl Harbor. Using a new method, ordnance experts relined five of the big rifles from the U. S. S. Oklahoma, capsized in the attack on Pearl Harbor. Six were from the U. S. S. Nevada, damaged in the same attack but now back on duty. One was from the Pennsy herself, repaired since she was damaged at Pearl Harbor.

The battleship's record includes Attu, Makin, the Marshalls, Eniwetok, the Marianas, Guam [where her officers believe she fired more major caliber shells at the Japanese than any other vessel has done], Anguar, Peleliu, Leyte, Surigao, and Lingayen.

B-29s RIP JAPS' BIGGEST HOME ISLE OIL PLANT

GUAM, June 27 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Nearly 50 B-29s struck the Utsube river oil refinery, Japan's principal producer of aviation gasoline, in a precision demolition attack before midnight last night.

The raid followed by half a day the greatest Super Fortress demolition pinpointing of Honshu industries in which nearly 500 of the sky giants blasted 10 targets with 3,000 tons of bombs.

The Utsube refinery is located near Yokkaichi, 18 miles southwest of Nagoya on Ise bay. Since the destruction of fuel centers at Tokuyama and Otake on May 10, the Utsube plant was the enemy's largest remaining producer of aviation gasoline.

City Damaged in Fire Raid

The city of Yakkaichi was heavily damaged in a fire raid June 18. Some fire bombs fell into the Utsube refinery area in that attack, causing slight damage, but last night's strike was the first with the Utsube plant and storage area as the primary objective.

Yesterday the Marianas based Super Forts, escorted by army Mustang fighters from Iwo, smashed at aircraft, gun, and shell factories in the Nagoya, Osaka, and Kobe areas.

All of the targets had been hit in previous fire bomb and demolition raids by the Super Forts of the 21st bomber command.

Five Planes Lost

The 20th air force headquarters in Washington reported five Super Fortresses were missing from Tuesday's raid. The announcement said only slight fighter opposition and meager anti-aircraft fire were encountered. Returning crews reported "good to excellent" results.

Ice coated as the result of soupy weather or with their fuel supply nearly exhausted more than 70 of the B-29s made emergency landings on Iwo. At one time the Super Forts were stacked in circles above the tiny island and were landing at the rate of one every 30 seconds.

Except for a few kamikaze [suicide crash] efforts, the 50 enemy fighters sighted over the targets were not aggressive, returning B-29 crewmen said. Mustangs shot down two of them.

Hit Plane Factories

The bombardiers yesterday centered their high explosives on two airplane factories and three ammunition and ordnance plants in the Nagoya area; the largest army arsenal and biggest propeller factory in the empire at Osaka; two airplane plants at Kagamigahara, 20 miles north of Nagoya, and a plane factory at Akashi, 10 miles west of Kobe.

Carrying on the destruction of Japanese war resources and facilities, Pacific fleet headquarters reported that fleet air wing 1. destroyed 122,645 tons of Japanese shipping and damaged 128,890 tons more in enemy waters within the last 10 weeks. The navy pilots also shot down 36 Japanese planes and damaged 24.

END IS NEAR FOR JAPS PINCHED IN CAGAYANVALLEY

Yank Columns Now 20 Miles Apart

MANILA, June 27 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Liquidation of the last Japanese stronghold in Cagayan valley, northern Luzon island in the Philippines, is near with the enemy compressed into a 20-mile corridor between American columns.

Gen. MacArthur's war bulletin today said the Japanese were being pinched between Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th infantry division pushing down river from the south while 11th air borne division elements advanced up the valley.

The 37th swept thru Tuguegarao, capital of Cagayan province, Monday to find the Japanese force which had won control of the city from hard-pressed Filipino guerrillas already in flight to hills to the east. The hills flank the national highway leading to Aparri, coastal city recently taken from the Japanese.

Reach River Town

Beightler's veterans continued their rapid advance, pushing north to Iguig while units of the 11th air borne in their thrust southward freed the town of Gattaran, nine miles south of Lal-Lo. The air infantrymen then forged ahead two miles farther to Bakas, on the 240-foot wide Dummun river.

A headquarters spokesman estimated that of probably 20,000 Japanese still fighting in northern Luzon, fully half of them are east of the highway with the rugged, unexplored Sierra Madre range at their backs.

Fifth A. A. F. fighter bombers flew 270 sorties over northern Luzon Sunday, with close support given to ground forces in the Tuguegarao area.

This covered the period when the Japanese were withdrawing from the provincial capital after pounding guerrillas for four days with mortars and artillery. Unable to return the fire with anything more formidable than bazookas which they carried with them, the guerrillas found Tugegarao difficult to defend.

Seize Town on Mindanao

The Japanese in turn found the embattled city too hot as the 37th division advanced upon them, so withdrew.

The 37th sent a column eastward after the retreating foe and captured Penablanca, three miles outside Tuguegarao.

On Mindanao, the 24th division occupied Tamogan town, two miles north of the river of the same name, after a small scale but rough encounter with the enemy, and drove to within 26 miles of a junction with the 31st division in the Davao gulf area. More than 100 Japanese were killed and four 75 millimeter field pieces knocked out before Tamogan fell.

For the third straight day marine dive bombers worked over the Agusan river valley to the north, sending 75 strikes against enemy concentrations in the Waloe area.

Capture of strategic Mount Tazaki, New Guinea, by Australian forces was announced at Melbourne. The peak and neighboring ridges dominate the Aussie held Wewak sector. The mountain was taken after an all-day battle.

Japanese dead on New Guinea, Bougainville, and New Britain mounted to 9,725 since Jan. 1 as the Aussies reported the slaying of an additional 1,128.

AUSSIES SEIZE MIRI, BORNEO OIL CENTER

MANILA, June 27 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Australian 9th division forces completed the reconquest of the great west Borneo oil fields Sunday with the capture of Miri, whose 300 oil wells have been blazing under the Japanese torch for the last three weeks.

The town of 14,500 pre-war population was deserted when the "Digger" column, which had landed at the Lutong refinery center several days earlier, pushed thru wrecked storage tanks, power stations, and office buildings, a headquarters spokesman said. There was little left of the town.

The Japanese garrison was believed to be falling back on Kuching, several hundred miles farther down the west coast of Borneo.

DOUBLE RELIEF FOOD SHIPMENT IN JUNE, JULY

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The united nations relief and rehabilitation administration reported today that relief shipments to Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Poland, and Yugoslavia in June and July will more than double the total sent up to the end of May.

The European committee of UNRRA, meeting under the chairmanship of Frederick Leith-Ross, disclosed that about 263,000 tons of supplies had gone to those countries up to June 1 and that approximately 698,000 tons would be dispatched in June and July, with Albania included in the distribution.

It was stated the figures do not include supplies which will be taken over from the military and paid for by UNRRA. The official report disclosed Sweden had offered to care for 10,000 or more physically unfit "displaced persons" from the continent. France offered immediate asylum for 500 children from Buchenwald concentration camp.

LEOPOLD URGED TO ABDICATE; WEIGHS ANSWER

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 26 (AP)—King Leopold III. of Belgium tonight weighed the frank counsel of his political friends and enemies, and all signs indicated that a decision to abdicate was inevitable. Leopold apparently has no alternative but to promise to relinquish his throne, unless he wishes to risk civil disorders, strikes, and possible bloodshed.

Louis de Brouckere, Socialist vice president of the Socialist international and head of the "Entente Democratique" against the king, carried to Leopold's quarters at St. Wolfgang, Austria, a flat "no" from Liberals, Socialists, and Communists to any compromise concerning the monarch's return.

Lt. Gen. Walter Gangshof van der Meersch, a trusted adviser to the throne, said he felt unable to form a government for the king, and declared he looked for an authoritative statement about the abdication by Thursday.

His offer was made by mail and in his letter he charged that he was being made the target of union politics. He also offered to resign as a union member. Quirk has been secretary-treasurer since 1931. Stephen Bailey, business agent, said that the union would meet again tomorrow night to consider Quirk's action. Quirk lives at 617 S. FRENCH TREASURY PROFITS BILLION IN RETIRING OLD NOTES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 26—The French treasury made a profit of about $1,000,000,000 in the bank note exchange of old against new notes, Rene Pleven, French minister of finance and national economy, told the French assembly today. Pleven's next move will be a capital levy on fortunes of more than $6,000, he said.

The treasury profit comes from the fact that the French monetary circulation of about $11,600,000,000 was reduced by the inability of the Germans to present notes they carried away, destruction of others and the failure of hoarders to turn in their notes in time. In addition, according to Pleven, another $2,600,000,000 which had been stored away was invested in treasury bonds, so that the French monetary circulation has been reduced to a round figure of $8,000,000,000.

The French public is waiting to see whether these financial reforms make any difference in black market operations or in increasing the purchasing power of the franc in the home market.

LONDON POLES DENOUNCE NEW WARSAW SETUP

LONDON, June 26 (AP).—The Polish exile government in London today denounced the newly formed "National Unity" administration of Warsaw as a "pseudo government." The London regime declared it would cling to its claim of authority to speak for the Polish nation.

It challenged the authority of the major powers to sponsor creation of the broadened Warsaw government. It asserted Poland now is occupied "by an alien army and an alien political police."

The declarations were made in a note handed to all allied governments except Russia.

Army a Big Question

Meanwhile, other Polish leaders gathering in Warsaw were expected to announce soon the exact make-up of the new Polish administration agreed upon in talks in Moscow. Many quarters expect Britain and the United States to recognize this new administration.

In that event, today's declaration by the London government of Premier Tomasz Arciszewski may be its last before going into political exile. The big question then would be how much control the local group retains over the Polish army, nearly 100,000 strong, stationed here, in Italy, and on the continent.

The note asserted the new Polish administration "has been created on the basis of unprecedented procedure while the whole of Polish territory is occupied by the soviet army, and at a time when Poles are deprived of the elementary rights of man and citizen.

"The Polish government declares that it will hand over its authority solely to a government which has been formed on free Polish soil, and one which reflects the will of the people as expressed in free elections."

To Get U. S. Recognition

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—Wladislaw Gomulka, vice premier of the Polish provisional government of national unity formed at Moscow last week, said today the United States and Britain will recognize the new government when its personnel is announced in Warsaw, probably this week.

Gomulka said the question of elections by a single bloc or by parties was not yet settled but said he would like to stress the fact of "perfect freedom to all parties."

The vice premier said he would welcome foreign correspondents observing the election. He said he did not know when they would take place but asserted he wanted them "as quickly as possible." The return of Poles from abroad to take part in these elections is a matter of primary importance, Gomulka said.

Zigmundt Zuwalski, a member of the executive committee of the Polish Socialist party, said he wanted all Poles to know that ill health and nothing else had prompted his decision not to accept a post in the new government. He said he felt his decision was being misinterpreted by the London Poles.

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—Joseph D. Medley, escaped convict and murderer of Mrs. Nancy Boyer, 45, a divorcee, today was sentenced in District court to die in the electric chair Nov. 30. Medley was convicted of killing Mrs. Boyer following an all night poker party in her apartment in March. Justice T. Alan Goldsborough pronounced sentence.

FLYER RESCUED IN REICH JOINS PALS ON LINER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 26—Among Chicagolanders en route home on the Queen Elizabeth, which is due in New York on Friday, are several airmen who were taken prisoner by the Germans after being shot down. Sgt. Joseph Cereszewski, East Chicago, Ind., a radio operator, had a joyful reunion aboard the liner with members of his 91st bomb group.

Sgt. Gerald May, Stonington, Ill., radioman of the 34th bomb group, said, "I'm going to volunteer for the Pacific with the 8th air force again, but I've had enough of prison camps."

Sgt. George Koenon, Detroit, Mich., who spent 16 months in a German camp after his Liberator was shot down over Friedrichshaven, said: "I've got two kids at home, one of whom I've never seen. I wonder if she is going to be disappointed when she sees her old man?"

GENERAL'S CAMP CAUGHT IN NIGHT BY JAP BARRAGE

Shells Burst In and Near Headquarters Area

match sticks. There is something comforting about having others close.

You find every little crack and pit in the ground and push yourself into it. You wish you hadn't done so much sitting in your life because that part of you extends upward awfully far.

If you're religious you send out a prayer, short and earnest. If you aren't you cross your fingers or swear or just lie and shake.

When the barrage eases you pull on your clothes and start running. A hundred feet away you find a little wash maybe 18 inches deep. It is full of people and you sweat out the next bursts there.

Then you take off again, running bent over low. You can't see any damage to the camp yet and you hope no one has been hurt. You don't know until later that in the next row of tents one shell clipped the head off one man and killed two others less neatly.

Barefoot in the Thistles

Men are running everywhere. One goes streaking past naked except for a helmet, his body a flash of white under the full moon. Others wear shorts or have a towel wrapped around them. Many are barefoot. The fields are full of thistles and stones, but it isn't until the last shot is fired that these men realize their feet are torn and bruised.

Pvt. Bob Johnson from Hickory, N. C., is one of the few men with foxholes. He feels comparatively safe until one shell lands in it with him. But it's a dud. And Johnson then takes off with the rest.

Some men remember a garbage hole. Thirteen pack themselves into it. Thirteen. That's unlucky. "Somebody's gotta leave," each of the 13 says, but no one does.

Gather in a Gully

In a little gully across the road a dozen men congregate. One officer speaks up. "Men, this is the situation," he says. "This gully is not much protection. In those woods over there should be a ravine. However, the farther you go from camp the greater the danger is of running into some Japs. The Nips may be planning to attack when this barrage lifts. How many of you have arms?" Two men have besides the officer. "If you want to go to the woods, you may."

All shells have been bursting on the camp's side of the road. But now some interrupt the officer by breaking across it. There is deep silence. Then the officer speaks up again: "All right, men, let's go."

As you start for the woods the exodus from the camp becomes complete. Trucks and jeeps pull out, covered with men like honeycake with flies in June. Two fires are burning in the camp, a truck and gasoline in the general kitchen. The general's new refrigerator, uncrated only that day, is already ruined.

Joined by Filipino Family

In the woods maybe 500 yards from the camp soldiers flop on the ground. A Filipino family joins them. One girl, Jean, is carrying a crucifix. Another takes hold of a soldier's hand.

At 3 a. m. after an hour and a half, the barrage lifts. By 4 some men drift back into camp. You find the beheaded soldier still sitting on his cot pulling on his shoe. The only way you can identify him is by his baby's picture over the cot. First aid men have already covered the other two men with ponchos. Two other men were killed when shells hit a truck they were lying under. One of them had delivered water to the camp. Forty others, first aid men say, were hurt.

At 4:30 the Japs renew their assault. On the Cub plane strip adjoining, Lt. Sam Fisher, Altoona, Pa.; Lt. Bert Williams, Syracuse, N. Y., and Capt. Don Thomson, Rochester, N. Y., take off in their little planes to see if they can spot the Jap guns and bring our artillery against them. Thomson is barely air borne before he learns shell fragments have pierced his engine, emptying it of oil. He circles and lands again, guided by a truck light flashed along the runway.

Would Rather Be in Navy

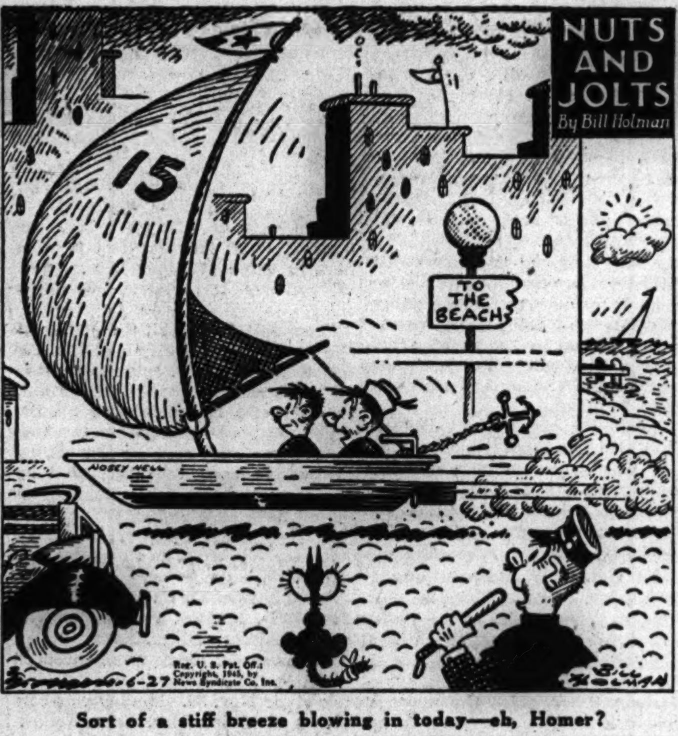
About 20 men remember a concrete culvert under the highway near the camp. The water is knee deep. Some take off their shoes and socks and wade in. One soldier, in a hurry, dives under head first. Pvt. Milford Morgan, 2205 Erie st., Chicago, is there. "I'm too old for this," he says. "I'm 39. Can't see why they wouldn't let me in the navy like they did my brother."

Somebody wishes he was in Chicago and everybody agrees. Chicago does have its attractions, especially at times like this.

In another hour it's over. Dawn is coming. As the light grows the men come back from the woods and gullies and along the road. They laugh at the dirt on each other's faces. They whistle when the general goes by in his blue and white striped pajamas.

The planes have spotted the guns and our artillery is now plastering them. Soon the infantrymen will go in to pick up the pieces and to see what Japs stick by their guns.

It's all over. All over but the aches that will fill your body tomorrow and the aches that will stay in the hearts as headquarters asks Washington, D. C., to notify some people back home that their beloved ones have been killed in action.



Sort of a stiff breeze blowing in today—eh, Homer?

Two Personalities Dominate India Parley: Gandhi, Jinnah

BY ALFRED WAGG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SIMLA, India, June 26—Hovering over the conference between British Viceroy Wavell and India's leading political leaders to broaden Indian representation in this country's government is the clash of personalities of two men—Mohandas K. Gandhi, spiritual head of the All-India Congress party, and Mahomed Ali Jinnah, titular leader of the Moslem league.

The impression here is that India's leaders cannot grasp the fact that pressure of world opinion and the desire to gain lost prestige have forced the British to restate and widen somewhat the terms of self-rule for the Indians.

Petty Issues Are Factors

India's leaders remain politicians, observers say. Petty jealousies, the old rules of the caste system, and the desire to "keep up with the Joneses" politically, are factors in the situation. For instance, one of the major differences at the conference has been at what hour the delegates' mental capacities are most productive. Valuable time was frittered away in trying to decide the time of day for convening sessions.

Gandhi's entry into the conference scene a few days ago was unusual. With great show of modesty, Gandhi insisted upon traveling by third class rail coach. For his convenience a separate car was attached to the first class train.

On arrival he immediately plunged the conference into fears of a deadlock by his announcement that he would not attend the sessions as a delegate of his party, but would merely act in an advisory capacity.

Able to Dodge Blame

Gandhi's move will permit him to avoid any blame should negotiations between Wavell and Indian leaders break off. The dapper Moslem leader, Jinnah, was reported tonight as disgusted at the Gandhi tactics.

Some observers interpreted Gandhi's move as an attempt to force Jinnah to follow suit, thereby building up an atmosphere of aloofness to the conference. If so, Gandhi nearly succeeded, for it was reported that only thru the persistence of his advisers was Jinnah persuaded to remain as a delegate. After deciding to attend as a delegate the Moslem leader accused Gandhi of attempting to torpedo the success of discussions.

Compromise must prevail if the conference is to succeed, all observers agree. But the personalities of Jinnah and Gandhi contain little of compromise.

Moslem Rift Patched

SIMLA, India, June 26 (AP)—Indian political leaders and Viceroy Wavell today reached "certain provisional conclusions" on British proposals for extending the self-government of India, an official statement said.

It was believed that delegates representing Mohandas K. Gandhi's All-India Congress party and Mahomed Ali Jinnah's Moslem league were meeting privately in preparation for tomorrow's sessions.

A major turn was evidence of a growing disposition on the part of the Moslem league to heed the demands of other factions and agree to allow nonleague Moslems to sit on Wavell's proposed Indian council.

CHILD FUGITIVES OF NAZI TERROR WIN CITIZENSHIP

Rita and Victor Root, 7 year old twins, and their brother, Herbert, 13, of 1422 S. Central Park av., who were brought to this country from Zawady, Poland, in May, 1939, several months before the Nazi invasion, were admitted to citizenship yesterday by Federal Judge John P. Barnes. They were accompanied by their parents, Beryl, who got his papers six months ago, and Kenny, whose application is pending. Three other daughters, Shirley, 24; Sarah, 22, and Martha, 19, and a son, Sherman, 18, either have received their papers or are awaiting them.

OPA TO SPEED RATION STAMPS FOR WAR VETS

The Chicago area of office of price administration yesterday moved to expedite the issuance of ration stamps to service men on furlough and to veterans returning to civilian life. The OPA announced special personnel will handle service men's problems, which will receive priority attention.

James F. Riley, acting OPA area director said that chairmen of all 167 ration boards in the area have been instructed to make a member of their staff responsible for quick attention to service men's requests.

Form Advising Committee

The area office also has appointed a veterans' advisory committee, of which Edward C. Jordan of the OPA staff is chairman, which is handling veterans' requests for rationed commodities needed to set up their own businesses.

John P. Long, recently appointed OPA regional veterans' adviser, serves on an interagency committee to aid the veterans. The agencies include the war food administration, office of defense transportation, war man power commission, United States employment service, and similar agencies.

Must See Sugar Permits

OPA can grant the veteran rationed commodities if he is qualified to obtain other materials under the regulations of the other agencies, Long said. Most allotments are for sugar.

Typical applicants are four men: William N. Maurmann, 4143 N. Mozart st., a veteran of two years and three months in the army, who wants to start a candy store; Eugene Stucker, 1546 S. Ridgeway av., a merchant marine veteran, who plans to make ice cream toppings and fountain fruit: Nicholas Caras, 9228 Commercial av., an army veteran, who plans a popcorn and caramel corn store, and Joseph Damore, 4127 Congress st., a former private, who seeks sugar for making beverage powder.

'Gag English' Taught by GIs in China with Funny Results

BY ALFRED WAGG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

KUNMING, China, June 16 [By Air Mail]—Along Kunming's stone streets American GI's are teaching the Chinese kids English. But this English is taught more to provide amusement than learning. On the main street this morning a newsboy was shouting his wares in a newly acquired English. He was chanting loudly, "Read All About It. MP's Raise Hell. Thousands Killed. Read All About It."

Teaching locals their "gag English" is not confined to Kunming, and you often hear the juveniles selling shoe shines, calling out "Shoe Shine, Shoe Shine, damnpoor shoe shine." In India the beggars caught on quickly, too. Their eternal "no mama—no papa" begging routine soon turned out to be "no mama, no papa, no government per diem, bakshish, sahib."

Wherever you go you find the genuine humor of the GI spread amply over a theater that is otherwise devoid of cheer. Of these GI's in the last few weeks, I have met literally dozens from Chicago.

Corp. Frank S. Kimball, formerly an employe of the Boston Store, wanted to get a message back home. His main idea was that now that the hostilities have ceased in Europe, maybe the boys in China would be remembered with more enthusiasm.

Favors Release at 37

Pfc. Adin M. Hunter, 434 W. Normal Pkwy, Chicago, wants the army to establish 37 as the age of release.

Corp. William J. Vuskov, 9319 Manistee av., Chicago, told how he had found an old edition of the Chicago Tribune's Overseas edition. The paper apparently had been the property of a pilot who had landed on an airstrip near his camp. Vuskov is an electrical specialist and has been in China for 19 months with the air transport command.

Also, on ATC installations, I met Staff Sgt. Louie Kubasak, 10732 S. Perry av., Chicago. Kubasak is a technical inspector attached to the India-China division of the ATC. For this GI, mom's cooking is the most important thing to get back to America for.

More from Chicago Area.

Two other Chicago area men, Pfc Steve J. Kolakowski, Lake Zurich, and Staff Sgt. Gielbert C. Wetzel, 7001 Perry av., Chicago, were at the same base as Kubasak. They had dozens of messages as every one does out here who has the sense of feeling physically so far away from home. "Tell dad to have the football tickets all ready, cause I'm coming home soon," is the usual species of wishful thinking.

Training Chinese troops is one of the all-important jobs for Americans in China. In fact, it is one-third of the job here, for primarily American forces are in China to equip, train, and advise a new, rising striking force, comprised of the best units in the Chinese army. At the Chinese training center in Yunnan province, I met a clerk in the headquarters for whom Chicago has a special meaning. He was Sgt. Bernard Kronewetter, Eau Claire, Wis. He plans to meet his wife, who is now in El Paso, Tex., in Chicago some day soon! Also at the center I met Tech. Sgt. Raymond R. Hough, Raymond, Ill.; Lt. Lawrence K. Gurrie, Hollywood, Ill., and T/4 Melvin H. Isenberg, 4541 Sheridan rd., Chicago.

BIDDLE TO 'GRAB' HAWHAW IF HE'S AMERICAN

Washington, June 26 (AP)—If British courts determine that William Joyce [Lord Haw Haw] is an American citizen, the United States department of justice will "grab him quick," Atty. Gen. Biddle said today.

Biddle said he was convinced Joyce was "either an American Traitor or a British traitor," and that the United States would bring the erstwhile Nazi radio propagandist before an American jury if his claim of citizenship is sustained.

The Watch on the Vine: Cats Guard V Gardens

Jerseyville, Ill., June 26 (AP)—Fred Bosworth's victory garden was being ruined by starlings until he taught the family cat to spend most of its time there. Now neighbors are adopting the scare-cat idea, with some using a leash to keep their cats on the job.

HOLDOUTS YIELD; TRUCK WALKOUT WILL END TODAY

Chicago's truck strike is over.

The 11 day old walkout collapsed last night when more than 3,000 members of the independent Chicago Truck Drivers union, packed elbow to elbow in a hall at 4717 Madison st., voted virtually unanimously to return to work this morning.

Their vote heeded the appeals of their leaders, headed by Edward Fenner, executive director of the union, who advised them that the strike was lost and that nothing was to be gained by continuing it.

Strike Termed a Fiasco

"In order to lead a battle successfully, there has to be a general and a general strategy staff," Fenner told the meeting. "The same thing applies to strikes. If the leaders' hands and speech are tied because of provisions of the war labor disputes act, it takes away leadership, with the result that the strike becomes a fiasco.

"If I knew there was a chance to win, I would certainly remain mute. When I see there is no chance and the cards are stacked against you, I feel that it should be the duty of those charged with leadership to state the facts and urge the men to return to work, and remain at work until the war is won, and then resume the fight."

The more than 3,000 soldiers driving trucks in Chicago and more than 6,000 acting as guards for civilian drivers may have hastened the decision of the strikers. The army aid was requested by Ellis T. Longenecker, federal director of the struck truck lines, when the strike began.

Members of some AFL unions who joined the strike at the beginning drifted back to work after the soldiers began driving trucks. The soldiers, Longenecker said, will remain available until truck operations are completely normal.

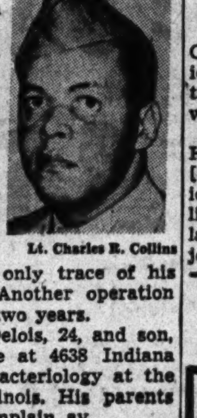
WLB Award Accepted

Steve Slahor, president of the independent union, admonished the members not to sign new employe applications when they return to work. Such action, he said, might rob them of their seniority and deprive them of vacations.

The union also was advised that an effort will be made to sign a contract with employers for only one year, rather than the customary two years. In returning to work, the drivers accepted a $4.08 increase for a 51 hour week, approved last May 1 by the war labor board.

CHICAGOAN SHOT IN PACIFIC WAR GETS NEW FACE

Lt. Charles R. Collins, 30, a Negro cavalryman, whose face was smashed by a sniper's bullet as he fought with the 93d infantry division on Bougainville Island last year, came home with his features almost as good as new yesterday.



Lt. Charles R. Collins

Three operations on his eye and nose have succeeded. A thin scar line is the only trace of his facial injuries. Another operation will be made in two years.

Collins' wife, Delois, 24, and son, Charles, 2, reside at 4638 Indiana av. He studied bacteriology at the University of Illinois. His parents live at 6323 Champlain av.

4 MEAT DEALERS ARRAIGNED ON OPA CHARGES

Four meat market proprietors charged by the office of price administration with possessing counterfeit meat ration stamps were arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday. All pleaded not guilty and were released on their own recognizance pending hearings July 3.

They are Harry Wasiele, 5142 N. Leclaire av., partner in a market at 5100 Winona st.; Leo Crimings, 6637 S. Green st., owner of a sausage company at 6161 Wentworth av.; Stanley Maziarka, 2878 Archer av., and Van J. Marewiez, 8949 Commercial av.

August J. Scalzitti, 29, of 2424 N. Tripp av., was held to the federal grand jury by Commissioner Walker on charges of illegally selling ration checks for 22,000 gallons of gasoline. He was released on $1,500 bond. Michael J. Boyle, assistant United State attorney, accused Scalzitti of forging the name of his father, Pietro, a sewer contractor, on checks against the latter's ration bank account.

SENATE VOTES 39 MILLIONS TO OPERATE OWI

Defeats 2 Attempts to Slash Funds

BY PHILIP DODD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 26—Administration forces in the senate today defeated two attempts to trim the appropriations of the office of war information and finally approved $39,670,215 for the agency during the next year, compared with 18 million dollars allowed by the house.

Consideration of the OWI appropriation, contained in the 771 million dollar war agencies bill, precipitated three hours of debate during which it was suggested there was no OWI service now being performed in Europe that could not be turned over to the American army of occupation.

Sen. Gurney [R., S. D.] led the fight against the 39 million dollar allowance, made by the senate appropriations committee, with an amendment cutting the appropriation to 20 million dollars. This included the 18 millions allowed by the house plus 2 millions for liquidating services the OWI would be forced to discontinue. The amendment was defeated, 46 to 29.

Bridge's Amendment Defeated

An amendment offered by Sen. Bridges [R., N. H.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, limiting the OWI to 35 million dollars, was defeated, 37 to 32.

In the debate on the Gurney amendment, Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] said there were enough trained newspaper, radio, and motion picture men in the army in Europe to tell the story of American intentions there and that the OWI could be disbanded in Europe.

"We've got to start somewhere cutting down on these war agencies," Brooks declared. "Unless we do, we will be faced with the same difficulties that faced our forefathers who complained about the swarms of civil servants sent to them by a king across the sea."

Brooks Unimpressed

Brooks said he was not impressed with the "psychological warfare" conducted by the OWI. He said the agency must face the "ugly fact" that Germany held out in the face of almost total destruction longer than any other nation in history.

Sen. Chandler [D., Ky.] said that in his opinion the OWI "hadn't been worth 10 cents" in Europe and that he did not think the Japanese were going to pay any attention to American propaganda inspired by the OWI.

"If we're going to spend millions to 'export democracy' we can't complain if the Russians spend billions to export communism to this country," Chandler asserted.

May Create Ill Will

Sen. Taft [R., O.] agreed with Chandler and said extensive American propaganda in foreign countries would eventually create ill will toward the United States.

Senators McKellar [D., Tenn.], Hayden [D., Ariz.], and Tydings [D., Md.], asserted that OWI services were needed in Europe to publicize American intentions. McKellar said the army did not want the job.

BUDAPEST RISES SLOWLY FROM WAR'S WRECKAGE

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 20 (AP) [Delayed] — Budapest, her beauty shattered, is slowly emerging from the war's wreckage that left Buda a collection of gaunt, granite skeletons overlooking the Danube and heaps of rubble in Pest on the east side of the river.

Every Budapest resident, no matter what his previous rank or position, must do at least one day's manual labor cleaning up the city. Results are apparent. Rubble is neatly stacked in the streets, and on the Pest side of the Danube there remain few streets where a jeep cannot operate.

There are a number of structures undamaged except for glass broken by the pounding of Russian artillery in the city's 52 day siege, and in some districts on the city's edges life appears almost normal.

There is a shortage of food and fuel. The situation is bad, with the prospect that more than 75 per cent will be cut from this year's harvests. Surpassing even political restiveness under occupation is a great fear as to what next winter may bring.

Squirm Under Red Police

Accounts are doleful on all sides. Hungarians, quick to forget they declared war against the allied nations, are smarting under the heavy restriction and reparations demands being made on them.

Just as the beaten Germans in Bavaria resent the tin hatted American military police who help enforce military government laws, the defeated Hungarians in Budapest squirm at the presence of blue capped Russian military police and green capped NKVD [secret police].

They resent demands for quartering and feeding Red army soldiers serving as occupation troops or streaming thru here in thousands on their journey home.

Hungarians fall back on the plea: "The nazis made us do it and, anyway, we didn't fight very hard."

They look askance at the prospect of dismemberment of their industry, and they are worried over the news that Hungary in the next six years must pay $300,000,000 in reparations, $200,000,000 of it to soviet Russia. The remainder will be divided between Czechoslokakia and Yugoslavia.

Can't Take It Easy

But the people of Budapest are working, and the Hungarian trait for taking it easy is getting short shrift from Russian occupation authorities. These, under Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, dominate the allied control commission, which includes a British detachment under Gen. Edgecombe and an American unit under Maj. Gen. William Key.

In the Russian occupation area British and American units are chiefly advisory in nature. There is no mistaking the fact that Voroshilov runs Hungary. Traffic by air and road in and out of Budapest is carefully watched.

The American force consists of 36 enlisted men, 16 officers in the control commission, and six enlisted men attached to the staff of American Minister H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld.

The American force has the big task of looking for wounded American airmen still being nursed in native hospitals. More than 250 flyers have been repatriated as a result of searches and more than 100 graves have been identified.

Meanwhile, shops are reopening and goods, long in hiding, are making their appearance on shelves. American shaving lotions, toothpaste and shaving cream are available. Other luxury articles generally can be obtained.

Automobiles, furniture, refrigerators, and other belongings which had been buried in the ground—actually whole automobiles were hidden away in that manner—are being unearthed.

CHARGES DELAY IN U. S. PROBE OF LOAN TO ELLIOTT

Senator Says Treasury Is Stalling

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau today told Sen. Willis [R., Ind.] that the treasury department will handle "without discrimination" its investigation of the reported $200,000 Elliott Roosevelt-John Hartford loan transaction. Willis, in turn, accused the department of "not being aggressive" in its probe.

In a letter to the senator, Morgenthau said the bureau of internal revenue is "proceeding diligently" to complete a thoro inquiry in the alleged loan by Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, to the son of the late President. He said its findings will be submitted to congress thru the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee in accordance with an agreement made by their chairmen, Sen. George [D., Ga.] and Rep. Doughton [D., N. C.].

Delay Charged

Willis said Morgenthau's letter "supports the suspicion that the treasury department is not being aggressive" in investigating the loan which Hartford said was finally settled by a $4,000 repayment.

Willis, who had asked Morgenthau for certain details, described the reply as "very unsatisfactory from the standpoint of answering specifically the questions asked which were of such a character as would not come within the limitations of secrecy."

Asked About Hannegan

One question that could have been answered, Willis told a reporter, concerned the connection of Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic National committee with the bureau of internal revenue at the time Hartford's 1942 tax return was filed.

"It's merely a matter of record that Hannegan was collector of internal revenue at the time," Willis said. "In the same way no limitations of the treasury would prevent the secretary from replying as to whether Elliott Roosevelt received other such loans from prominent men."

In his letter Morgenthau said he was not authorized to disclose information from income tax returns except to the senate finance committee, which in turn could impart it to the senate.

In New York Brig. Gen. Roosevelt said tonight he had "no comment whatsoever" to make on the matter.

DISABLED AID GROUP STARTS SEAL CAMPAIGN

The second annual Independence day seal sale was started last night in headquarters of the Disabled Persons association, 39 S. State st.

The seals, at $1 a sheet, will be sold to raise funds for enlarging the D. P. A. disabled veterans' unit which specializes in job placement. The organization, now eight years old, has a membership of 800 in the Chicago area. All are disabled. They strive to help each other by association. The D. P. A. placement service has put 1,600 disabled persons to work since the war started.

The outstanding job placement of the last year, said Louis Sabella, secretary of the association, was finding a place as a dictaphone operator for a blind girl. Harvey C. Church is president.

Widowed by Duel

Mrs. Rose Friedman, widow of slain detective, at inquest with Police Sgt. Francis Pape, who witnessed gun duel. [TRIBUNE Photo]

Edwin Ervin and Mrs. Lois Gregerson, companions of Lyman Stanton Heiman when he was slain in a gun battle with Chicago police Monday night after he shot to death Detective Morris Friedman, will be questioned by police from Detroit, Mich.; Dayton, O., and Indianapolis, Ind., and released to the city that has the strongest case against them.

Chief of Detectives Walter Storms announced last night the pair, who have confessed to four robberies in Indianapolis, one in Dayton, and two in Detroit, will not be charged with Friedman's murder because they technically were in Sgt. Francis Papes' custody at the moment Friedman was shot.

Indianapolis police decided not to bring Heiman's wife, Patricia, to Chicago. She is under arrest there in a grocery robbery in Indianapolis on June 16. Ervin and Mrs. Gregerson had been sought in this robbery in which Heiman also was implicated.

JAIL PUBLISHER OF COMIC BOOKS FOR PAPER USE

New York, June 26 (AP)—Federal Judge Grover M. Moscowitz today sentenced Lindsey L. Baird of Floral Park, N. Y., president of Rewl Publications, Inc., to 60 days imprisonment and fined him and the corporation $20,000 each for using news print to publish comic books without a war production board quota.

Baird was convicted June 18 on a six count criminal information charging violation of the second war powers act in that he used 300 tons of news print without a quota.

Assistant United States Atty. Frederick J. Waters told the court Baird had flouted WPB newsprint restrictions in contrast to newspapers which, he said, had adhered to their quotas under difficulties.

MOVE TO ASSIST 969 REFUGEES TO CITIZENSHIP

House Body Seeks Way to Cancel FDR Order

BY CHARLES GOTTHART

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Oswego, N. Y., June 26—Speedy governmental efforts to arrange American citizenship for 969 European refugees who for 10 months have been sheltered by the United States at nearby Fort Ontario was announced today by Rep. Dickstein [D., N. Y.], chairman of the house immigration committee at the conclusion of a two day hearing here.

Yesterday's parade of school children who told of their appreciation of being in America, even tho confined to the camp and to this small upstate city, was followed today by reports from their school teachers on their excellent scholastic work, and by stories by their parents of totalitarian brutality in the European countries from which they fled.

Oswego civic leaders added their testimony on the harmonious relations that have existed between the refugees and the local populace.

Agreed to Return Home

Dickstein, reflecting the opinion of five of the six man subcommittee that investigated conditions at the shelter, said he would push thru action in Washington to cancel an agreement under which the group was brought to this country by order of the late President Roosevelt—that they would be returned to Italy at the end of the war.

He said he would press for action under which their entry could be legalized by the department of justice, which administers immigration laws, or, if necessary, appeal directly to President Truman to amend the order of his Presidential predecessor.

Dickstein's course was approved by all of the congressional group except Rep. Fish [D., Tex.], who advocated settlement of the refugees' problem without evasion of established immigration laws.

Thirst for Knowledge

Ralph Waldo Swetman, president of a state teachers' college, and Charles E. Riley, superintendent of Oswego schools, preceded a dozen school teachers who told of the 160 refugee students' thirst for knowledge of the country in which they hope to spend the rest of their lives.

Many of the refugees were on the verge of migrating to this country and becoming citizens under the usual immigration procedure, but were prevented by wartime transportation difficulties. The majority of the congressional sub-committee favored an arrangement under which they would be permitted to remain in the United States and counted as part of the succeeding immigration quotas.

JOHNSON O. K.S BILL TO ASSIST BIBLE CLASSES

Superintendent of Schools Johnson voiced approval yesterday of a bill passed Monday by the Illinois house to excuse school pupils from classes one hour a week to attend religious education courses.

The plan proposed in the bill has been in effect in Chicago for 15 years. It has had a wholesome and helpful effect on pupils, Johnson said. Church groups which operate the religious education courses report the attendance to school principals.

Rep. Clabaugh [R., Champaign], sponsor of the bill, said it would prevent prosecution of parents under the truancy act for allowing their children to miss school for religious instruction classes. Johnson pointed out, however, that in Chicago, pupils attend religious classes on a voluntary basis and the school board could control any prosecution under the truancy act.

APPEALS COURT REJECTS WARD'S MOTION ON WLB

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday, in an order supplementary to its action Monday in staying its mandate in the Montgomery Ward & Co. case, denied that portion of the company's motion which would, in effect, have restrained the secretary of war from complying with directives of the war labor board.

Judge Will M. Sparks, who dissented from the court's original opinion overruling a finding by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan holding the government's seizure of Ward's properties unconstitutional, dissented to yesterday's order, which was signed by Judges Evan A. Evans and Otto Kerner.

Army officials at the Ward plant here said the army already has placed in effect some wage increases ordered by the WLB and some checkoffs of dues. They were unable to say what the immediate effect of the court's order may be.

VOLPE IS DENIED WRIT IN FIGHT TO STAY IN AMERICA

New York, June 26 [Special]—Anthony [Mops] Volpe, Chicago hoodlum and gangster, today lost another round in his long fight to avoid deportation when Federal Judge John Bright dismissed his petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Bright ruled Volpe had not exhausted the administrative remedies at his disposal.

Gasparre Cusumano, counsel for Volpe, said after the hearing that he will file papers tomorrow with the board of immigration appeals in Washington in an effort to stay Volpe's deportation. Volpe meanwhile is in a detention cell at Ellis Island.

Volpe has been in custody since May 25 when he was arrested at his home in Chicago on a deportation warrant issued by the government in 1932. In the interim he became a "man without a country" as both Argentina, the land of his birth, and Italy where he was naturalized, refused to accept him. Italy, however, has now agreed to take him. Volpe has been in this country since he was 15 years old.

The basis of the government's deportation action against the former Capone mobster, is the fact that he claimed to be a naturalized citizen when he reëntered this country after a three day trip to Cuba in 1928.

GAMBLING OPERATOR FINED

Hugh Rowland, 38, of 1439 N. Dearborn st., was fined $5 and $10 costs yesterday by Judge Harry P. Beam in South State st. court on a charge of keeping a gambling place at 866 N. State st.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FOUNDED JUNE 10, 1847

16 ★★★ WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1945

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER MAY 14, 1903, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1879.

All unsolicited articles, manuscripts, letters, and pictures sent to The Tribune are sent at the owner's risk, and The Tribune company expressly repudiates any liability or responsibility for their safe custody or return.

THE CHARTER

The San Francisco Charter, altho a fraud, is probably for the most part an innocuous one. We qualify the judgment because of doubt that any fraud can be harmless and also because we know that the primary purpose of many advocates of the treaty, here and abroad, was to place the wealth and power of the United States at the service of other nations. Some of these nations are being greatly expanded by the victories won and to be won in this war; our membership in the new league is intended to guarantee the new possessions in perpetuity.

Americans after reading the charter inevitably ask themselves whether it will prevent wars. That is what it is supposed to do, but it won't. Today there are two great military powers in the world, America and Russia, and one secondary military power, Britain. Under the charter any of these nations can, with impunity, start all the wars it may care to fight. That is to say the only wars which are at all likely to menace the world's peace are beyond the powers of the new league of nations to deal with. Actually, the charter will give legal sanction, thru the device of the veto, to wars of conquest. If this document had been in force in either 1914 or 1939, it would not have averted the conflagrations. It would not even have prevented the little wars in the Balkans, for each of the little European powers has its great protector possessed of the veto. Likewise the charter would be useless as a defense of such a people as the Boers against a predatory great power.

The charter is definitely obnoxious in its requirement that the United States make annual reports to the league on the condition of the natives of Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. This can be the first step toward the internationalizing of areas of the greatest strategic importance to the United States. Certainly the provision is an assertion of some right of other countries to be consulted about these territories of ours.

As for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, this newspaper has advocated independence, subject only to the retention of essential military bases. We believe that before long independence will be granted on these terms, just as it was to Cuba and the Philippines, to the satisfaction of all concerned. America's only interest here lies in protecting the approaches to the Panama canal and in keeping the islands out of the hands of potential enemies.

The people of Hawaii and Alaska do not want independence and would not take it if it were offered to them. We bought Alaska, then thought to be an arctic waste, from Russia to keep it from Britain. Alaska now has a population of about 75,000, not enough to warrant statehood; but it has been governed under the liberal system employed by this country in such matters ever since the Northwest Territory was created in 1787.

As for Hawaii, it came into American possession at the request of the natives themselves half a century ago after nearly a hundred years of protection under the Monroe Doctrine. Tho our government is to be obliged to report to the new league on conditions in Hawaii, Russia is not obliged to report on the Baltic states which it took and holds by force, and England is not obliged to report on India. In the eyes of the new league we hold Hawaii by permission while Russia holds Estonia and England India by right.

As ours is the richest nation in the world, Americans will examine the treaty to see whether it encourages a ganging up of the nations against us for the profits to be derived from conquering us. If the charter offers us no protection on this score, neither does it seem to take much away beyond what has already been noted. It affords no way to prevent envious nations, if they will, from forming a new Holy Alliance directed against us; but, for what it may be worth, we can veto military action against the United States, and presumably we can veto any attack against our Latin American neighbors.

The collateral question, whether we can veto military action against an American colony of a European power if the colony should declare its independence remains to be answered.

At any rate, if we have peace for a time, it will not be because of the operation of the clumsy and self-defeating international mechanism outlined in the charter but rather because none of the great nations chooses to start a war.

It might have been much worse. If the colonial-minded Americans had had their way the charter would have authorized the nations to combine against us to rob us and reduce us to servitude. We can be grateful that the conspiracy of these unbelievable people against their own country has been defeated.

HITLER'S CONQUEST

From recent remarks of Mr. Justice Jackson, it appears that the trial of the Nazis charged with war crimes will begin before long. The principles that should govern these proceedings were outlined admirably a few weeks ago by President Hutchins of the University of Chicago in his commencement address. We venture the forecast that his was the only graduation oration of 1945 that is going to be read in years to come.

Here are some of his points, most of them stated in his own language:

The characteristic of criminals is that they are individuals, not nations or races. They should be punished for what they individually did.

What they did to deserve punishment must have been illegal at the time it was done.

It must be shown that the act was one which a patriotic American would not have committed if he had been a patriotic German.

There must be a fair trial and adherence to the principle that every man is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty.

No man is a good judge in his own cause.

We should hesitate to punish Germans for acts which we have committed or may commit. Are we prepared to stand trial ourselves for violation of treaties and attacks on undefended places? Are we ready to say that in the face of the tommy-guns of the S. S. we would have remained true to our ideals of democracy? Is the standard we intend to impose on the Germans the standard of heroes and saints or that of the ordinary man who thruout the world thinks first of the lives of his family and second about his principles?

It took courage to say these things. It took even greater courage and moral insight as well, to speak, as Mr. Hutchins did, of "the conquest of the United States by Hitler."

He pointed to the moral confusion which leads us "to call Japanese soldiers fanatics when they die rather than surrender, whereas American soldiers who do the same thing are heroes. We prove that all Germans are murderers and all Japanese apes, and at the same time insist that we are going to have one world in which all men are brothers. We say we are going to reëducate the Germans, and adopt a policy of nonfraternization. We hate slavery and propose forced labor. We want Europe rebuilt but will have no heavy industry in Germany. We want order in Europe but not if we have to sacrifice to prevent starvation. We are against dictatorship but the dictatorship of the proletariat is an exception. And the new day dawns by the light of the burning homes of Tokyo and Yokohama."

More than 40 years ago another member of the University of Chicago faculty, William Vaughn Moody, wrote a poem which he called "An Ode in Time of Hesitation." We had won the war against Spain for the liberation of her colonies. Were we going to betray the ideals for which our men died in that war by refusing independence to those who had been promised it? Perhaps Moody's poem helped the country eventually to reach the right decisions. He could not have known that in 1945 Filipino guerrillas would take the port of Aparri for MacArthur.

Those who will favor decent conduct if there are any dividends in it, may reflect that the dividends are often slow in coming but may be none the less substantial for that fact.

MANY COMPLAINTS, NOT MUCH ACTION

Somebody unfamiliar with Washington during the last 12 years would be mystified if he read the Congressional Record for the first time. The debates reported and the statements inserted in the appendix are full of grousing and complaining. Yet, every time a vote is taken to extend the existence or powers of the particular agencies which are the subject of the complaint, the majority required is forthcoming.

Here, for example, on page A-3154 of the Record, is the complaint of a woman storekeeper in Michigan about the treatment she received when hailed before the OPA price panel. The charge was that Old Dutch Cleanser was priced by the store at 11 cents, whereas the OPA ceiling price was 9 cents. Out of all the items offered for sale by the store, this was the only one OPA found which did not conform with the provisions of its thousands of ukases.

The woman storekeeper was kept waiting for 55 minutes before being granted a hearing. She was then ordered to fill out a "violation admission" on threat of OPA "to send the case in to Detroit for action." With that threat of punitive action, she signed the OPA confession. When she returned to her store, she found out that no cleanser had been sold at the above-ceiling price. OPA, however, has her in the toils. It could fine her or suspend her from business.

With this example of how the agency treats good Americans like criminals, even tho they have contemplated no willful violation of the rules and have, in fact, committed none, the house a few days later extended the life of OPA one year. Such restrictions as were placed on its actions are meaningless. Most of them will be invoked, if at all, by the secretary of agriculture, who, like the rest of the administration and the OPA burocracy, is a faithful New Dealer.

The discussion on every appropriations bill shows not only a tremendous extravagance on the part of the departments and bureaus, but that the burocrats have an almost unlimited power of discretion in determining how the money allotted them by congress is to be spent. The office of strategic service, for example, is permitted to spend 21 million dollars on activities it says are so "confidential" that it dare not tell anybody what it is up to. This is the organization of uniformed malingerers and super-sleuths whose director, since promoted to major general, had his briefcase full of confidential documents pilfered from him by a bush league spy in the Balkans.

Complaints about the war labor board, the national labor relations board, the lend-lease administration, and dozens of other agencies abound in the debates on the floor, but when it comes to the moment of action the loyal New Deal majority votes the money and authority with a whoop and a holler. Frequently, some alleged Republicans, most of them from the east, are to be found voting with them.

The people are getting a little weary of those in and out of congress who are continually protesting, but won't use their votes to do anything about it. They remind us of querulous old women. The question arises: Why doesn't somebody ever do something about it?

Once exclusive, a society of Cleveland vegetarians has disbanded for the duration, as there seemed no way to keep the meatless rabble out.—The Detroit News.

In consideration of the seriousness of the meat shortage, the title should, it is believed, be changed to "One-Half Meat Ball."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CROSSES IN THE SKY

We find in the thin trickle of information from the Russian zone of Hitler's collapsed empire an item which suggests that St. Stephen's cathedral in Vienna still stands, altho its interior has been damaged by fire. This great church, soaring above all other landmarks, has been a symbol of Vienna for centuries, and in many Viennese songs it is mentioned by its nickname, Alter Steffel.

* * *

St. Stephen's Gothic spire is classed among the finest in Europe; it is also among the tallest, with a height of 450 feet. The skyward reach of its cross is surpassed by the twin spires of the Cologne cathedral, which measure 512 feet from street level. The champion of Europe is the minster of Ulm, in Württemberg, undamaged as far as we know, whose cross is lifted 528 feet. In each case, these lofty structures are towers with flèches to architects, but we prefer the popular speech and call them spires.

* * *

The Ulm minster, built as a Roman Catholic cathedral but now in Protestant use, has often been called the highest ecclesiastical structure in the world. To prove such claims, however, one must amplify the description by adding "entirely devoted to ecclesiastical purposes." The spire on the Chicago Temple building carries a cross 568 feet above its site at Washington and Clark sts., and is therefore the highest in the world. The fact that 19 of the building's 22 stories are in secular use might cause the referees of church-measuring arguments to declare it not eligible for competition.

* * *

Chicago's tallest church spire may be St. Michael's, at Cleveland av. and Eugenie st.; at any rate, it is the most conspicuous edifice on the skyline of the north side. St. Alphonsus, at the Wellington-Southport-Lincoln av. intersection, easily glimpsed from an elevated train, is a close rival. The average Chicagoan, however, is blissfully ignorant of the names of all such embellishments of his horizons.

WHERE I SHALL BUILD

I want a house upon a hill
Beneath a friendly sky,
Where I can see across the world
Each lovely thing pass by.

I want a star that I can touch
At night, if I should try,
And I'd salute each passing cloud
As it goes sailing by.

And so I think I'll build my house
Upon a hill up high,
With these to keep me company—

The Duke Gets a Dog

Linemaster: Boy, did she get me told, "but good." Not only am I a brainless nincompoop but I'm advised that I'm always doin' tha wrong thing at tha right time or tha right thing at tha wrong time. Tha trouble is all on a/c I brung home a gorjuss Dalmatian pup.

Being raised back of tha yards, she aint never seen one of these Gold Coast hounds before an she thinks tha black an white spots on him is some kind of disease. She even asks if tha pooch is supposed to be a black dog with white spots or visa-versus. Just then tha purp goes over an licks tha Mama's hand an then things kind of looked better for my investment an I get told, okay we will keep him but if he ain't housebroken he's gonna get neck-broken.

Tha kids love him and are gonna give a prize to tha kid in tha nayborhood who suggests tha best name fer him. Already there's entries like Spot [this must of took brains], an then there's Butch, Prince, Duke Jr., and one 4 yr. old kid suggests that on a/c we live on Hazel st. tha hound shood be called Hazel, an when I tries to explain that he ain't a lady dog tha brat stumps me fer an answer to "Why ain't he?"

Three times I tell our little Mary that tha dog is a Dalmatian an yesterday her Sunday school teacher calls up and wants us to watch our Mary 'cause she told tha class that we have got a "damnation dog." Some wise guy mails me a postal without signing his name. What do you suppose he suggests? Duke Bakrak

P. S. Yea! "Duke's Mixture."

PLAYING POSSUM

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

The possum isn't quite as wise
As many authors advertise;
When danger threatens, you recall,
He promptly curls up in a ball;
And you've heard lots of rhetoric
About this wise and wily trick.
But truth will out, it's not restraint;
He's simply frightened to a faint,
And often while he's playing dead
He finds he really is, instead!
So if you can't avoid a fray
You'd better fight—or run away.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

M. E. H. writes: "My fiance is stationed aboard a navy transport operating out of California but has not been overseas. He asked about going overseas, and his officers made some reference to his age. Is there a chance for him to be discharged on points? Will men over 30 be sent overseas for combat duty?"

The navy department has not adopted a point system for release of enlisted men and officers but is reported to be considering a system similar to that used by the army. It also is reported that the navy's point system for release of men will not be announced until after the defeat of Japan. Navy men over 30 may be sent overseas for combat duty and they may not apply for discharge until after they have reached their 42d birthday.

F. T. asks: "Can my husband, who is 35, qualify for any education under the GI bill?"

Yes. Every one who has served for 90 days or more, or who has been discharged in less than 90 days for a disability incurred in line of duty, and who has been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, is entitled to at least one year of education or training or a refresher or retraining course in an approved education institution. Neither age nor previous schooling have any bearing on this benefit. Persons under 25 whose education was impeded, interrupted, or delayed may obtain up to four years of education.

REDUCING THYROID ACTIVITY WITH DRUGS

NOW and then, for no apparent reason, the thyroid gland goes on a rampage. An excessive amount of its juices is produced, causing a marked increase in metabolism. Our furnace literally gets hotter and, even tho the food intake is augmented, the body continues to crave extra fuel. Tissues are burned up so fast that weight is lost.

If this situation is allowed to persist, the sufferer becomes progressively more irritable and nervous. The hands tremble, the heart beat is rapid, and palpitation is present. Eye changes are common. Some develop a penetrating stare, and in others the eyeballs actually protrude. The thyroid may or may not enlarge and occasionally it remains hidden beneath the breastbone.

It is obvious that the activity of the gland must be reduced. Removal of part of the disturbing structure has been our most successful plan. But many patients are in no condition to undergo the ordeal when first seen. Furthermore, they cannot stand the sudden shock of being deprived of the hormone. In consequence, treatment begins with quieting down the victim. This includes bed rest, sedatives, and a diet high in calories. The disorder is related to a deficiency in iodine, and this medication is administered in the hope that metabolism will be lowered. As a rule, this takes about 10 days, and when a safe level is reached the operation is performed. From that point on, in most instances, recovery is dramatic.

If iodine is so beneficial, why not give it routinely for life? This is not the answer because its effects are too fleeting. In other words, symptoms return eventually. Hence the search for an improved remedy continues. In 1942 an old drug, thiouracil, was revived and since then has been studied intensively. Initially it was used when the individual failed to respond to iodine. A more prolonged action and the ability to keep down metabolism for a long period are its greatest assets.

Scientists decided to see if it would replace surgery. Early results were somewhat discouraging, because the dosage was difficult to adjust and a certain number of serious reactions occurred.

More recently, Williams and Clute reported their observations on 152 patients who received the compound. In 59, it was employed as a preparation for surgery and found to be as effective as iodine. The majority of the remainder were not operated on. They have apparently been cured on thiouracil alone. Whether the disease will return when the medicine is stopped or in spite of it, time will tell.

Because some persons cannot take the drug without exhibiting untoward complications, it should be prescribed only by skilled physicians who will be alert to any evidence of toxic manifestations.

ACTIVE STRUCTURE

W. M. writes: What is meant by spasmodic contractions of the diaphragm?

REPLY

This organ is made up of muscles which are capable of contracting, like any other muscular structure. It is unique in that when it does, hiccups result.

REACTION

W. R. writes: What is serum sickness?

REPLY

In some sensitive individuals, the injection of a foreign protein such as horse serum will result in peculiar reactions. This is referred to as "anaphylaxis."

The Encyclopedia Britannica is probably the only survey of knowledge in the world that has almost as many editors as it has topics. That is because any one who writes an article for it is given the title of editor. Many of these editors are distinguished scholars, scientists, historians, and men of letters whose words remain in the E. B. long after their deaths, as with the poet Swinburne's scintillating article on William Congreve, the English dramatist [given as an example merely because volume 6, Coleb to Damasci, fell open at that page].

None of these many editors sign their names. They are indicated by initials, as J. S. H., for Julian Huxley, whose article on the courtship of animals is high literature, or E. B., for Ernest Barker, the English historian, who makes the Crusades live again. An index gives the initials a name.

Well, we just want to pass on the word that the E. B. has a new editor in its forthcoming [next January] edition. His initials are S. By., a gentleman identified in the index as Sherman Billingsley, owner and managing director of the Stork club, New York. S. By. is listed as author of the work on night clubs.

This is the first intellectual recognition given either Mr. S. By. or night clubs by the encyclopedia. Just where they fit in the realm of higher knowledge is hard to say, but how they got there is easy. This happened when the sales manager of the E. B. took Mr. Walter Yust, editor in chief of knowledge, to the Stork club for dinner some months ago.

Now, the Stork club is a gaudy little hole in the wall with [in 1942] an imitation blue and white satin ceiling, a white velvet rope to keep the parvenus out, high prices, and a clientele of persons who want to see and be seen. In the days of prohibition it was a thriving speakeasy known simply as The Stork, possibly because its liquor appeared as mysteriously as babies.

Mr. Yust sat and marveled as the glasses tinkled and the checks mounted and the people with full pocketbooks battered their way in. "Here," he mused, "is a great industry we have never touched in the E. B.—the night club industry." With that he then [or later] summoned Billingsley, a gentleman with the ruddy face of an English country squire, the false humility of a Uriah Heep, and an astonishing background. Would Mr. By. care to write a 6,000 word history of night clubs for the E. B.? Mr. By., whose literary efforts heretofore had been confined to the dollar sign, was happy to do so.

The result now is out in the encyclopedia's 1945 Book of the Year, in which the events of 1944 are summed up. It fills eight columns, as opposed to five and a half columns for war production, five columns for war medicine, two columns for what happened to Fascism last year, three columns for physics, and one column for intoxication, alcoholic. This wordage will be condensed a bit when transferred to the E. B. proper.

The only news Mr. By.'s treatise contains is the statement that the average night club check in 1944 was $3, but it is enlightening in that it shows how beautifully Mr. By. can assume the cloak of modest, scientific detachment expected of the E. B.'s editors. This is shown in the fact that in the entire eight columns of text he only mentions the Stork club eight times. Four specific examples will demonstrate his technique:

"Typical of these were the Stork . . ." "In New York the smart clubs included the Stork club . . ." "The Stork club, leader of the smart night clubs after prohibition, characterized as the 'world's most famous night club,' was favored by famous people . . ." "His [Walter Winchell's] approval of a club made that club notable. His particular coigne [a nice word, Mr. By.!] of vantage was a regal spot in a corner of the Stork club . . ."

The article is illustrated by one picture. It shows a party at—guess what night club? In the picture [standing, center] is the club's owner, Mr. S. By. Brother, that is nice work when you can get it. And at the standard scholar's rate of 2 cents a word, too.

PLAY BY PLAY WITH OPA

Chicago, June 19—It is one of the miracles of the ages to see how efficient a bunch of women who never knew what the word "business" meant before, their past most likely spent being dutiful housewives and rearing children, can now sit down and discuss, in detail, your business, whether it be a million or 10 million dollar business. They can give you all the answers you have been seeking over a period of 20 or 30 years, and actually tell you how it should be run.

Every one who approaches them with his problems is treated exactly the same—all as dumb clucks. When you start talking about your business troubles brought on by OPA regulations, they look at you as tho you were talking about something far removed from this world. It is, as far as they are concerned, and when you have exhausted your vocabulary and patience, they politely say, "We will have to refer that to the central office." So those statistical wizards think back to the days when they were earning their 35 to 40 bucks a week, look you over, and decide whether you have a right to even breathe in their presence.

After you go thru the whole thing again, they assume that puffed-up air of importance and advise you they will give it due consideration and notify you in a few days, which generally means three or four weeks. Just about the time you are raving maniac, you get their answer that, according to order 2194-W14, issued Jan. 49, 1943, supplemented by executive order 6216-972, issued Dec. 36, 1943, rescinded by regulation 4-976418 as of March 42, 1944, your plea is rejected because summer is coming on and the kid can go barefoot—he won't need any shoes.

THE INFLATED ARMY

Fort Sheridan, Ill., June 20—I see that the war department doesn't feel that it can release the over 38 group because it would hurt the war. Good old war department; good old WPA. And when I say that one is like the other, I am not trying to be funny. The combined motto of both organizations is "use two men for one job [unless you can use three] and hide the men left over so that the inspector general won't find them."

Did congress ever think of checking up on our army's subsections, where captains want to make major, colonels want to make general, and so surround themselves with lots and lots of unnecessary help—just to look important?

A READY-MADE MACHINE

Chehalis, Wash., June 15—Now that our friend Winston Churchill is seeking reëlection, why not round up the PAC, including Sidney Hillman, its fuehrer, and send them to England on lend-lease with the understanding that we do not want them back any more than we expect any of our hard earned American dollars to return? After all, they and "Winnie" were rooting for the same side in what we thought was an election exclusively American last November. They should understand one another. I am sure most of the PACsters would feel more at home on European soil, with its class hatred and general lawlessness. So let's give Winnie a hand and pack the PAC over to him.

URUGUAYAN BEEF ON OKINAWA

Chicago, June 23—My nephew, with a field hospital unit on Okinawa, writes: "We've been doing very little work lately, but the first few weeks were really rugged—18 and 20 hours a day, most of it at night. We have one big gripe and that's the food. All the stuff we eat comes in cans except bread. What's packed in the states is very good, but all the beef I've seen out here so far is packed in Uruguay, South America, and, believe me, it's lousy. Where the hell is all our American beef going to?

"The rest of our equipment, etc., is superb. We have all we need and then some, including plenty of blood for transfusions. The Red Cross is certainly doing a wonderful job. Tell them we all said thanks! All our efforts in surgery wouldn't amount to much if it weren't for the blood that these boys so urgently need."

THE TRUCKERS' SIDE

Chicago, June 21—If Pvt. George G. Dickson, who wrote to the Voice of the People regarding the truck drivers, fully understood why they are striking, I am sure he and every other American citizen would agree the drivers have a legitimate reason for not working. The WLB and ODT held a strike vote, allowing only a few drivers to vote. These few drivers must have backfired, because they voted to strike. Now these same boards call it illegal.

General President Daniel J. Tobin of the I. B. T. drivers spoke before the WLB June 5. He stated that the teamsters' union was the only union in America, as far as he knew, that was compelled by an order of a government tribunal to work 51 hours before they received time and one-half for overtime.

The rate the drivers are getting now is $42 weekly for 51 hours. After tax and deductions are taken out, they do not have enough properly to support a family with the high cost of living.

No. The long established fence would settle the boundary on the facts stated.

MATTOON OPENS PUBLIC CANTEEN TO FEED HUNGRY

Restaurants Promise to Open by Friday

Mattoon, Ill., June 26 [Special]—Members of the Eastern Star will serve all comers tomorrow and Thursday at a community canteen in the Masonic temple as the city's answer to the restaurant shutdown under way since yesterday.

This plan was announced by Mayor George W. Smith after spokesman for the restaurant owners agreed at a conference with office of price administration officials from Springfield to reopen their places for business Friday at 8 p. m. The restaurant men said they could not open before Friday because they needed time to reassemble help.

Meat on Menu

The community canteen will have meat on the menu, an item whose absence from the bills of fare in local eating places was a principal cause of the shutdown. The meat will come from two beef carcasses shipped from Chicago today to John W. Russell, chairman of the local war price and rationing board, who said he will turn them over to the canteen.

Between 200 and 300 persons are expected to eat at each meal time in the canteen in the next two days.

Except for candy bars, cookies, popcorn, and milk shakes, several hundred persons who regularly eat in restaurants have gone without meals in the last two days.

Two Places Open

Two downtown restaurants that were closed yesterday opened today and did a rushing business. There are from 500 to 700 transient workers employed on construction jobs and oil development who depend on restaurants for their food.

Peter J. Sutter, a restaurant proprietor, and La Verne Knowles, operator of a cafeteria, represented the restaurant owners at today's conference with OPA officials. They said they agreed to a Friday reopening on the strength of OPA assurances that something will be done about the meat situation.

Consider Slaughter Plea

OPA officials are reported to have agreed to consider a request for a larger slaughtering quota for Russell Zellers, local packing house operator, whose establishment had been shut down for the last month but which reopened today with a limited stock of meat for the restaurant trade.

Efforts also are being made to reopen the Harrisburg Packing plant, the OPA said. This is a local slaughtering concern that has been closed since late in 1942 when it announced it could not stay in business under OPA ceilings.

1,000 MARKETS CLOSE

Houston, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Nearly 1,000 meat markets were closed today, the second day of a shutdown protest against over ceiling wholesale prices and tie-in sales, Pat S. Stone, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association, said.

Reports of the association showed that 90 per cent of all independent retail meat dealers in the city had closed shop. Chain stores have announced they will keep their markets open.

Stone explained that objectives of the closing are to break what he called a black market in Houston; to eliminate tie-in sales demanded by meat wholesalers, and to assure fair distribution of meat.

The OPA has indicated that investigation of all meat deals is pending.

HEN THIEVES USE GAS

Detroit, Mich., June 26 (AP)—Accompanying the current meat shortage in this southeastern Michigan area have been reports of increasing activity by cattle and chicken thieves.

Sheriff Irvin Kennedy of Livingston county said three men approached Unadilla township farmers about buying chickens, then returned at night and stole 365 chickens from three farms.

Undersheriff Clifford Fritz of Oakland county said chicken thieves were using chloroform or gas to prevent the chickens from awakening the farmers.

State police reported a farmer near Milan frightened thieves away only to find 150 chickens dead of gas.

OPA MEN ORDERED OUT

Poplar Bluff, Mo., June 26 (AP)—Two OPA investigators were ordered out of a public food locker today by Health Officer Claude Murray until such time as they obtain health certificates.

The investigators, armed with written authority from their superior, William Bryan, district OPA official in St. Louis, Mo., went to the locker and had opened three or four drawers when Murray learned of it.

"I found the men unwrapping meat, handling it, and weighing it," Murray said.

"I told them there was a state as well as city law which provides persons handling food and drinks have a health card. They got hard with me and I had to threaten to have them locked up if they did not observe the health laws."

The investigators abandoned their check of the food locker and said they would contact Bryan as to their future course.

BEEKEEPER SET FREE IN SPITE OF ERRANT SWARMS

Helge Johnson, 41, Joliet beekeeper who was ordered to move his 400,000 bees outside the city limits, was released in Police court there without being stung for a fine. The magistrate said that Johnson had complied with the court order and was not liable to the penalty of $1 to $10 which could have been imposed for each bee loose on his property.

In the meantime, bees which flew away when he attempted to move their hive were reported to have turned up in various locations in Joliet and at 4964 Berteau av. here.

"I wouldn't care even if the bees turned up next door," Johnson said disgustedly. "I wouldn't go after them."

DEFEAT BILLS TO LIFT HOUSING TAX EXEMPTION

House Votes 95-30 for Rejection

BY GEORGE TAGGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 26—The Armstrong bills to repeal laws granting tax exemption to public housing projects went down to defeat in the house late tonight. The vote of 30 for and 95 against was 47 short of passage. Even so, it was considered significant that the bills made greater progress than in three previous sessions.

Arrayed against the bills were Gov. Green, Mayor Kelly, and a host of pressure groups including the CIO and AFL.

Rep. Armstrong [R., Chicago] waved a pamphlet from the Communist Political association branding his bills as "dangerous."

No Danger for Americans

"If there's danger in the bills for the Communists, there can be no danger for Republicans, Democrats, and good Americans," Armstrong said.

He asserted that opponents spread confusion by talking of slum clearance and tax-exempt public housing as the same thing. Most of the public housing projects have not touched slums, he pointed out from official records.

Democrats and Republicans alike warned that tax exempt housing for some citizens at the expense of others is a plain step down the road to socialism.

Says Both in Same Bed

"We stand half day down the road to socialism now," Rep. Monroe [D., Collinsville] said. "I don't know when Gov. Green and the Communist Political assocation got into the same bed, but they're there."

Monroe wound up by saying we have gone too far to draw back, and voted against the bills.

Rep. Searle [R., Rock Island] said: "I'm ashamed of the 60th general assembly, that noisy, spending, reckless outfit. I want to compliment Rep. Armstrong for the courage and Americanism to present these bills and get them to a roll call. Some members are not worth even $1 a year."

Down Road to Socialism

"The young man from Indiana who is our governor and talks for free enterprise leads the Republicans and Democrats down the road to socialism, and there is only one party now," Searles said. "We are following that road just as surely as did Germany and Russia."

Rep. Edwards [D., Danville] criticized the legislature for its "spending spree" which will run up to 750 million dollars when the session ends Saturday. He complained of the unfairness of taxing a man on one side of the street and not his publicly housed neighbor on the other side.

"Let's represent the taxpayers for once in this session," he pleaded.

Votes as Protest

A regular labor spokesman, Rep. Keller [R., Waukegan] pointed to his voting record, but explained he was voting for the Armstrong bills as "a protest against future tax exemption unfair to 3 million Illinois families."

Opponents dwelt on the acknowledged fact that if tax exemption is halted, the federal government will take possession of properties built with federal tax money and nominally leased to local housing authorities. Thus no taxes would be received, they said.

But the bills were doomed from the start. Part of the Kelly-Green setup calls for a public housing program with a state appropriation of 10 million dollars, leading up to an initial 100 million dollars in city owned projects.

Representatives Edwards and Bolger of McHenry were the only downstate Democrats to vote for the bills. Rep. McCabe, who sponsored similar bills in previous sessions for Assessor John Clark, and Rep. Marzullo were the only Cook county Democrats recorded for the measures.

Cook county Republicans voting for the bills were Representatives Armstrong, Arrington, Finucane, Sandquist, Tilton, Virkus, and Zientek. All other favorable votes were from downstate Republicans.

TRIBUNE EMPLOYE RETURNS AFTER 32 MONTHS IN PACIFIC

Harry H. Wise Jr.

Harry H. Wise Jr., 26, an employe of the classified advertising department of THE TRIBUNE on military leave, was at home with his parents in the Windermere hotel yesterday on a vacation before his return to civilian work. He enlisted in the army air forces Dec. 24, 1941.

Wise, who rose to captain, was released from the army as of June 22 on the point system, having accumulated about 100 points after 32 months in the Pacific and approximately 900 hours of combat flying. He was co-pilot of a B-17 and for the last 18 months served as pilot of a four engine transport plane.

He holds the air medal with cluster, the distinguished flying cross, and four battle stars. Of the last he says he doesn't know which battles—he knows where they were, but he's "not sure what the government named them."

OPA CUTS PRICE OF ORANGE AND BLENDED JUICES

Reductions in ceiling prices for the 1944-'45 pack of orange juice and part of the blended orange-grapefruit juice pack will become effective next Monday, the office of price administration announced yesterday in Washington, D. C. Grapefruit price ceilings, however, will remain unchanged.

Orange juice and blended orange and grapefruit juice packed in Texas, California, or Arizona will cost 1 to 2 cents less at retail for a 20 ounce can. Florida packed orange juice will drop about a half cent.

Increased supplies of hothouse tomatoes sent the ceiling price down 7 cents to 41 cents a pound in the OPA's weekly fresh fruit and vegetable price list. Other decreases, effective tomorrow, were: Sweet cherries, down 1 cent to 42 cents; field grown cucumbers, down 2 cents to 9½ cents a pound; iceberg lettuce, down 1 cent to 15 cents a head; sweet peppers, down 1 cent to 19½ cents a pound, and repacked tomatoes, down 3 cents to 22 cents a pound.

Increases included strawberries, up 1 cent to 57 cents a quart; spinach, up 2½ cents to 11 cents a pound; lemons, up 1 cent to 14 cents a pound; white onions, up 4 cents to 34 cents for three pounds; yellow and red onions, up 2 cents to 33 cents for three pounds; green and wax beans, up 2½ cents to 21½ cents a pound, and white potatoes, up 1 cent to 30 cents for five pounds.

Early harvest apples, at 12 cents a pound; cantaloupe, at 10½ cents a pound, and plums, at 20½ cents a pound, were added to the list for the first time this season.

Frank Diamond's Brother Delays Citizenship Case

Federal Judge John P. Barnes yesterday set aside an order he issued on Monday denying citizenship to John Maritote of 7244 Prairie av., a movie operator, on the ground that he was not of good moral character. Maritote's brother is Frank [Legs] Diamond, Chicago gangster, and his wife, Nafalda, is a sister of the Capone brothers. Maritote told Judge Barnes that he had failed to come to court on Monday by mistake, thinking that the hearing was set for yesterday. Judge Barnes then set aside his order and ordered a hearing for Sept. 24.

GREEN'S FORCES FIGHT FOR VOTES FOR BUTLER BILL

Kelly's Supporters Back 100% Assessment

Springfield, Ill., June 27 [Wednesday]—[Special]—In a riotous house session Gov. Green's forces early today were fighting for enough downstate Republican support to enact the Butler bills for a state-wide tax assessment system based on full valuation of property. Mayor Kelly's votes were in the bag for the bills.

As the final roll call began on the crucial bill of the final week of the 60th general assembly Republicans of Cook county also were voting support. Downstate Republicans and Democrats were split.

After midnight, Mark Saunders, Green's legislative contact man, told reporters the key bill would be passed shortly. He said it would get 80 votes, including those of three members rounded up in hotels, one of them in bed. Seventy-seven votes were required to concur in senate passage of the measure.

The state administration won every preliminary test. Proposed amendments to the second most important of 114 bills in the series were beaten down, except for one.

"Ceiling" Reduction Provided

The key bill provides the state revenue department shall raise the assessment basis to 100 per cent of valuation in every county. In Cook county the present so-called 100 per cent basis is figured at 73 per cent, according to revenue department formula.

A secondary bill advanced to passage stage tonight provides for reduction of tax rate ceilings by 50 per cent during a five year "transition" period for local governments to readjust to the conditions enforced by the key bill.

Under this bill local tax units could, by referendum, decrease or increase the new tax rate ceiling by 5 per cent. An amendment changed it from 10 per cent.

As Kelly-Green forces continued to win the hard fought battle, Rep. Searle [R., Rock Island] threatened to tell later this week the "real causes behind this bill—who and why." He and Rep. Lee [R., Chicago] placed all of the blame on Gov. Green and certain advisers.

"Downstate taxpayers will be left holding the sack," Rep. Branson [R., Centralia] said. "You may put it over, but they won't like it and they won't forget it. I feel sorry for you Chicago fellows; you have to vote as you're told."

Major Units Here Unaffected

The tax rate ceiling bill does not apply to major governmental units in Cook county, altho it does apply to suburban units there.

Bills to provide for rate ceilings for the big Cook county unit were belatedly introduced last night in the senate.

Douglas Sutherland of the Civic Federation favors these bills, having warned against possible runaway taxes and an incomplete Butler program. Park district pegged tax levies are set up in one bill, 11 million dollars for 1946 and 11½ million dollars for 1947. The 1945 peg is 10½ millions. Tax rates of the Chicago board of education and the Cook county board are cut by 50 per cent in two other bills.

Rep. Lee [R., Chicago] told the house today that unless safeguards are provided the board of education tax ceiling could rise from 78 to 107 million dollars. The board has a pegged levy of 53 millions, but under Cook county Assessor Clark's so-called 100 per cent assessment basis it could otherwise levy 78 millions.

TEAR BOMBS FLY AGAIN AS UNION BARS WAR WORK

Elkhart, Ind., June 26 [Special]—Police used tear gas for the second straight day to break up a picket line before the plant of the Northern Indiana Brass company, and one of the pickets caught a gas bomb baseball fashion and tossed it thru a window of a police car.

With tears streaming from their eyes, police arrested this picket, Paul Jones of Elkhart, and booked him on a charge of assault and battery and damage to police property. He was released later on $1,000 cash bail for a hearing Thursday in City court.

In spite of police protection to workers at the plant entrance, fewer workers entered the plant than did so yesterday, when President Ross Martin reopened it after a shutdown which began June 2.

The company is engaged in manufacturing submarine fittings and valves for B-29s.

Campbell Soup Workers Demonstrate in Protest

Three hundred employes of the Campbell Soup plant, 2550 W. 35th st., members of local 194, Food, Tobacco, and Agricultural Workers union [CIO], demonstrated in front of the plant yesterday in protest against what they described as company indifference to grievance procedure. Company officials declined comment.

Expect Hayne Will Keep Seat in Legislature

Springfield, Ill., June 26 [Special]—House leaders today said they didn't expect further action in an election contest filed against Rep. Hayne [D., Ottawa] by Vincent Dimond [D., Ottawa]. A roll call was interrupted last night when Hayne was ahead, despite opposition from Chicago Democrats. Hayne in the official count, won over Dimond by one vote, but a house subcommittee found that Dimond should be declared winner by 10½ votes. If no further action is taken, Hayne will retain his seat.

SILENCE KILLS PENSION FOR KELLY, COUNCIL

BY ROBERT HOWARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 26—Downstate senators gave the silent treatment to Chicago aldermen today, thereby killing a legislative bill under which Mayor Kelly and his councilmen could retire on pensions.

Rural Republicans privately said they favored the retirement of Kelly and his aldermen, but figured that pensioning would be futile if they would just be replaced by other Democrats. The vote was 19 to 2 for the bill, but it needed 26 for passage and was declared dead by Lt. Gov. Cross.

Unlike other Chicago legislation, the pension bill wasn't part of the Kelly-Green bipartisan program. Sen. Dick [R., Quincy] arose during debate to quote a state employed actuary that the pension plan for aldermen and other Chicago elective officials was financially unsound.

Duplicate of Another Bill

Sen. Libonati [D., Chicago] reported that the bill was a duplicate of another bill, actuarially approved, under which old hands in the legislature will be able to take pensions provided that Gov. Green doesn't interfere by a veto.

The only negative votes were cast by Senators Collins [R., De Kalb] and Thompson [R., Galesburg]. Exactly 26 other downstate Republicans sat silent. Republicans voting for pensions were Bidwill [River Forest], Giffin [Springfield], Knox [Chicago], and Trager [Peoria]. No Democrats voted against pensions.

The senate meanwhile held up confirmation of the governor's reappointment of Theopulus C. Ponting of Champaign as assistant director of conservation and of George A. Fox of Sycamore as superintendent of livestock industry. Other reappointments submitted last week were confirmed.

Asks About Derby Trip

Chairman Carpentier [R., East Moline] of the senate legislative committee said directors Osborne of conservation and Leonard of agriculture would be asked to answer questions at a meeting tomorrow. Sen. Flagg [R., Moro] inquired whether a car licensed by the conservation department had been driven to the Kentucky Derby. A complaint against Fox was that he didn't have a degree as a veterinarian.

A willingness to vote for almost any appropriation bill was still evident in legislative halls as the Saturday night deadline for sine die adjournment grew closer. Voting 30 to 12, the senate sent to the house a $400,000 item which would be spent by the state superintendent of public instruction in supervising junior colleges. It was sponsored by Senators Peters [R., St. Joseph] and Van Hooser [R., Metropolis].

Smartest Shops Putting Accent on King Cotton

BY REA SEEGER

When one of Chicago's smartest shops for women goes cotton conscious it's something for the fashion book to note. Cottons for town, country, the office, for play clothes, and for the youngsters, in sizes from 10 to 42, provide the fashion theme for this week and the warm days to come. You'll find everything, beginning with gingham and ending with cotton eyelet embroidery. In between are seersuckers, chambrays, and cotton sheers.

The collection of cottons designed for town wear includes outstanding examples of smooth teamwork of design and material. The suits are prim, sleek, and Washable with a capital W—a boon for the shoppers who appreciate that spic and span, perfect grooming such cottons assure. The gay, vivid plaids and checks are spotlighted for fashion glory; ready for the most wilting heat in town or for wear on the way in. Smart stripes also add sharp contrast of high color with cooling white in these town outfits.

Very dramatic play clothes designed by top flight designers are of cotton. Those universal favorites of short jacket teamed with sun back dress are still going out like mad. So are the slim one piece dresses that can, in an emergency, double for a simply cut dress for a hurried trip to town.

There are super cotton blouses, swim suits, cotton dresses for the debutante, and strictly gala occasion party or dance dresses also of this great American washable fabric. Even the youngsters are remembered, as the children's cottons are bright, gay, and washable just like those for the grownups.

Children Do Not Like to Be Baby Dolls

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

The little girl looked for all the world like the dolls my mother used to dress for me, often sewing until late on Christmas eve to make them beautiful.

This real-live-walking-and-talking doll, all curls and silk clad, was a picture; and her mother beamed [but tried not to] with pride, as passers-by turned to look and smile admiringly. "You could," I thought to myself, "easily be the young stepmother whose letter I found in my mail." It read like this:

"My new little daughter is so difficult for me to handle. She won't let me do things for her. I want to dress her and give her her bath and keep her lovely hair washed and brushed and curled over my finger. But she pulls away. She is most independent and wants to do things herself. She always did with her grandma and she wants to keep on. What shall I do?"

Let her, of course. She doesn't want to be your little doll. And while I understand your yearning to do things for her, to lavish your time and attention on her, she can't understand it and doesn't want it. It is better for her to be self-reliant, and it is something you will be glad of later on when you want her to stand on her own feet.

As a rule, an only child is used to having too much done for her, and we must lead her to do things for herself. This young mother is fortunate in not having this trouble to hurdle.

What, then, shall she do? She must express her desire to "do" for her little step-daughter in another way. She must study her with as much care as she studies the personality and interests of her husband. For she has not had the opportunity to gain her knowledge of the child day by day for years as a mother has who has borne her child. She must listen with real interest to her conversation, and share her successes in play, and let her help about the house. There's scarcely anything that brings people of any age closer than doing things together. And scarcely anything that is more certain to produce responsiveness in a child.

I must add that it is not only stepmothers who make the mistake of the writer of this letter. Some "born" mothers treat their girl babies and little children more as dolls than as human beings, with the result that when they get old enough to resist this the parents are puzzled or even resentful of the evidence of will and personality. As their children approach their fourth or fifth or sixth birthday this change often causes real friction.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 26—When the bases are loaded, Barbara Stanwyck never fails to knock one over the fence. This time she has scored a home run with "Cry Wolf," Marjorie Carleton's story which she'll make at Warners. . . . Now I've heard everything! "Faithful in My Fashion," which Metro is whipping up for the cameras, has a department store for a background. The headache comes with the cinemoguls trying to find five top actors who can look and act like floorwalkers—and carry romance too, 'cause we can't do without that. Freddie Zinneman, who scored a hit with "Seventh Cross," will be on this job. . . . Looks as if we'd lose Kay Francis to Broadway next fall. She's got her eye on a play and plans to take off end of summer.

Hark, Hark! It's Clark

Little Betty Hensel sure is getting around. She has progressed from Cary Grant to Clark Gable. She plans to visit his set this week—hope she makes it. . . . Maria Montez wants to keep the record straight this time. She's not going to have a baby, she says, rumor mongers to the contrary. . . . Popular demand caused Leo McCarey to add two extra songs to "Bells of St. Mary's" for Bing Crosby. That Bing's just gotta sing, or the audience feels gypped—and I don't blame 'em. Leo tells me he wired Sherman Billingsley that the "Stork Club" picture looks okay and that Bill Goodwin, who plays Sherman on the screen, has turned in a top performance. I asked Leo whether he had Ingrid Bergman for another picture. He said, "Sh-h-h-h-h, Hedda, not so loud! Some one might hear."

Maria Montez

Ingrid Bergman

Just a Sentimental Journey

Leopold Stokowski, preparing for his Hollywood bowl season, planned to repeat the programs he and Nina Koshetz gave 21 years ago in Philadelphia, New York, and elsewhere. Nina, as the greatest interpreter of Rimsky-Korsakow, Rachmaninoff, and Tschaikowsky in the world, once had the great Rachmaninoff for an accompanist. She sings with the same superb art today, but declined Stokowski's offer. However, she persuaded him to hear her daughter, Marina, sing the same program. That audition was a success. Marina and Stokowski will do the same program with which he and Nina made musical history in 1924. Marina is doing all right in movies, too—has a neat little contract at Metro with a first assignment opposite Van Johnson in "No Leave, No Love."

The Line Forms to the Right

When Susan Hayward ran an ad trying to find a nurse for her twins, she got not one single nibble. But friends kept her telephone hot asking for the overflow rejects from the ad. Sounds as if the small economy habit had hit our town. . . . When I ran into one of Louis Bromfield's neighbors from Ohio recently, she said all work stopped during Humphrey Bogart and Baby Bacall's visit. "We all hung onto our open telephones, hoping Lauren would come on the wire and we'd hear that devastating low moan in person," she said. . . . Ruth Ford, who played one of the Wilson girls in the film "Wilson," bought the late Julian Eltinge's wardrobe when it was auctioned not long ago. The other night she attended Kurt Kreuger's party dressed in one of Eltinge's frocks with heavy ribbed silk stockings and high laced shoes.

Fine Not with Danny

The reason Danny Kaye and Sam Goldwyn aren't one happy little family unit is that Sylvia Fine hasn't been in the picture with Danny. . . . The Lt. Ralph Greens [she was Grace McDonald] expect their baby in January. She's retired from the screen and lives at Santa Barbara. . . . Hear Warner Brothers, who resigned from the Hays organization, may join with the independents for the services of Donald Nelson. . . . Since Bella Spewack gave her blood to Mary Martin when Mary was so ill, wags are saying Mary now has two touches of Venus' genius. . . . Greer Garson never does anything in a small way. Hear she's got $2,000 worth of termite trouble at her Pebble Beach home.

Movie of Love in War Time Light and Gay

"THOSE ENDEARING YOUNG CHARMS"

By Mae Tinée

Another brisk tale of love at first sight in war time. It's about a dashing flying officer and a department store clerk, but for most of the footage the love is entirely by the party of the second part—party of the first part just having fun for himself and wanting a little affection before he heads for Chungking.

Mr. Young, as the love 'em and leave 'em lad, gets trapped in a web of his own weaving, and it serves him right, too. Rich, good looking, and spoiled, he's about two steps above a cad, but as Hank his technique is excellent and he knows how to win over any female, even to a doubting and dilly mama, who's exceedingly cool about him as a prospective son-in-law.

Ann Harding plays said mater, and if she didn't blow hot and then cold so often, a number of complications would be missing. First she discourages, then encourages her daughter Helen, until I don't know how the poor girl ever did make up her mind. Laraine Day, certainly one of the most attractive girls on the screen today, is the lassie who's alternately freezing and melting.

Young Bill Williams plays the nice lad from the old home town who's been in love with Helen since they were both knee high, and he's as likable and frolicsome as a puppy. Glenn Vernon also does a nice bit as a lonely sailor who's looking for some friendship in teeming New York.

Mr. Young is smooth as silk, even if sometimes a little irritating, in his role; the lines are completely natural and sometimes very funny, and the tempo is light and gay thruout.

If it's light romantic comedy you want, "Those Endearing Young Charms" should fill the bill nicely.

Lively Spy Movie

"BETRAYAL FROM THE EAST"

Produced by RKO-Radio, directed by William Berke, featuring Lee Tracy, Nancy Kelly, Richard Loo, Abner Biberman, Regis Toomey, Philip Ahn, Addison Richards, Bruce Edwards, Hugh Hoo, Sen Young, Roland Verna, Louis Jean Heydt, and Jason Robards. Also presented at the Palace.

"Betrayal from the East" is a sharp contrast to the love's-eye view of war—it's a harsh spy story, with plenty of punch and suspense, altho there's a dash of the tender passion tossed in for good measure.

A somber pair of messages preceding and following the story warn that the incidents related are based on truth and should be a lesson on preparedness to all of us. The film was adapted from the book of the same name by Allan Hynd, said to be a factual account of Japanese espionage activities.

Lee Tracy is a welcome sight on the screen again, and he contributes plenty to the film's effectiveness with his easy manner and engaging grin. He's a pretty busy boy as Eddie Carter, an ex-soldier of the easy come, easy go school of finances. Fresh out of money, he's not averse to a generous loan from an old Japanese friend, until he learns that in return he's to contact an old army pal in order to swipe plans for our defense of the Panama canal, whereupon he tells the whole tale to army intelligence.

He learns the army already has a couple of eagle eyes on him and his slant-eyed acquaintances and is warned that his little mission probably will have a most unpleasant ending. From that point on, he's the storm center of American, Jap, and German spies and counter-spies, and it's a long if not a merry chase. Nancy Kelly plays an American agent—a very pretty and quick witted one, at that.

The plot is neatly pieced together, and, in view of some of the things we know to be true of Japanese behavior, I suppose many of the details are not as fantastic as they might have seemed in pre-Pearl Harbor days. In fairness to loyal Japanese-Americans, the film shows one who is as fanatically faithful to this country as the others are to the mikado.

As spy stories go, it's not bad, even if they don't spare the meller-drama, and there's a crash-bang fight at the end, with judo, haymakers, swords, revolvers, and even a bathroom cabinet as ingredients.

Colleges Here Have 13,000 in Summer School

With new courses, a variety of special lecture series and conferences, and a registration in excess of 13,000, colleges and universities of the Chicago area are disproving the old idea that the summer months constitute a period of rest from academic activity.

De Paul university is offering 143 courses in liberal arts and commerce besides a full law schedule and other educational opportunities during the summer. Nearly 3,000 students, including 140 veterans of the present war, are expected to take up their studies when the summer session opens today. Some of the veterans now registered include those who have received their discharges on service points, a spokesman for the university said, whereas up to recently veteran students usually were men who had received medical discharges.

Among the new courses De Paul is offering is one in methods of teaching in nurse training schools. It is sponsored by the United States public health service as a means of increasing the number of qualified nurses.

The University of Chicago, with a summer registration of about 3,600, is scheduling 19 special lecture series, workshops, and conferences in addition to its regular courses.

Among the special subjects to be covered are modern trends in Islam, philosophies of history, and human relations in industry. Several phases of teaching are to receive close study in university education workshops and conferences this summer. The summer quarter opened yesterday.

Loyola university reported 1,237 persons registered for summer work, as against a previous estimate of 1,100. The summer session opened Monday.

Central Y. M. C. A. college has 900 taking the summer courses which started June 20. About 25 veterans are among them.

Northwestern university opened its summer session yesterday with 4,069 students registered. The university's various departments are offering 376 courses in 58 fields of study. There are to be a number of special lectures and conferences. In addition to the 4,069 there are another 1,078 students at Northwestern whose regular courses in law, medicine, dentistry, and technology continue into the summer.

Inquiring Camera Girl

By Maryon Zylstra

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Bette Gamash, 816 Edward st., Waukegan.]

THE QUESTION

WHERE ASKED

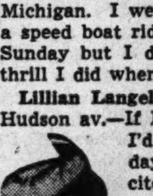
THE ANSWERS

Mrs. Harry Hafter, housewife, 4811 N. Harding av.—Assuming it's winter I'd go ice skating on the Milwaukee river and play crack the whip with the boys. Then I'd go sliding with the gang I used to know. I'd like to belly flop on a sled going down the steep hill on 2d st. past the Schlitz brewery in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Joseph Kelley, housewife, 6611 Maryland av.—I was always very active in sports when I was younger but I've lost my enthusiasm for them. I'd like to go roller skating and speed boating on Lake Michigan. I went for a speed boat ride last Sunday but I didn't get the same thrill I did when I was younger.



Lillian Langeloh, housewife, 1631 Hudson av.—If I were 16 for a day I'd want to fill that day with all the excitement I could. I'd go out to Riverview park and ride on the roller coasters and all the high rides that make you dizzy. I've never done it, even when I was younger, but I think that I've missed something.

Mrs. E. Ponicke, county employe, 1906 Wisconsin av., Berwyn—It's been 53 years since I was in school. How I'd love to get dressed in a skirt and sweater and sit with the rest of the students while a patient teacher tried to make us learn something. I didn't realize when I was in school how carefree I was.

Marie Quinlan, saleslady, 2131 S. 11th av., Maywood—Most of the day would be spent preparing for the evening. I'd want to put on a fresh, dainty little party dress and go dancing. I'd dance 'til I could hardly hold my head up. Then I'd fall into bed knowing that I didn't have to get up in the morning and go to work.

Household Sale in Lake Forest to Aid Hospital

BY JUDITH CASS

WESTMORELAND, the home at 870 W. Deerpath rd., Lake Forest, which the late Mrs. Albert B. Dick left to the Lake Forest hospital upon her death last September, will become a mart for bargain hunters Saturday and Sunday, when the hospital's board will offer the contents of the house in a two day sale. The directors have decided to have a sale instead of an auction, and so the contents, including antique furniture, decorative screens, and oriental rugs, have been carefully appraised and priced in preparation for the 10 a. m. opening Saturday.

Mrs. Dick's interest in the hospital is carried on by her son, Mr. Dick Jr., who heads the board of directors, and his wife, one of the most ardent workers in the hospital's volunteer nurses' aid corps. Mrs. Warner Dennehy serves as assistant to the president, and some of the others on the board are William B. McIlvaine, Laurance H. Armour, Jay N. Whipple, Mrs. Lester Armour, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. John P. Kellogg, and Mrs. Ralph H. Poole, who is chairman of the woman's board. The house will be put on the market after its contents have been sold.

Engagement News

In New York City today the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Ehrman Scherer are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Pamela, to the Rev. Chalmers Coe, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Albert Buckner Coe of Oak Park. Miss Scherer was graduated this month from Pine Manor Junior college. Her fiancé was a member of the class of 1943 at Yale university and also was graduated from the university's divinity school. He now is connected with the Congregational church at East Hampton, Conn. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Dr. Coe, who is minister of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, and his wife will go east shortly to spend the summer in their Meredith, N. H., home. Dr. Scherer is pastor of the Holy Trinity church in New York.

Wedding News

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mrs. Barnes' sister, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, and Mr. and Mrs. Fairbank Jr. went east for the marriage last Saturday of the Barnes' son, Dr. Benjamin Ayer Barnes, and Miss Henrietta Mary Nichols. The ceremony took place in St. John's Episcopal church in Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, with a reception following in the Cold Spring Harbor home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols of New York.

Mr. Barnes was his son's best man. The bride's matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Walter H. Page, and their sister-in-law, Mrs. Nichols Jr., was among the bridesmaids. Dr. Barnes, a grandson of Mrs. John de Koven, will take his bride to live in Boston, Mass., where he serves as assistant resident at Massachusetts General hospital.

The mails from Italy, which are arriving more regularly since V-E day, have brought William Buckingham Gray and Ralph B. Gray the news that their sister, the former Ina Buckingham Gray Cook, and Marchese Eugenio Salottolo were married nearly two years ago in Milan and that they hope to come to Chicago in September. The wedding took place Oct. 14, 1943, in the Evangelical Protestant church in Milan, and since then the Salottolos have been living in Rome. The former Mrs. Cook, whose first husband was Harold G. Cook of Chicago, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Houser Gray of Chicago. The marchese, who received his doctor of law degree from Milan university and was a cavalry officer in the last war, served as president of the Bank of Rome until he was forced to resign because of his anti-fascist views.

The letters also contained news of

We, Too, Are People

The better writing series issued by the social security board says, "Believe it or not, we, too, are people, even tho we often don't seem so when we write. . . . put a pencil in our hand or a stenographer at our side, and a mysterious change takes place . . . flesh turns to stone and blood to ice water."

Instead of writing, "Employment in manufacturing and government recorded increases, while there were declines in trade and domestic services"—

How much better to say, "More people were employed in manufacturing and government and fewer in trade and domestic service."

Instead of, "The check is returned so that pay for Nov. 2 may be deducted"—

Why not write simply, "We are returning the check so that you may deduct pay for Nov. 2."

Instead of treating people "as mere appendages to abstract ideas" and composing a sentence such as, "General assistance or relief accounted for nearly all the remaining recipients of public aid"—

Why not write, "Nearly all the other people getting public aid were receiving general assistance or relief."

"Let's write the way we talk—let's be human," suggests the social security board in this interesting series which could be adopted so well by business organizations.

Wildberg Plans "The Hump" and "Anna Lucasta" for Civic; Other Producers Come to Town

Remember the talk last spring about bringing the New York cast of "Anna Lucasta" to the Civic theater and putting a substitute troupe on the Mansfield stage, where the Negro play is almost a year old? It looks like a fact now, for John Wildberg, the producer, was in town yesterday to complete arrangements. He has taken a year's lease with options on the little jewel box of a theater where "The Glass Menagerie" glowed, and the original company of "Anna Lucasta" is due there the night of Sept. 24.

Meanwhile, Mr. Wildberg would like to anticipate that hoped for long run by trying out something new the night of Aug. 30, a date dear to his heart because it launched "Anna Lucasta" in New York. If all goes well he will start his producing activities here with a new play called "The Hump," by Lieutenants Richard Woodworth and Howard Marshall, who flew that dangerous route for three years. Harry Wagstaff Gribble will be coproducer and director, and the cast will be made up of ex-service men.

Other Visitors

Lawrence Langner of the Theater guild and his wife, Armina Marshall, were in town yesterday, too, on their way to a California vacation. They will keep their eyes open for another John Raitt, now in "Carousel." They brought him back from California a year ago, and when he tried out for the Chicago "Oklahoma," Richard Rodgers muttered "Liliom." That was the spark that set off "Carousel." Oscar Serlin dropped in the other day to look at "Life With Father," and sent back some amiable notes on the performance, which is one of the ways he has kept the comedy fresh all these years. Joseph Hayman is due to launch Beverly Chambers in "Dear Ruth" Monday night, and Alfred de Liagre Jr. arrives tomorrow to rehearse Vivian Vance for "The Voice of the Turtle." Miss Vance won't know until he arrives if she can wear the hat her heart is set on. It is a conversation piece of pink mousseline and green satin, and the opposition fears its entrance on the Selwyn stage would stop the play dead in its tracks.

Squabble

Wherever there's a hit, there's a squabble. The New York papers carried a recent complaint by Alex Yokel that he is not getting his 10 per cent of the profits on "The Glass Menagerie," promised him, he says, by Eddie Dowling and Louis J. Singer, the producers. Dowling says he was giving Yokel 5 per cent because he thought he had brought him Singer's financial backing, which Singer tells him is not true. Dowling also says Yokel has bombarded him with lawyer's letters every time he tried to do anything with his play and even objected to his, Dowling's, raise in pay at the start of the new season. "My lawyers," he adds, "advise me to pay him nothing."

Notes

. John J. Reynolds of Winnetka is playing the middle son in "Life With Father," now that Warren Briggs has gone to the navy. . . . Altho interesting rumor has had Helen Traubel learning the role of Strauss' Marschallin, it will be Lotte Lehmann who sings three California performances in the fall and probably one or two at the Metropolitan. . . . Add Lionel Hampton and his band to the entertainers at the sixth annual American Negro Music festival at Comiskey park July 20. . . . Queried in New York about a local report on Wallace Ford for Chicago "Harvey," Brock Pemberton, producer of the comedy, replies that Ford isn't even on his list of possible "Harveys."

'The Wicked Mrs. Steel'

By Roy Vickers

(Copyright: 1945: By Roy Vickers)

SYNOPSIS: Gillian Beynon comes to Tenstable as companion to Mrs. Steel, widow of the wealthy Mr. Steel. By the terms of his will she must leave her vast wealth to ONE of his relatives, otherwise the estate passes in trust to the township of Tenstable. Mr. Hanshew, manager of the Steel factory, warns Gillian against accepting the position. Gillian is surprised to learn her father was Andrew Steel's second cousin. Tho Gillian is angered that Mrs. Steel's preferences are adhered to when she selects an outfit, Mrs. Steel succeeds in placating her. A cross-current is again definitely felt by Gillian. She thinks of the man who warned her to leave. Mrs. Steel has designs on Ralph Hanshew but recognizes immediately the attraction between Ralph and Gillian. When Ruth, the housekeeper, finds Mrs. Steel has killed another canary, knowing it is because Gillian has crossed her path, she urges Gillian not to stay. Cunningly, Mrs. Steel makes plans to break up the romance. To her birthday party come Agnes Steel and Valerie Weston, nieces, Lyle and Dennis Weston, nephews, Simon Steel and his wife, and Benjamin Steel. Gillian is horrified at their hatred for each other which increases when Steel informs them a heart condition may cause her sudden death.

INSTALMENT IX.

ELIGIBLE

Mrs. Steel asked the question with such earnestness that Gillian sincerely believed that an answer was required of her. She knew what to say and in all sincerity said it.

"If you leave your money to one of them it will make all the others envious. Therefore, it would surely be better not to leave it to any one of them."

There was a collective gasp of astonishment and then:

"Meaning that it should be left to yourself, Miss Beynon?" asked Agnes Steel.

Gillian turned angrily.

"Isn't that rather offensive, as well as silly?" she demanded. "I understand that only the relative of Andrew Steel . . ."

"Maybe she's forgotten she's a relative herself," sniggered Dennis, "and eligible under the will."

"Quite correct—quite correct!" said Simon. "Tollerman himself says she's eligible."

"I am sorry, Gillian," said Mrs. Steel. "I ought to have told you."

Gillian was standing in the middle of the big room, dazed, her cheeks burning.

"Then I've said something awful and made a fool of myself," she cried.

"It won't matter!" A shrill laugh broke from Valerie Weston. "Can't you all see that Aunt Margaret has decided! We can all start hating Gillian."

It seemed to Gillian that it took hours to reach the door. Valerie's words echoed in her brain. What if they were indeed true? The Steel millions might one day be hers.

With the thought came the humiliating knowledge that she had sunk to the level of those others she despised. There came to her, too, the numbing certainty that never again would she be able to put it wholly from her mind.

She flung the door open and banged it behind her. In the hall, she was aware of Ruth. Across her path was Ralph Hanshew, who seized both her hands in his.

"Don't tell me—I heard some of it thru the drawing room window. Let me take you away from here, darling. At once. I'll fish your luggage out afterwards." As she did not answer, he pressed:

"What about it, Gillian?"

Gillian tried to answer. To be whisked away from the sordid atmosphere of "the family!"

Her hands tingled while he held them, as if they were picking up the urgency of his plea.

"I shall get over it, Ralph!" She smiled her gratitude.

"But why try—it isn't worth the effort."

But she had made up her mind. "I can't walk out on my job," she said. "Mrs. Steel needs me."

Across the hall Ruth looked at them with something between contempt and pity, then went back to the kitchen.

"I feel better already," added Gillian. "The family were a bit too much for me just now."

"You know best. But when you find this place is getting you down, walk straight out of the house and come to me. I have a married cousin only a few miles away—I could wake her up in the middle of the night if necessary."

"I'll remember, Ralph—it'll make it easier. You'll have to go in now, won't you?"

"Yes. And so will you." As she hesitated he added: "Cut it out here and now—or get the better of it, dearest."

"Get the better of it," she answered briskly. She opened the door of the drawing room. "Here's Mr. Hanshew," she announced.

Like a magic wand her announcement restored the social decencies.

"This is a delightful surprise." Mrs. Steel was once again a gracious hostess. "I was afraid you would not be able to tear yourself away from your work."

"On behalf of your factory and myself, Mrs. Steel, I wish you many happy returns of the day."

"If there are any returns. Gillian is going to see that they're happy. Thank everybody and yourself!" gushed Mrs. Steel. "Gillian will give you some tea. I'll be with you again presently. I want a word with Simon."

She led Simon into the anteroom opening off the drawing room. Simon, she knew, believed that he was too old to have any expectation from her. She spent three minutes talking genially before coming to her purpose—which was the revival of hope in the greedy heart of Simon Steel.

"Simon—Dr. Pasley meant what he said. No, don't tell me how sorry you are—I want to know one thing. If I were to make the will in your favor, would you pledge me your word of honor that you would make provision for all the surviving relatives?"

"You need hardly have asked that question, Margaret. But as you have asked—I give you my word of honor that I would faithfully carry out any wishes you might care to express to me, since you cannot make any conditions yourself. But at your age you must not think about dying . . ."

"Thank you, Simon. To be candid, I have already taken it for granted that you would give that answer." She opened a drawer in the Victorian escritoire and took out a document. "I want you to see this."

Simon Steel opened the document—a single glance had revealed its nature. ". . . wherefore I give and bequeath everything of which I die possessed to Simon Steel . . ."

"Margaret!" With trembling hands Simon refolded the will and returned it.

Mrs. Steel was smiling.

"Remember, Simon!" The quality of the smile changed. "I can always tear that up. But I don't think you will give me occasion to do so. Naturally you will not breathe a word of this conversation to the others. And now I'd better see Valerie and tell her she was very naughty to make that scene."

The girl came in defiantly, anxious to justify her outburst, but Mrs. Steel gave her no chance.

"Come in, dear, and shut the door," she invited. "It's ages since we had a chat—I want to hear all your news."

"It'll be much the same as last time, Aunt Margaret." Valerie was on her guard. "I'm still 'in the silks.' And I go to the technical college three evenings a week."

"Splendid! You deserve to get on and you will. But what about yourself, dear? You don't spend all your life thinking about work. If young men are what they used to be, you must have a queue of admirers."

"I'm not interested in men outside business."

"Really? Aren't you at all interested in—Charles Ludlow?"

College Club Luncheon

The Chicago College club will have a buffet luncheon at 12:30 p. m. today, with members of the house committee as hostesses.

Thru the Looking Glass

The war brides who live out of bandboxes while their husbands are in camp or on the battle fronts aren't the only ones who'll be particularly appreciative of frilly, fancy sachets. All trousseau minded girls or those whirling about in the enchanting business of assembling linens and laces for their first home will like them just as much. But the sachets, if they're nice enough, solve the small gift problem for shoppers who want some dainty present for the bride who can't use household things because she can't be having a house in these turbulent times.

We want to recommend to these shoppers some brand new ones. Maybe we're unduly prejudiced in their favor, but these are in the hard to find and what we think delectable scent of heliotrope, and if we could arrange things this is a sachet we ourselves would use with profligate liberality. THERE is a beautiful fragrance.

You can find the sachet in powder, in a charming little pink plastic jar. But for your bridal shower shopping we particularly recommend the pillows, specially processed so that their scent lasts for ages. They're also pretty to look at—the heliotrope ones in a pastel blue, with delicate sprays of the heliotrope blossom printed in the fabric in soft, true colors. You can get a set of five—one largish pillow and four tiny ones, with little tabs on each of the smaller ones so they can be slipped over hangers. Or you can get a set of three plump pillows in graduated sizes. The workmanship is excellent, the final effect extremely dainty. And the scent, because it's a true heliotrope, which is unusual, is something sensational.

These same sachets are in other fragrances, all feminine and beguiling if helitrope doesn't appeal to you. We don't see how that could be, tho!

Ad Club Gives Snapp Award to N. Y. Woman

The Women's Advertising club of Chicago yesterday made the annual presentation of its Josephine Snapp award to Harriet E. Raymond of New York. Miss Raymond, assistant advertising manager in charge of plastics and chemicals with the Celanese Corporation of America, won in nation-wide competition. She received the award, a silver trophy honoring the memory of a former president of the Chicago association, at a luncheon given in the Continental hotel and attended by some 600 men and women engaged in advertising and publishing.

This year's winner of the Snapp award, ninth to receive the trophy, is a member of the Advertising Women of New York and director in charge of that organization's educational program. Hers was judged to have been the most important contribution of a woman to advertising within the year.

Designated for honor awards were Lt. Lea A. Burke of the SPARS, 9th naval district administrative assistant in Cleveland, O.; Betty Green, fashion editor of Parents' magazine and writer for Calling All Girls magazine; Mary Tucker, promotion director of Charm magazine, and Mary Child Husted, director of the home service department of General Mills.

Guest speakers at the luncheon were one of the heroes of the Franklin, Lt. Comdr. Joseph O'Callahan, senior chaplain on the carrier, and Stanley High, associate editor of Reader's Digest, one of the party of American editors and publishers who visited the German prison camps at Gen. Eisenhower's invitation.

7 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of spades.

The bidding of today's hand was very involved and perhaps open to considerable criticism. East's jump rebid to three diamonds is in fact a mild underbid, but no more satisfactory call is available. West recognizes at this point that there is a slam in the hand because he himself holds more than an opening bid. He actually has some aspirations for a grand slam and therefore elects to show the ace of spades.

There is a danger that the bid might be misunderstood by partner as showing a spade suit but this can always be corrected later with a hand this strong. East's bid of four hearts also entails some danger, because partner might read it as showing six diamonds and four hearts. But it is worth the risk. West's jump to six diamonds is eminently sound, but East's grand slam bid is highly speculative. He justified it on the ground that at worst it would involve a club finesse with the added chance that partner might have the queen and two other hearts.

South opened the jack of spades. Declarer drew the trumps and took the club finesse with a prayer, but the gods were not good. East's play was quite thoughtless, because he did not give himself every chance. There was a remote possibility that both the queen and jack of hearts would fall by the third round if that suit were tried. It wasn't a very good chance to be sure, but it was better than nothing. It is simple arithmetic that 51 is more than 50. And since there was no additional charge why not take the larger sum?

The spade should have been won in the closed hand and trumps drawn. The ace and king of hearts should be cashed. If an honor does not fall, the club finesse must be tried. If an honor falls, dummy is entered with the ace of spades and another heart led, to be ruffed by declarer. When the remaining heart honor appears school is out. If it should not show up, the club finesse is taken as a last resort. It is well to develop the habit of postponing finesses.

TOMORROW'S PROBLEM

As South you hold:

♠ K J 10 6 4 ♥ A 3 ♦ A 5 ♣ K 7 4 3

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 no trump	Pass

the Grays' niece, Signora Piero Grande, who as Margaret Cook attended the Girls' Latin school and the Francis W. Parker school here. Since Gen. Grande, who served on King Victor Emmanuel's staff, was captured by the English in Africa, his wife and two children have been living near Torina, Italy. Gen. Grande now is on his way home. His wife, who has been studying medicine at a university in Torina, expected to receive her degree of "doctoressa" this month.

At present William Gray's daughter, Louise Gray, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Albert Leiber, in New York and attending summer school there. When she returns she and her stepmother will fly to Mexico City for a holiday before she returns to her classes at Ferry Hall.

After Oct. 1 Ezra Sherman Taylor's home in Winnetka will have a new mistress. Mr. Taylor and the former Mrs. Katharine Marshall Griffiths of Bronxville, N. Y., were married Saturday in Bronxville. The bridegroom has three children, Mrs. William Byford-Brown [Adele Taylor], Sherman Taylor, and Pvt. Stuart Taylor. Their mother was the late Hazel Spencer Taylor.

Here and There

The nursery in the van Asmus Buntings' [Jane Whittemore] new home in Lake Forest will soon have another occupant, Elizabeth Bixby, who was born June 22 in the Highland Park hospital. The Buntings and their three children, Cuyp, Catherine, and Henry, recently returned to Lake Forest from Darien, Conn., where they have been living for a year and a half. Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Bunting of Naples, Fla., formerly of Lake Forest, and the Audenried Whittemores of Bronxville, N. Y., are the children's grandparents.

Following the opening Grant Park concert tonight, Princess Marina Wolkonsky and Miss Anne Haviland Strong will entertain in their apartment at 900 N. Michigan av. for the Grant Park Symphony orchestra's permanent conductor, Dr. Nicolai Malko, and Mme. Malko.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Edna S., Chicago—If you plan to store white potatoes next fall and winter inside your house, keep them in a cool, dark, dry place and in bins. I've learned that potatoes will sprout if they have too much warmth and moisture, while light will make them turn green, and shallow containers will cause them to shrivel.

Helen G., Evanston—To keep my rough grained leather suitcases soft and pliable I give them a treatment with neatsfoot oil once a year. Leather will absorb the oil so it won't come off on clothing.

Mrs. George F., Chicago — Our porch is very small. Last month my husband hinged a table top to the railing. This takes up no space when not needed.

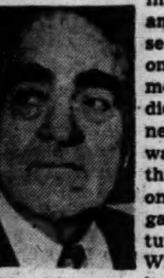
GOLFERS OPEN VICTORY TOURNAMENTS TODAY

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD

THE Phillies' Grandstand Managers club has a membership of more than 6,000 in 35 states and practically every correspondent has a sure fire suggestion for getting the Phils out of the National league cellar. . . . One fan gave Herb Pennock, the club's business manager, a list of 15 sandlotters and suggested that he substitute them for the entire club. . . . Letters to the club headquarters in Shibe park [and they're all answered by a full time recording secretary] range from penciled notes on the backs of score cards to long messages typed by secretaries and dictated by executives of large business organizations. . . . "I've always hoped for a chance to do something with a baseball club," wrote one executive, "and this new organization gives me the opportunity." . . . No one can accuse Whitey Wietelman, Boston Braves' infielder, of not doing everything in his power to make good in the major leagues. . . . He has tried playing with and without glasses; he has batted left handed, right handed, and as a switch hitter; he has had trials at second base, third base, and shortstop, and now he's trying to convince Manager Bob Coleman he can be a relief pitcher. . . . "And I think that's his best chance, at that," says Coleman. . . . The University of California at Los Angeles will feature a left handed forward passer at quarter back this fall. . . . He is Cal Rossi, 5 foot 10 inch, 175 pound navy student. . . . Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers believes it will be another month before Al Benton, whose leg was broken by a line drive, will be able to take his regular turn on the mound. . . .



Edward Barrow

Herb Pennock

Cy Young, the famous old pitcher, is 78 years old but wears glasses only for reading. . . . The average age of the Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff is 33. . . . While he was attending Western State college, Stubby Overmire, now of the Tigers, pitched a perfect game against Iowa State Teachers college. . . . Johnny Allen, former Yankee and Indian pitcher, is managing Greensboro in the Carolina league. . . . He's the fourth skipper the club has had this season. . . . Catcher Norm Schlueter of Sacramento, who had trials with both the White Sox and Indians, became a casualty the other day when a foul tip hit him in the Adam's apple and he swallowed his eating tobacco. . . . Myril Hoag of the Indians is known as Ming Toy to his teammates because they imagine his features have an oriental cast. . . . Nearly 50 per cent of the sports queries received by this department are from service men and about 20 per cent of them are from overseas. . . . Mickey Owen, the former Brooklyn catcher now in the navy, hit the longest home run ever recorded at Sampson Naval Training center. . . . Ed Barrow, the Yankees' chairman of the board, has had his tonsils removed. . . . Ed's 77 years old. . . . The screens in front of left field in Briggs stadium, Detroit, have been lowered to within 10 feet of the ground. . . . Frank Hayes, ironman catcher now with the Cleveland club, was only 18 when he made a baseball tour of Japan and China.

The Damsel of Tralee

The way to Tullamore is long for dwellers at Tralee
And yet I'd travel it on foot as happy as a king
If I were sure a colleen would be waiting there for me

We parted as the shadows swept across the silent bay
But their refulgence seemed to be a kind of murky haze

And from her cherry lips the words fell soft with melody,
If like a fairy phantom she had vanished from my sight
I should have been more sorry than surprised, I must agree.

But I'll be leaving Tullamore tomorrow for Tralee
And the wild heart within me will be dancing with delight,
For something seems to tell me she'll be waiting there for me—
The lassie with the raven hair and throat of snowy white
—T. E. B.

Redundant

The boss, in speaking of his likes,
That range from hunting books to bikes,
Will say his dislikes are but few
And then will whisper this to you—

Until my secretary chose
To tear the office morale down
And wear a scarlet hat to town."

Then, he will tell you of the day
For with her "thanks" she coyly said,
"I'll buy another hat of red."

Well, I should worry about him,
Why should I cater to his whim?
Know what? I wore that hat today!

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

John Marsch's Occupy, Futurity champion of 1943, will carry top weight of 126 pounds in the inaugural running of the $10,000 added Clang handicap today at Washington Park. The Clang, named for the co-holder with Roseben of the American record for seven furlongs, has drawn a field of 14 which also includes such speedy performers as the Woolford farm's Signator, Brownell Combs' Duranza, and Mrs. V. E. Smith's Sirius.

Occupy already has reached mid-season form with two winning efforts and a second place during the recent Churchill Downs meeting. Signator, hero of many a fast race in previous Chicago seasons, has been working so well that Trainer Tommy Root has chosen to give him this hard stake engagement, the first of 27 on the Arlington-Washington summer program.

Harriet Sue Is Entered

Two of Signator's stable mates, Adulator and Silvestra, also are listed to go today along with the fleet fillies, Harriet Sue and Burgoo Maid, both stake winners in previous Washington Park meetings.

The Clang is the first of four races which will decide the sprint championship of the coördinated 64 day meeting. It will be followed by the $15,000 Myrtlewood handicap on July 26, the $15,000 Sheridan handicap on Aug. 8, and the $20,000 Chicago handicap on Sept. 1.

The Arlington meeting, which opened Monday under adverse weather conditions, got a break yesterday as the sun put in an early appearance and provided comfort for a crowd of 14,500.

Nichols Rides First Winner

Billy Nichols, apprentice jockey, who was a sensation at the recent Lincoln Fields session during which he scored 52 victories in 28 days, hung up his first triumph of the new meeting in yesterday's opener aboard Herbert M. Woolf's Instanter, a three length winner in a field of eight 2 year olds at five furlongs. Instanter paid $20.20.

Another apprentice, Jack Fliter, accounted for the second half of the daily double, worth $69.40, with E. C. Hosier's Rogers Boy, which paid $6.

Mrs. Monte Weil came up with a good looking 2 year old filly, Knight's Gift, in the third race. She won by six lengths from Woolf's Suffice and paid $5.20. Freddy Smith was up on the winner.

No Blues Wins Sixth

Nichols gave the Woolford farm its second winner of the afternoon in the fifth when he brought in Affiant, a 3 year old son of the 1938 Kentucky Derby winner, Lawrin. The bay gelding made his first start

Schuster and Rice Injured; Reject Wyse

BY EDWARD BURNS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 26—Catcher Len Rice of the Cubs is under observation in Post Graduate hospital here tonight, and Shortstop Bill Schuster is confined to his hotel room as a result of a collision during batting practice before the Cubs' exhibition game at Mitchell field this afternoon. Rice was suffering from a possible concussion and fractured nose, and Schuster from a badly cut right eye.

Hank Wyse Rejected

Manager Charley Grimm's worry over the plight of his players was eased somewhat by a telegram from Pitcher Hank Wyse in which the Cub pitcher announced he had been rejected by his Tulsa, Okla., draft board and that he promptly would rejoin the club in New York. A back injury is believed to have brought about Wyse's rejection for military service.

The Cubs, fifth in the National league race but only 5½ games behind the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, will open a five game series in Ebbetts field tomorrow night. It will be the first phase of a 16 game eastern trip.

Play Two Games Friday

The setting up of the imminent series bears some points of similarity to that which the Cubs encountered when they were here in May. In the previous visit the Cubs came into Ebbets field just after the Pirates had halted an 11 game Brooklyn winning streak. This time they found the Boston Braves had halted a fresh Dodger streak, at eight straight.

As they go at it again tomorrow night, the fifth placers will have an edge over the first placers of four victories to two. The teams will play a single game Thursday and a double header Friday.

SAMSON LOSES, SEGURA WINS IN COLLEGE TENNIS

The University of Miami [Fla.], represented by Francisco [Pancho] Segura, the defending champion, and Freshman Tom Burke, dominated play in the National Collegiate tennis championship tournament at Northwestern university yesterday. Pancho, who drew a first round bye, won his second round match against George Ratterman of Notre Dame, 6-2, 6-3, while Burke produced a stunning upset by defeating Charles Samson, also of Notre Dame, and seeded No. 2, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.

Segura, who is seeking his third successive national collegiate title and who never has lost a set in this tournament, encountered little difficulty in overpowering his Irish opponent. In today's third round play, which gets under way at 1 o'clock the Ecuadorian star will face Delbert Russell of Wayne university, who advanced yesterday by winning from Harry Tully of Chicago, 9-7, 3-6, 6-2. The Segura-Russell match is to start at 2 o'clock.

Burke Defeats Samson

Burke, who will team with Segura in doubles competition, encountered little difficulty in taking the measure of Samson. The Irish captain did not play the tennis which enabled him to reach the finals in last year's tournament. Burke, whose home is in Rego Park, Long Island, controled the match all the way.

The south and Pacific coast carried off the honors in yesterday's play with 12 of the 16 singles survivors coming from these parts of the United States. The south qualified seven players and the Pacific coast five, with the midwest and east possessing two survivors each.

The only midwestern players still in the running are Del Russell and Bob Byland of Wayne university. The latter advanced yesterday by eliminating Murray Russell of Kenyon. The eastern survivors are Bob Crawford of Annapolis and Frank Mehner of West Point. The former defeated Ellsworth Donnell of Southern California, 6-2, 8-6, while the latter was winning from Aaron Weinstein of Cincinnati, 6-0, 6-1.

Coast Contingent Fares Well

Howard McCall of Georgia Tech, seeded sixth, was forced into extra sets before conquering Arnold Beisser of College of the Pacific, 5-7, 9-7, 7-5, in the longest match of the day. Trailing, 3-1, in the third and final set, McCall rallied to tie the score and go on to win, 7-5.

Lanky Nick Buzolich of Pepperdine college, Los Angeles, led the strong Pacific coast contingent into the third round with a stubbornly fought victory over Harcourt Waters of Tulane, 7-5, 6-4. Other

Boston Tests Sox Skill in Game Tonight

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

James Dykes' White Sox, who modestly admit they are pretty slick under the lights, will have a chance to prove it again tonight, the occasion being the after dinner opener of the series with the Red Sox at Comiskey park. Incidentally, the Bostons are a wee bit ahead of the Chicagoans in the standings and the latter also hope to do something about this between tonight and Friday afternoon.

The Red Sox are only a part of the complications the Dykes' boys must dispose of immediately to avoid another enforced trip into the second division slums. After the Red Sox do a three game act here the Yanks will drop in for nothing short of five games in three days and playing the Yanks is not the ideal way to make progress in a pennant race.

The Red Sox will have a new member in uniform tonight in the person of Dolph Camilli, one time Cubs, Phillies, and Dodgers first baseman. Camilli, who until a few weeks back managed the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league, was signed by the Red Sox on a hunch that he might be able to strengthen their attack. Manager Joe Cronin intends to allow the veteran several days of practice before tossing him into the lineup.

The time honored rivalry that makes a Cub fan think evil of a Sox follower and vice versa is helping to build up an advance sale for the war relief fund game the two teams will play at Comiskey park at 8:30, the night of July 9. Thus far only box seats have been disposed of in advance, but the grandstand unreserved also will be available ahead of time, the price of the latter with tax being $1.20.

◆

Boss Dykes probably will kick off tonight with Earl Caldwell in charge of the mound department. The 40 year old rookie scored a victory over the Browns last week in his first starting assignment. Emmett O'Neill has been nominated to pitch for Boston.

◆

Joe Haynes, one of Dykes' regular starters, who put himself out of action with a slide that shattered his right ankle in the second game of June 17, may be discharged from Mercy hospital within the next few days, but will continue to wear the injured limb in a cast. Haynes is confident he will be able to resume pitching in September, out his mates, while hoping for an early return, are less optimistic.

Bob David, Senn Star, Loses in Tennis Meet

Philadelphia, Pa., June 26 (AP)—Dean Mathey Jr., Deerfield [Mass.] academy entrant, today defeated Robert David, Senn High school, Chicago, 1-6, 6-4, 9-7, to reach the quarter-finals of the 37th national interscholastic boys' tennis tournament.

Lick Attains College Golf Semi-Finals

Columbus, O., June 26 (AP)—The 1944 champion and his runner-up, plus two members of Ohio State's new national championship team today moved into the semi-finals of the National Intercollegiate golf tournament.

And the draw made it possible for the finals tomorrow afternoon to be a repetition of last year's duel between Champion Louis Lick of Minnesota and Runner-up Johnny Jenswold of Michigan. Or it could be an all-Ohio State affair involving Johnny Lorms, son of Golf Professional Charles Lorms, and Bob Kampfer.

Jenswold Beats Medalist

Jenswold won the last two holes to take a one up decision from Howard Baker of Ohio State, the tournament medalist. He clinched the match by hammering in a 40 foot putt for a birdie three on the home hole.

That was the second such shot he threw at Baker. On the 11th hole he rifled a 75 foot putt into the cup for a birdie three. And rifled comes close to being the exact term, too. The ball fairly popped when it banged into the back of the cup and dropped in.

Lick Leads All the Way

Lick led all the way against Philip Marcellus of Michigan to win his quarter-final match, 5 and 4. Lorms had even an easier time beating Tom Kennedy of Notre Dame, 7 and 6.

The match between Kampfer and Dick Whiting of Notre Dame matched the Jenswold-Baker duel for thrills, Kampfer coming from behind to wipe out a four hole deficit and win, 2 and 1.

Whiting started smoothly and at the end of seven holes he was four up. The husky Kampfer won the eighth and ninth to be two down at the turn, then won three straight holes starting home.

First round results:

Louis Lick, Minnesota, beat Salvatore Pamonte, Detroit, 1 up.

Philip Marcellus, Michigan, beat Jack Bassett, Northwestern, 1 up.

Tom Kennedy, Notre Dame, beat Dan Rocker, Ohio State, 2 and 1.

Robert Kampfer, Ohio State, beat Robert Abrahams, Northwestern, 3 and 2.

Dick Whiting, Notre Dame, beat Jerry Modjeska, Bradley Tech, 5 and 4.

PRO, AMATEUR, WOMEN, SENIOR STARS TO PLAY

Compete for $12,300 in War Bonds

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

The Chicago Victory National Golf tournaments, Chicagoland's No. 1 fairway production of the season, will tee off this morning at the neatly conditioned Calumet Country club, 175th st. and Western av. For five days, the ablest professional, amateur, senior, and women players in the game will collaborate with Chicago District Golf Charities, Inc., in the job of providing golf facilities for the hospitalized service men of World War II.

Today and tomorrow, at 18 holes per diem, the program will witness the determination of the Chicago Victory National pro-amateur, pro-woman, and pro-senior championships. The first foursome will tee off each of the two days at 11 a. m., with the last scheduled to leave at 2:53 p. m.

Open Event Starts Friday

On Friday, the professionals and amateurs will open their 72 hole medal play argument for the Chicago Victory National Open crown, won last year by Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Sanford, Me. Another 18 holes will be transacted Saturday, with the final 36 scheduled for Sunday. A total of $12,300 in war bonds is being offered, the professional side of the purse being $10,000 in bonds, to be distributed to the low 20 scorers.

The Friday and Saturday rounds each will be preceded by special events, the former with a shotmaking demonstration by the country's top flight swingers at noon, and Saturday with a driving contest at the same hour. In each case, the fields will get away at 12:30 p. m.

Transportation No Problem.

Calumet is within easy walking distance of the 175th st. station of the Illinois Central. Frequent train service from the Randolph st. station will bring fans to the scene of the tournaments in approximately 45 minutes. Tickets for the first three days are $1.20, for Saturday $1.50 and for Sunday's final rounds $1.80. Season tickets at $3.60 may be obtained at the Chicago District Golf association headquarters, room 1844, La Salle hotel.

McSpaden will have a time of it if he plans to repeat his dramatic victory of 1944 at Edgewater, where he finished with a 40 foot putt for a final nine of 31 which tied Lt. Ben Hogan of the army air forces, Jug winning the play-off the following day. Chief threat to an encore by McSpaden, of course, is a fellow named Byron Nelson, whom you may have noticed has made an almost discouraging habit of running away from money golf fields. Nelson has been a regular competitor in C. D. G. A. tournaments, but has yet to win one, and yesterday allowed that he is going to make up the omission in his books.

Byrd Wants Another Title

Still another favorite will be Samuel Dewey Byrd, the former baseball player who has been one of Nelson's most stouthearted pursuers thru the latter's sensational play of the last year. Sam is aiming at a second Chicago Victory National Open championship, having won the 1943 inaugural at Beverly.

Add to the above names those of Craig Wood, Jimmy Thomson, Billy Burke, Johnny Bulla, Ky Laffoon, John Revolta, Sgt. Ernie Harrison, and such rising stars as Claude Harmon of Detroit and Jimmy Gauntt of Ardmore, Okla., and you have a company which has proved itself on every count.

Dedicate Hospital Course

Joining with them in the 36 hole team championship today and tomorrow will be such women stars as Dorothy Germain, Betty Jameson, Betty Hicks, Carol [Babe] Freese, Phyllis Otto, Peggy Kirk, and Ann Casey and such amateur campaigners as Sgt. Walter Burkemo, Harold Foreman, Chick

YANKEES SCORE IN 8TH; DEFEAT BROWNS, 5 TO 4

First Sportsman's Park Victory Since Last July

St. Louis, Mo., June 26 (AP)—The New York Yankees shaved a half game off Detroit's first place margin tonight as they defeated the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4, in the first of a three game series.

It was the Yankees' first victory at Sportsman's Park since July of last year.

The Yanks breezed into a 3 to 0 lead in the first two innings with a five hit attack off Al Hollingsworth, who was wild and ineffective. Tex Shirley, who came to his rescue, started two St. Louis rallies which tied the game, then sent the Browns into a one run lead. But New York tied the game again in the sixth and won it with a run in the eighth.

Relief Pitcher Bill Zuber drove in the winning run with a single after Tuck Stainback and Bob Garbark had singled.

The Calumet farm scored in the featured sixth race when No Blues, a daughter of Bull-Lea-Hope Eternal won by four lengths from H. G. Knott's Whosyourgal in a field of a dozen 3 year olds. Sheer Luck, coupled with No Blues as the Calumet entry, took the show.

Air Borne, a 21 to 1 shot ridden by Bruno Pucci, won the first turf race of the season, the $2,500 Cudgel purse which closed the day's activities. The winner, owned by P. J. Valenti, returned $44 for a $2 ticket.

Open Victory National Golf Meets Today

Yesterday, a number of stars in the cast journeyed out to the Hines Veterans' hospital to dedicate the unique pitch and putt course which the Chicago District Golf Charities, Inc. presented to the men stationed there. The competition over the 603 yard nine hole layout well may be an omen of the sort of going you can expect in the Open. The exhibition resulted in a three way tie among Ralph Guldahl of Medinah, former National and Western Open champion; Byrd, and McSpaden. Par for the little course is 27. The aforementioned trio finished with 25s, to the cheers of the service men who turned out to watch them.

'BASS STEALING OUR BAIT,' MOAN PIKE FISHERMEN

BY BOB BECKER

Mr. Fisherman, if you want to do Wisconsin a good turn and at the same time catch fish, hustle up to Waubesa and Kegonsa lakes, the lower two lakes in the Madison chain, and snag 25 white bass per day. Wisconsin actually is calling for help because there are so many white bass in those two lakes that they are detrimental to the other game fish, such as northern pike, black bass, wall eyes, and blue gills.

Limit in One Hour

Seine hauls made by rough fish removal crews have taken and released as high as 50,000 white bass in one bay of Lake Kegonsa. Many fishermen have taken their 25 limit of white or striped bass from Lake Waubesa in one hour. Dr. John D. Black, fish biologist, told the Wisconsin conservation department this week that a mass invasion of white bass fisherman was needed on these two lakes right away to reduce the white bass population. So the appeal to the rod and line boys is to concentrate on the stripers especially now during the spawning run.

Pike Fishermen Complain

One of the most amusing things about the overpopulation of Waubesa and Kegonsa is the way the pike fishermen are complaining. It's something when a fisherman complains about too many fish, yet that is what is happening because the anglers say that they can't keep a minnow on a hook long enough for a wall eye to see it, especially late in the evening when the white bass feed most actively. There's usually a striper ready to grab the minnow.

Lake Kegonsa is just a few miles out of the town of Stoughton and southeast of Madison.

BLUEJACKETS, FELLER DEFEAT RED SOX, 3 TO 2

With the score 3 to 2 in favor of Great Lakes, two Boston Red Sox players out, and a man on second in the ninth inning, Bob Feller yesterday afternoon at Great Lakes Naval Training station threw the third strike past Dolph Camilli to give the Bluejackets their 14th victory of the season and their second consecutive triumph over major league competition.

All-Star Game Among Biggest Kostka Thrills

Stan Kostka

San Francisco, Cal., June 26 (AP)—AP war correspondent Olen Clements, standing by in the Aleutians, bumped into a hulking navy lieutenant and the conversation veered from the war to football to thrills.

The lieutenant, Stan Kostka, will be remembered by gridiron fans as Minnesota's plunging full back of 1934. Newsman Clements started probing. Where had Kostka experienced his greatest thrill?

Lt. Kostka found his biggest thrill at Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian chain. It was when a transport plane in which he was a passenger landed between two hills in dense fog.

"Up until that time," Clements quoted the former ex-football star, "the greatest thrill I had ever experienced was in the CHICAGO TRIBUNE All-Star game in Chicago in 1935. Soldiers' field was darkened and we ran out under a spotlight while the band played. I thought I'd never make it I was so excited."

Speaking of the fog incident, Kostka said:

"We got down to 2,000 feet and couldn't see a thing. Then we dropped to 1,500, 1,000, 500. I was sweating. I knew those hills jutted up in the fog and one little miscue by the pilot and it would be all over. He kept letting down and I waited for the inevitable crash. Finally his wheels touched the landing field and we rolled to a stop. I never want to make another blind landing as long as I live."

PLAN TO END LAKE POLLUTION BY NEXT JAN. 1

14 Million Program Told by Atty. Gen. Barrett

Negotiations for a 14 million dollar lake purification program are nearing completion, Atty. Gen. Barrett announced yesterday. The plan is expected to end pollution of water in lower Lake Michigan before Jan. 1, 1946.

Already agreements calling for 9 millions of the program have been reached with four Indiana cities and partly with 19 major industries, Barrett said. The entire program is expected to be made a matter of record before Luther Ely Smith, special United States Supreme court master, in St. Louis on Sept. 25.

Reports on Agreements

Barrett said he would ask the United States Supreme court to embody all stipulations in a court decree directing the four cities and 19 industries to carry out all the agreements.

Agreements gained by Barrett are the result of injunction proceedings filed before the United States Supreme court Oct. 9, 1943, against the state of Indiana and the cities of East Chicago, Gary, Hammond, and Whiting. Barrett said conferences with state and local officials and with industrial heads in that area have resulted in the following agreements:

Hammond: The American Maize Products company has agreed to spend $500,000 to eliminate part of its sewage and to divert the remainder thru the treatment plant in Hammond.

Gary: The city's sewage was treated, but the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, the American Bridge company, Universal Atlas Cement company, and the National Tube company were discharging sewage and industrial waste into the lake. Representatives of these industries have agreed to begin a million dollar program to send all sewage and industrial wastes thru the Gary treatment plant.

Whiting Coöperates

Whiting: Sewage of Whiting and the sewage and waste from the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation have been discharged directly into the lake. Under an agreement with the attorney general two-thirds of Whiting's sewage will be treated immediately in the Hammond plant. Whiting will similarly dispose of t e remaining one-third in the near future. The Standard Oil company has agreed to spend 3 million dollars for installing of sewage and treatment plants. Barrett said Carbide and Carbon officials have agreed to eliminate pollution.

East Chicago: The city has completed its sewage treatment plant since filing of injunction action and the plant is now in operation. Thirteen industries in East Chicago desire to end the pollution and engineers are working on the problem.

These industries include the Texas company, the Shell Oil Company, Inc., Sinclair Refining company, Bates Expanded Steel corporation, Cities Service Oil company, Cudahy Packing company, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Fruit Growers Express company, Inland Steel company, Socony-Vacuum Oil company, Rogers Galvanizing company, U. S. S. Lead Refining, Inc., and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

PERSONNEL AIDS SET UP BUREAU TO ASSIST VETS

Opening of a new veterans' placement bureau at 1448 N. La Salle st. for returning Cook county war veterans was announced last night by the Chicago chapter of the National Association of Personnel Directors. The chapter has more than 700 members among Chicago industrial personnel heads.

Morris P. Jones, who will serve as supervisor of the bureau, said his staff will be composed of veterans who have had previous personnel experience. He disclosed that even before the bureau's opening last night jobs had been found for 10 returning veterans.

Jones pointed out the GI bill of rights guarantees jobs for scarcely more than 20 per cent of service men and women and that, with 300,000 Cook county men and women in service, jobs must be found for 240,000 of these. The bureau will be operated without charge to either veterans or industry.

The bureau will coöperate with Industry for Veterans, Inc., recently organized by Capt. James Simpson Jr. with the objective of obtaining from Illinois industries a pledge to employ veterans for at least 25 per cent of their jobs. Jones said sever ! hundred jobs already are listed with the bureau.

$100,000 ASKED OF HUSBAND, 75, FOR ALIENATION

Louis Williams, 60, of the Southmoor hotel, yesterday filed suit for $100,000 damages in Superior court against Isaac L. Grossman, 75, former pawn broker, charging him with alienating the affections of his wife, Frannie, 55, who divorced Williams and married Grossman.

Williams also filed suit against Mrs. Grossman asking nullification of a divorce obtained by his wife in Reno, Nev. The suit cited a recent United States Supreme court decision holding divorces worthless if residence is established in Reno for the sole purpose of obtaining them. She lives at 5242 Hyde Park blvd. Both suits were filed by Atty. Charles Bellows.

DEFIER OF REDS IN UNION WINS COURT VERDICT

Injunction Protects Morgan's Job

BY ORVILLE DWYER

Judge Donald S. McKinlay in Superior court yesterday ended the battle of Harry Morgan, 36, against local 1150, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union [CIO], in a decree containing two findings:

1. That Morgan was illegally suspended from the union in June, 1944, by the executive board he alleged was Communist dominated; and

2. That the union had a "right to engage in political activity, including the election of candidates for public office, and that such political activity affords no right in equity for the rescission [annulment—by Morgan and 12 other members] of their membership contracts with the union."

Union Is Enjoined

The court voided the suspension of Morgan, ordered the executive board to expunge the action from the union records, and to "report compliance and evidence of compliance to the court within 20 days."

Judge McKinlay also permanently enjoined the union from attempting to enforce its expulsion order against Morgan and further "forever enjoined and restrained the union officials from attempting to prevail upon the Chicago Flexible Shaft company, 5600 Roosevelt rd., where he is a turret lathe operator in war work, to discharge him from employment.

Money Verdict for Morgan

At the request of Atty. William J. Grace, the court entered a judgment for $40 plus his costs in the suit on behalf of Morgan against the union.

At the trial, it was testified by Morgan, Elmer Churchill and 11 others that Theodore Baer, an organizer for local 1150, told them he was also an organizer for the Communist party. They swore that Baer tried to sign them up as members of the party and told them that union officials were Communist party members.

KELLY AND BOYS BURY OCD, BUT LOOK FOR HEIR

Peace, It's Terrible!—for Organization

More than 100 fighting leaders of the Chicago office of civilian defence gathered at a farewell party in Hotel Sherman last night and heard Mayor Kelly bid them a reluctant good-by and express hope that the OCD's memory would linger on in some other form and under some other name.

They also heard complaints that the OCD had suffered too much competition from the Boy Scouts.

By federal dictate the OCD goes out of existence at midnight Saturday because there are no longer any fears of enemy invasion. But the boys—the community commanders, the division commanders, and the block captains who for nearly four years have worn dressy helmets and other habiliments or symbols of authority—apparently hate to give up.

Wants a New Organization

The dinner, at which turkey was the main entree, was held because of the going out of business order. Mayor Kelly lauded the 108 community commanders and seven division commanders present, called them block builders for the work in salvage and bond drives, and said a new organization to deal with civilian war activities, exclusive of defense, should carry on.

This idea met with general approval. Sixteen names promptly were submitted for the proposed OCD offspring, some of them being the Chicago war action committee, the citizens war service corps, the Chicago volunteers for total victory, chapter 1, the American national defense league, Chicago's OCD, the office of Chicago Development, and Chicago Good Neighbors' association.

Ralph H. Burke, deputy coördinator of the Chicago OCD, said three names will be selected from the list and submitted to OCD workers for a vote for the best. He said he hoped the Chicago idea of a local, substitute OCD would catch on nationally, even to the name.

Wearing of Shields Proposed

Along that line, another speaker suggested the new group members should wear identifying shields. [In the past special badges from sheriffs, suburban police, semi-public organizations, and various elective offices have been branded as "I Gotta Drag" emblems on the ground that their possessors often displayed them in the expectation of preferential treatment.]

Other speakers later rose to praise or to complain, and one, John W. Robinson, commander of the Belmont-Cragin community, charged [1] that Boy Scouts and schools had interfered with OCD paper collections, and [2] that landlords already were raising rents in knowledge of the watchful OCD's scheduled demise.

The local OCD, it has been estimated, has cost Chicago taxpayers more than 1 million dollars for 1942, 1943, and 1944, but this cost has been offset many, many times, it is asserted, by the organization's work in salvage and war bond sales promotions.

ROAD BUILDERS TOLD OF BIG U. S. WORK PROGRAM

A five billion dollar federal public works program to help maintain employment in the immediate postwar years was outlined by Burton F. Miller, managing director of the highway contractors' division of the American Road Builders' association, in an address last night before the Illinois Road Builders' association in the Drake hotel.

Miller predicted a substantial share of federal funds will be allotted to highway construction and he urged Illinois and other states to have their blue prints ready.

BEST FOODS, INC.

I would appreciate a report on Best Foods, Inc.—A. R.

The company and subsidiaries, including Standard Milling company, manufacture a varied line of products: Flour, self-rising cake flour, packaged cereals, mayonnaise, salad dressings, margarine, relishes, and pickles; also shoe polishes and cleansers. Most items are distributed under long established trade names. Flour is also sold in bulk to bakers.

Best Foods was incorporated originally as Gold Dust corporation in 1923. The name was changed to Hecker Products corporation in 1936 and to the present title in 1942. The company's former washing powder and soap business was sold to Lever Brothers company.

Best Foods' profits in the last three years were above the average of the immediate pre-war years. The earnings per share in the nine months ended March 31, 1945, were $1.20, compared with $1.67 in the corresponding period a year earlier. For fiscal years ended June 30 the reported earnings per share were: 1944, $2.25; 1943, $1.64; 1942, 44 cents; 1941, 71 cents; 1940, 52 cents; 1939, $1.21; 1938, 53 cents; 1937, 89 cents.

Outstanding stock, amounting to 1,500,000 shares since 1941, had been gradually reduced from 1,802,802, in 1938. Dividends at varying rates have been paid each year since 1929. The 1944 payments totaled $1, and 50 cents semi-annual was disbursed last January. As of June 30, 1944, net working capital was $17,932,252. Long term debt consisted of a serial bank loan of $1,928,580.

INTENSIFY WAR BOND DRIVE TO MEET E QUOTA

Area Has 'Fighting Chance' to Do So

BY THOMAS FURLONG

A clean up drive to clinch for Chicago and Cook county top honors in the 7th war loan was begun yesterday by the war finance committee. This community is the only one among leading metropolitan centers with a fighting chance to achieve its E bond quota, said Lawrence F. Stern, Cook county chairman.

The final result probably will be determined by the number of $5,000 subscriptions that are received in the remaining days of the drive. Emphasizing the narrow margin by which the quota may be made, Stern appealed particularly to individuals who already have purchased sizable blocks of E bonds and may believe they have reached their limit.

Co-ownership Raises Limit

Stern called attention to the fact that the $5,000 maturity value annual limit on E bond subscriptions does not apply when an individual lists a co-owner. For example, an individual may purchase $5,000 in his own name. He can purchase an additional $5,000 by listing his wife or child as co-owner. This may be repeated indefinitely as long as a different co-owner is named each time. Thus a married man with four children can purchase $30,000 of E bonds in one year by listing each member of his family as a co-owner for $5,000 of bonds.

The importance of this ruling lies in the fact that the E bond offers a rate of interest not available elsewhere in the government bond list or among some other high grade bonds. The rate of interest on E bonds held to maturity is 2.90 per cent, which is higher than the rate offered by top grade corporate bonds.

Quota Only 75% Met

The $5,000 plus purchasers can do themselves a good turn and at the same time assure for Chicago and Cook county top honors in the drive. Those who wish to join Stern's $5,000 club can step up to the teller's window at any bank or phone orders to their banks.

As it now stands Cook county residents have purchased 128½ million dollars of E bonds since the beginning of the drive. This is 75 per cent of the quota. The record is the best made among large population centers. Ten business days remain in which purchases will be credited toward the quota. Subscriptions processed thru July 7 will be included.

There no longer is any question of realizing the over-all quota. Sales of all types of securities have reached 121 per cent of the quota of 745 million. But the E bond quota —the most important goal of the drive—is yet to made.

Wins Tribune Award for Aircraft Aid

BY PHILIP HAMPSON

Daniel N. Kramp

Developing an idea with the aid of two broomsticks, Daniel N. Kramp, 32, an employe of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, devised a way to speed production of a device that helps place B-29s and other bombers squarely over their targets. For this service to the nation he is to receive the 35th Chicago Tribune War Workers' Award.

Presentation of the award—symbolized by a diamond studded gold pin—will be made by Lt. Col. John H. Morton, chief of administration, air forces technical command, Chicago, in a radio ceremony to be broadcast over W-G-N at 7:15 o'clock tonight.

Detects Slightest Deviation

Kramp works on the directional stabilizer, a remarkable instrument which holds a bomber in straight and accurate flight across the target. The instrument detects the slightest deviation of the plane. It corrects the deviation by an electrical signal which, functioning thru the automatic pilot system, causes the controls to put the plane truly on its predetermined course.

The "brains" of the stabilizer is the gyro which revolves at a speed of more than 7,500 revolutions a minute. The gyro must be in perfect balance within the instrument or it will not function properly. The gyro runs on bearings having a tolerance within 2/10,000ths of an inch.

Bottleneck in Work

Getting the gyro in perfect balance formerly was a production bottleneck. Under the old method dummy bearings were attached to the gyro housing which was mounted on a special balancing scale. Readings were taken from four positions of the gyro to determine the amount of weight to be added or removed to attain perfect balance. Technically the method should have worked, but in practice it was none too good.

Then Kramp had an idea. He fashioned a holder out of two broomsticks. Tests with a gyro showed he was on the right track and he was able to "sell" his idea to his foreman, Charles J. Duennes.

Start Permanent Fixture

Within four days work was started on a permanent fixture—a motor driven rocking table simulating the motion of an airplane. One of the secrets for the success of the new method is that it permits the mounting of the gyro on its permanent bearings.

Kramp's device was credited by Thomas McDonald, vice president in charge of the plant, with more than doubling production in the balancing job. It enabled the company to operate two days ahead of a tight schedule.

SAVINGS SLIDE TO 8 BILLION IN FIRST QUARTER

Attribute Decrease to Tax Payments

Total liquid savings of individuals in the first quarter this year amounted to 8 billion 400 million dollars, compared with the record of 11 billion 800 million in the last quarter of 1944, the securities and exchange commission said yesterday. The decrease in total savings was attributed to heavy income tax payments. A year earlier the total was 9 billion 200 millions.

The figures did not take into account the increase in inventories of unincorporated business, believed to have been about 100 million dollars.

Major Savings Categories

Individuals in the first quarter increased currency and bank deposits 4 billion 900 million dollars, added 1 billion 400 million to holdings of United States government securities, 1 billion to their equity in government insurance, and 900 million to their equity in private insurance, mostly life insurance.

Consumer debt, other than mortgages, was reduced 200 million and holdings of corporate securities by 300 millions.

The 4.9 billion increase in cash and deposits compared with 5 billion 400 million in the preceding quarter. Despite heavy tax payments, including 1 billion 500 million to cover accounts due for the final 1944 quarter, time and savings deposits increased by a record total of 2 billion 300 million, continuing the 1944 trend.

Bond Buying Decreases

Demand deposits of individuals rose 2 billion 100 million dollars, about the same as in the preceding quarter, and currency increased approximately 500 million. In the absence of a war loan drive the 1.4 billion of new savings in government securities was less than half the 3 billions in the last quarter of 1944.

N. Y. Central Is Trying Diesel Power for Twentieth Century

Diesel-electric locomotives have been hauling the New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited—the most widely known train in the world—between Chicago and New York for weeks, it was disclosed yesterday. Tho most of the nation's crack streamlined trains started operating with diesel power, the New York Central continued with steam and when it put diesel-electrics on its premier train made no announcement of the fact.

In the weeks they have been pulling the Century, the diesel-electrics have maintained an on time record said to have been highly pleasing to the road's officials.

Schedule Lengthened in War

The Century runs the 961 miles between Chicago and New York in 17 hours, compared with 16 hours before the war. Schedules of most passenger trains thruout the country were lengthened at the request of the office of defense transportation to lighten the operating burden. After the defeat of Japan it is expected that the previous fast schedules will be reëstablished and some even bettered to help the railroads meet air competition.

The Century's power consists of two 4,000 horse power diesel-electrics—one for each direction—built at the La Grange plant of the Electro-Motive division of General Motors. They are 142 feet 2½ inches long and the weight loaded is about 640,000 pounds. They are capable of speeds well over 100 miles an hour.

The Century has been streamlined since June, 1938, and all during the war has had almost capacity traffic. It averages about 15 cars daily.

Test New Steam Locomotives

The New York Central experimented with the two locomotives for some time before putting them on the Century, giving them a trial on the Commodore Vanderbilt.

Both the New York Central and the Pennsylvania have been experimenting with radically improved steam locomotives. Both roads are major coal carriers and for that reason have continued to push the development of steam power to use the products of their best customers.

BRITAIN, RUSSIA GET 62 PCT. OF PEAK EXPORTS

U.S. Sends 14 Billion Abroad in 1944

Washington, D. C., June 26 (AP)—In 1944, when United States exports reached a record 14 billion dollars, 62 per cent, or more than 8 billion 700 million went to the United Kingdom and Russia, the department of commerce announced today. It released figures on war time foreign trade with individual countries — information hitherto withheld for security reasons.

The top heavy percentage of exports to Britain and Russia compared with the 18 per cent which went there in 1939. The 1944 figures were $5,242,768,000 of export to the United Kingdom and $3,459,008,000 to Russia. Included are lend-lease shipments, but not those to United States forces.

Policy Boosts Some Imports

Imports from certain countries increased because of the United States policy of economic warfare. For example, "preclusive buying"—to keep the enemy from obtaining the goods—caused imports from Spain to increase from 10 million dollars in 1939 to 50 millions in 1944. Imports from Switzerland increased from 31 million to 56 million, and imports from Turkey from 20 million to 50 million.

In 1944, altho 61 per cent of the value of total exports went to Russia and the United Kingdom, only 34 per cent in shipping weight went to those countries. This was because they received large quantities of finished military goods, with high value per pound.

Exports Largely Lend-Lease

The department also released figures showing for the first time the distribution of lend-lease shipments by individual country of destination in 1943. In that year 80 per cent of total exports were lend-lease.

Exports to the United Kingdom were 95 per cent lend-lease, and to Russia virtually 100 per cent lend-lease. Exports to Turkey in 1943 were 98 per cent lend-lease, to India 95 per cent, and to China 83 per cent. Exports to Latin American countries were only 12 per cent lend-lease.

Whiting Corp. Votes 4 for 1 Stock Splitup

Thomas S. Hammond

Stockholders of the Whiting corporation, Harvey, yesterday voted to split the company's stock on a four for one basis, established an employe retirement fund, authorized a contribution to the employes profit sharing trust, and elected seven directors. These actions were taken at the company's annual meeting.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond was elected to the new office of chairman of the board and Stevens H. Hammond president. Thomas formerly was president and Stevens executive vice president. A regular dividend of 5 cents a share and an extra 5 cents were voted.

Outstanding Shares Totaled

The company said the stock split increases the number of authorized common shares from 150,000 to 600,000 and that 218,924 shares of $5 par will be issued and outstanding after the distribution.

The retirement fund covers every employe with five years or more of service whose base pay is more than $3,000 a year. The contribution to the profit sharing trust, established in 1942, amounted to $94,750.

Directors elected were Thomas and Stevens Hammond, Raymond A. Pascoe, and John Munro, both of whom are associated with the company; Col. John Slezak, chief of the Chicago ordnance district; John Dunbar, partner in Cruttenden & Co., and John W. Cavanaugh, partner in the law firm of McDermott, Will & Emery.

Net Profit Increases

Thomas Hammond reported net profit for the year ended April 30 was $463,692, equal to $2.12 a share on the 218,924 shares outstanding after the split, compared with $402,476, or $1.84 a share figured on the same number of shares, for the preceding year.

Stevens Hammond said that altho the management hoped thru economies to earn a favorable return in the present fiscal year on less business, future profits depend upon the relaxation of government regulations and reduction of federal taxes.

The company normally manufactures cranes, foundry equipment, stokers, and other heavy machinery.

STOCK LEADERS SET NEW PEAKS IN HEAVY TRADE

Rail Climb Stalled, Utilities Strong

New York, June 26 (AP)—Favorites continued to reach highest prices in eight years or longer today as the stock market extended its rise despite losses by some recent leaders. Advances ranged from fractions to 3 points. Turnover of 2,140,000 shares compared with 1,890,000 yesterday and was the largest since April 16.

Rails resumed their climb at the start, but later encountered selling and a number declined. Steels had a midday flurry on belief they were "behind" the market, then backed away a bit. Low priced utilities and motors were traded in big blocks running to 10,000 shares. Most distillers and aviations pushed forward, altho there were exceptions.

The Associated Press 60 stock average rose 0.1 to 68.2, a top since Aug. 19, 1937. The utility composite added 0.3 at 47, a high since March 31, 1937. The market was broad, 964 issues registering.

Homestake Mining rose 3 points as preparations got under way to expand gold production. Colorado Fuel and Iron rose 1⅛ on a proposal to merge with Wickwire Spencer Steel and recapitalize.

Commonwealth and Southern, again the most active stock, rose ¼ to 1¾, a new peak.

RAIL BONDS UNEVEN

New York, June 26 (AP)—Railroad bonds were irregular today, some issues gaining as much as 2 points or more while others dropped fractions or more. Rock Island 4s of '88 rose 2 and Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville 6s of '47 gained 4. Among losers were Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific, some Northern Pacific, New Haven, Lehigh Valley, and Illinois Centrals loans.

CHICAGO STOCKS MIXED

Prices turned irregular yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange and turnover increased to 53,000 shares. Most active issues included Commonwealth Edison and Kellogg Switchboard, each up ¼; New York Central, up ⅛, and Chicago corporation common and Central and South West Utilities, both unchanged. Illinois Central rose 1⅜ to a 1945 peak of 41⅝.

Business Role Not All Selling, Says Hutchins

Business no longer is "that simple process of making somethin and selling it, which Edison and Ford misconceived it to be," Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, told 27 business executives last night in Mandel hall.

The group has completed a two year course of study of all phases of business administration in the new executive program in the university's school of business. Twenty-five of them will receive degrees of master of business administration at the summer convocation Sept. 14.

By-Products of Business

"Art, religion, and education are the by-products rather than the aim of our business civilization, and when our business lags its by-products dry up," said Dr. Hutchins.

"If we are ever to have anything better than a business civilization, it is the business men themselves who must bring about the change. They are the leaders of our society.

"Far more significant than the contribution which education can make to the success of the individual business man is the contribution it can make to social evolution by helping business men see and lead society toward an aim worthy of humanity.

Profs Should Not Be Practical

"A university must have something to say to society when society is passing thru a crisis like that which faces us now. If the next 10 years are as critical in our history as they now seem certain to be, what a university has to say must be communicated not merely to the youth of the country but also to those who already hold responsible positions in it.

"University professors should not be and should not try to be practical men. They should bring to bear the power and illumination of the speculative intellect upon practical problems. Society never needed this service more.

"In the present state of the world this country, which has thrived on action without thought, will no longer find it possible to separate the two."

INCOME OF GARMENT WORKERS UNION TOPS 1944 OUTGO 2 MILLION

New York, June 26 (AP)—The AFL International Ladies' Garment Workers' union reported today that its local unions had a total income of $8,741,731 during 1944 against disbursements of $6,717,132. The financial statement issued by David Dubinsky, president and general secretary, covered 405 locals, 24 joint boards, 14 departments, and regional offices in 33 states and four Canadian provinces.

Of the $2,024,599 excess of receipts over disbursements, the national office retained $991,369 and the locals and joint boards $1,033,230. Per capita receipts were 5 per cent higher than in 1943.

Dubinsky said the union spent $855,153 in 1944 for war relief, donations to charitable and labor organizations, and gifts to service men, exclusive of $750,000 raised by locals for war relief.

Asserts Swiss Must Get U. S. Coal Supplies

BY P. E. BRIQUET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

CHIASSO, Switzerland, June 26—Swiss participation in Europe's recovery is jeopardized by lack of coal. It can be made possible only by coal imports from America, Robert Grimm, Swiss economist, said today. Switzerland, almost entirely lacking in solid fuel, has done everything possible to help herself.

"Switzerland imported 3.3 million tons of coal in 1938, 53 per cent of which was from Germany," he said. "After France's fall, Switzerland was surrounded on all sides by axis countries. Germany enjoyed a virtual monopoly of coal supply to Switzerland. Imports from the reich rose to 89 per cent of Switzerland's total import in 1941, and to 93 per cent in 1944.

"Today such traffic is at a standstill. Switzerland, thanks to the careful policy she has pursued, plans to be able to use 460,000 tons in the winter of 1945-46 out of her own reserves, and 350,000 tons in 1946-47. After that her reserves will be exhausted.

"Domestic coal production is nearly all in mountainous areas difficult of access. This output has risen to 400,000 tons, but it is of poor quality, and corresponds to 250,000 tons of good imported coal.

"Water power development has increased 20 per cent, from 8 to 10 billion kilowat hours since the beginning of the war."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 26—The house today killed a series of bills to consolidate enforcement of truck laws under a new state department of motor vehicles. The program was opposed by the department of public works and supported by a special legislative subcommittee which has investigated trucking. The vote was 66 to 32 and 77 were needed for passage.

A senate committee meanwhile voted to approve an administration bill, introduced by Rep. David Hunter [R., Rockford] to permit increases in the weights and lengths of trucks and buses. Decision was deferred on a companion bill to increase license fees for larger trucks.

DETROIT STRIKE WAVE HELD 'TRAGIC FOLLY' BY CIO UNION LEADER

Detroit, Mich., June 26 (AP)—Richard T. Frankensteen, vice president of the CIO Auto Workers, tonight branded as "tragic folly" a series of labor disputes which made more than 50,000 workers idle in the Detroit area.

"Many workers do not know why they are on strike today," he said. "I can tell them that they have been misled into mobocracy not guided by union principles of democracy."

A wave of walkouts such as the current one which has brought the area's strike idle to a new high for the year is "bad and dangerous business in peace," he said. "In time of war it is tragic folly."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 26—At the request of his sponsor, Rep. Thon [R., Oak Park], the house today tabled a bill to permit banks and loan companies to make instalment loans up to $5,000 maturing in one year. STATES GET RECORD TAX

An all-time high of 745 million dollars was collected in general sales, use, and gross income taxes levied by 23 states last year, the Federation of Tax Administrators reported yesterday.

These collections represented 38.5 per cent of the 1 billion 940 million dollars collected by all 48 states from all their major excise taxes in 1944, and was a 7.5 per cent increase over such collections in 1943 and 44.7 per cent over 1940. Total state revenues rose to 4.1 billion from 3.3 billion in fiscal 1940.

California collected 140 million dollars, the largest amount of any state. Next were Michigan, 95.8 million, and Illinois, 90 million.

Illinois collections increased 8.1 per cent, slightly more than the average of 7.5 per cent for all the states. Michigan's 6.6 per cent was below the average. Indiana collections rose 17.9 per cent, the largest rate of increase for any state.

WHEAT FUTURES PRICES ADVANCE ON MILL BUYING

Large purchases of wheat futures attributed to mills and linked with sales of flour to the army for August shipment to Europe pushed that grain ¾ to 1⅛ cents a bushel higher on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

Other grains advanced early, but weakened later. Corn closed ⅛ higher to ⅝ lower on the active deliveries, oats ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, rye ⅛ to ¾ lower, and barley 1 to 1¼ higher.

Commission houses bought corn early, but the market reacted when buying subsided. Rye was dull and finished easy on scattered commission house and local selling.

50 WHO FOUGHT AGAINST NAZIS AID BOND DRIVE

Members of Blackhawk Division Talk in Loop

Fifty soldiers of the famous 86th [Blackhawk] infantry division, home in Chicago on furlough after the battle for Germany, appeared at the treasury center at State and Madison sts. at noon yesterday in behalf of the 7th war loan campaign, which will close on Saturday.

Shy and modest, the soldiers, accompanied by their wives and mothers, made short speeches urging the purchase of war bonds by individuals. "I'm no speaker," Staff Sgt. Richard A. Kuehn of 5659 Grover st. said, "but I'll talk anyway if it will help to sell bonds."

Others on Program

Others who appeared included T/5 Charles W. Lentz, 1008 Main st., Evanston; Pvt. Marvin S. Rome, 4751 N. Spaulding av.; Pvt. Anton J. Horn, 2513 Ridgeland av., Berwyn, and Pvt. Donald F. Kenney, 4206 Leland av.

Bruce D. Johnson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, 7400 Union av., was awarded a $100 war bond as first prize in a city-wide essay contest among grammar school students on the subject "Why Every One Should Buy War Bonds and Stamps in the Mighty Seventh." An added prize was one of twin boxer puppies named Iwo and Jima.

High School Pupils Help

The massive project of sorting, filing, and indexing the 160 million war bond stubs which have piled up in the bureau of public debt is receiving the help of high school students on vacation, the Chicago board of education said.

Approximately 3,000 students, paid $146 a month each for two months, are working in Austin, Calumet, Fenger, Steinmetz, Bowen, and Foreman High schools to assist the regular civil service employes of the bureau.

CONVICT, ONCE DILLINGER PAL, FREED ON WRIT

Sustaining a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw yesterday released Monti Crist, 45, of Granite City, Madison county, from Joliet penitentiary. Crist was said to have been an early associate of the late John Dillinger, bank robber and gunman. Crist was sentenced to the penitentiary in 1920 for robbery and was granted a parole banishing him from Illinois in 1926. He was arrested in the state in 1929 and was extradited to Indiana, where he served 13½ years in prison for a bank robbery at Jasper, Ind. Illinois authorities seized him as he left the prison and returned him to Joliet for parole violation.

Judge Shaw upheld the plea of his court appointed attorney, Luis Kutner, that Illinois waived claim to custody of the prisoner when it permitted his extradition to Indiana.

TWO INJUNCTIONS ISSUED

TRANSIT BOARD SWINGS INTO TASK TOMORROW

Organization of the seven man board that is empowered to purchase and operate the surface and elevated lines under the proposed metropolitan transit authority set-up will, it is expected, be completed at a meeting tomorrow afternoon.

The board membership was filled yesterday when the city council approved the appointment of William W. McKenna, assistant to Mayor Kelly, to a one year term.

Philip Harrington, likely choice for board chairman, resigned his post as commissioner of subways. To succeed him, the mayor named Virgil Gunlock, who has been chief engineer under Harrington.

Meanwhile, Judge Michael L. Igoe of federal District court, in charge of the surface and elevated lines in bankruptcy, accepted a petition asking reorganization of the surface lines under private ownership. He ordered it deferred until August.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

by GAIL COMPTON

June 26, 1945

THE old saw "Make hay while the sun shines," doesn't apply to the men at the Wheaton farm, where they are getting in the first cutting of alfalfa and clover. Actually they make hay while the sun shines and also when it rains. The weather has little effect on their operations.

This is possible because the hay now being harvested is going into the silo to make silage. If the hay is wet it does not harm its keeping quality in the silo. As a matter of fact, if the hay should get too dry, water would have to be added in the silo to help it ferment properly.

No Loss in First Crop

By using the field hay cutter the men can make short work of the usually tough job of putting up the heavy green legumes. The farm has used legume silage for a number of years and found it an exceptionally good food for dairy and beef cattle and sheep. One of its greatest values is that it permits the entire first crop of hay to be harvested without loss. Usually the weather is rainy during hay time in June and often successive wettings destroy sizable amounts of hay destined for the barn. When it all goes into the silo, however, none is lost.

High Vitamin Content

Hay silage has other advantages and compares favorably with corn silage. The cost of putting up hay silage is about that of corn, and perhaps a little less now that the field chopper is used, which lowers labor costs. Usually alfalfa silage carries a fairly heavy labor charge because of its bulk and inconvenience in handling. The high labor cost is offset by the fact that the crop needs planting only once in four years while corn must be planted each year.

Grass silage also has good feeding qualities. It has a higher protein content than corn silage and, as a result, less protein supplement need be fed to stock when it is used. It contains a higher vitamin content than corn and also has a good supply of carotene [green color] which increases the vitamin content and yellow color in milk. Putting the hay in the silo also does away with the danger of barn fires from poorly cured hay and destroys weeds.

Grass silage usually is lower in dry matter than corn silage and also has a lower total digestible nutrient value per pound of dry matter. For these reasons hay silage generally is considered to have about 80 to 90 per cent of the feeding value of corn silage.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

MANY gardeners who are careful about the planting and cultivation of their plots lose one of the main rewards of home gardening by failure to harvest at the right time. This is particularly true of gardeners who are interested solely in maximum sized vegetables because some crops should be harvested before reaching full size.

The farm gardener now is harvesting Little Marvel peas. This is one vegetable which should be closely watched at this time of the year because the period of best flavor is reached just before the seeds attain full size and lasts for only a few days. If the seeds are allowed to grow to full size in the pods they lose their sugar content and become hard. Not all the pods on a vine mature at the same time, so the gardener now is completing the first harvest and will go over the rows every few days to pick other pods as they mature.

TAXI ORDINANCE EXTENSION GETS APPROVAL AGAIN

The city council yesterday reaffirmed an ordinance passed last week extending for five years a contract ordinance granting taxicab operators use of city streets and keeping the annual license fee at $50 per cab.

The ordinance will expire Dec. 1 and taxicab operators had requested its extension. They promised, in return, to replace their present worn equipment with new equipment as soon as possible.

Council members voted down several proposed amendments to the ordinance which would have raised the maximum number of licenses granted from 3,000 to 3,300 for the benefit of returning veterans and increased the license fee to $100.

BUS MASHER FINED $10

Emanuel P. Zalants, 28, of 424 Diversey pkwy., was fined $10 and costs yesterday by Judge Harry P. Beam on a charge of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Clare Achino, 24, of 4131 Sheridan rd., said Zalants made advances to her on a bus.

HIT TUNES NICE, BUT THE GIs LIKE CLASSICS, TOO

BY LARRY WOLTERS

Fighting men do not live by hit parade tunes alone. They go for symphonic works, too. The New York Philharmonic Symphony months ago asked troops in battle areas to send names of orchestra selections they would like to have included in a Request of the Troops program. The responses were immediate and enthusiastic. Many letters contained touching comments on the Philharmonic broadcasts which are relayed overseas thru the armed forces radio service.

A marine lieutenant in the Pacific wrote: "I am sure the opening notes of the 'Eroica' will make me forget that Iwo Jima is behind, and tomorrow ahead."

One hundred and thirty-four symphonic works, many sonatas, much chamber music, and a number of choral works were requested. The Philharmonic will broadcast the favorites over WBBM next Sunday at 2 p. m. Among them are: Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," the overture to Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," and the Fifth Symphony of Tschaikowsky. Other composers favored were Bach, Gershwin, Chopin, Prokofieff, Grieg, Hindemith, Beethoven, Enesco, and Ravel.

Fletcher Henderson, pianist, who was scheduled to make a guest appearance on W-G-N's Swing's the Thing tomorrow night, had to cancel the date. He injured one of his hands.
